LBJ Chooses Fortas To Head High Court

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today nominated his longtime intimate, Associate Justice Abe Fortas, to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice and named a former Texas protege, Federal Appeals Judge Homer Thornberry, to serve on Supreme Court.

Both nominations are subject to confirmation by the Senate where controversy already has broken out over Johnson naming Warren's successor before leaving the White House in January.

The nominations were announced by Johnson as he made public an exchange of letters between himself and Warren on the latter's retirement from the nation's highest judicial post.

Senate Approval

Fortas, 58, will succeed Warren as soon as his appointment is approved by the Senate. To fill the vacancy on the nine-member court created by Warren's resignation, Johnson turned to Thornberry who has been serving on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Thornberry, a former congressman from Texas, has been a close friend of the President's through his years and was considered a protege of Johnson's after succeeding him in the House.

Fortas' friendship with the President began shortly after Johnson first came to Washington as an assistant to a Texas congressman. He represented Johnson in a legal dispute over election to his first term in the Senate. The controversy grew out of a Johnson victory by less than 100 votes.

When Johnson became President, Fortas was known to be one of his closest "inner circle" confidants.

The President read Warren's letter of resignation to reporters and a letter of reply he sent the chief justice dated today.

Johnson told Warren: "It is with my deepest regret that I learn of your desire to retire, knowing how much the nation has benefitted from your services as chief justice."

Warren in a letter to the President dated June 13 said his sole reason for retiring was "the problem of age."

The 77-year-old chief justice said: "I want you to know that it is not because of reasons of health or on account of any personal or associational problems but solely because of age (that he is retiring)."

Warren told the President "my associations on the court have been cordial and satisfying in every respect, and I have enjoyed each day of the 15 years I have been here. The problem of age however is one that no man can combat and, therefore, eventually must bow to it."

Warren noted in his letter that he had been continually in the public service for more than a half a century.

Observing that when he entered public service 150 million of the 200 million people in this country were not yet born, he said:

"I, therefore, conceive it to be my duty to give way to someone who will have more years ahead of him to cope with the problems which will come to the court."

Acknowledges Letter

Warren's intention to retire came to light last Wednesday when reliable sources told UPI that he had submitted his resignation to the President.

Asked if there were any reasons he would leave the court at this time, the former California governor laughingly replied: "Yes. Age."

The President told Warren in replying to his letter of resignation: "Under your leadership, the Supreme Court of the United States has once again demonstrated the vitality of this nation's institutions and their capacity to meet with vigor and strength the challenge of changing times.

"Your wisdom and strength will inspire generations of Americans for many decades to come."

Trudeau Tidal Wave Win in Canada Vote

By BEN BASSETT

TORONTO (AP)—It was a Trudeau tidal wave, and it gave his party a clearcut mandate to rule Canada with a strength no party has enjoyed in six years.

Biggest Since Diefenbaker

In Tuesday's election Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who entered politics only three years ago, led his Liberals to the biggest victory any party has scored since John Diefenbaker's prime. Diefenbaker in 1958 spearheaded the Conservatives to a landslide triumph that was good for four years' control.

Trudeau became Liberal leader, and thus prime minister, by choice of a party convention two months ago when Lester B. Pearson retired. Tuesday Canadian voters had the chance to ratify or repudiate the choice. Their answer gave the Liberals the House of Commons majority they had never won under Pearson's leadership.

Trudeau on assuming the prime ministry vowed to improve his party's standing. As the leading party, even lacking a majority, the Liberals could call an election at a time they thought advantageous. Trudeau and his aides judged this a good time, and the bet paid off.

How did he do it? There is no question of Trudeau's personal appeal, evidenced in the reaction of happy throngs that greeted him on the campaign trail across the country. But as the campaign progressed he also showed himself a pragmatic and tough politician. He said the right things and made no big promises.

Just One Canada

Though a native of Quebec, he didn't give an inch to those Quebeckers who want a special deal for that dominantly French-speaking province, or even to split off from Canada. There is one Canada, Trudeau said, and that's the way it's going to be. At the last minute, when Quebec separatists rioted in Montreal and hurled a bottle past the prime minister, he didn't flinch.

In contrast, the Conservatives, though also under new leadership, never caught popular fancy. Robert Stanfield ,the Nova Scotian who replaced Diefenbaker last year, said as the returns rolled in that he had known 24 hours earlier that his party was beaten.

Stanfield is 54, only six years older than Trudeau, but to most Canadians, it appeared, his and the Tories' ideas were old-hat or at least not good enough.

The election was for 264 seats, with each citizen voting only for a legislator in his own district. Thus Trudeau's name was on the ballot only in a Montreal district, but voters nationwide knew whom they were supporting when they voted Liberal.

THE WINNER — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's Liberal Party was re-elected with what appears to be a good majority. Trudeau receives congratulations in Ottawa from Elizabeth Ostiguy (L) and Marion Marks (R). (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Tabulations today showed the Liberals were sure of 153 seats. The Conservatives had 70 and were leading in two contests. The New Democratic party took 23, the Creditistes of Quebec 15, and an independent 1.

Social Credit Eliminated

The Social Credit party was eliminated from Parliament. It had four members after the 1965 election.

The Conservatives showed strength in the Atlantic provinces, winning 25 seats to the Liberals' 7. That trend was easily overcome in more populous provinces.

The Liberals led 55-4 in Quebec and 65-16 in Ontario. They picked up more than a dozen seats in the Prairie provinces and British Columbia.

Preliminary figures on the nationwide popular vote showed the Liberals won 46 per cent, the Conservatives 31, with the rest scattered.

Dief Wins

Diefenbaker, who took little part in the campaign, won his own Saskatchewan district. Pearson was not a candidate to succeed himself as a Commons member.

Congratulating party workers, Trudeau said he expects to convene the new Parliament in September to act on a "forward-looking and constructive program."

The new Parliament will include its first Negro, Lincoln Alexander, a 46-year-old lawyer from Hamilton, Ont. He ran under the Conservative banner, and said youth power, exemplified by 500 youthful supporters, won the election for him.

"Prime Minister Trudeau wasn't the only one with charisma," he observed.

Third Big Saigon Assault Is Feared

UPI International

B52 Stratofortresses today once more pounded Viet Cong base areas around Saigon where allied troops hunted guerrilla units. Military intelligence sources today said up to 15,000 Viet Cong—26 "main force" battalions—may launch the year's third major assault against the capital this year.

U.S. jets on 128 missions struck North Vietnam's southern panhandle supply lines Tuesday.

In a delayed report, U.S. military spokesmen said four Navy F4 Phantoms Monday fought a bloodless nine-minute battle with a pair of Communist MIG21 interceptors over North Vietnam's panhandle. The MIGs turned and fled. The length of the encounter made it one of the longest dogfights recorded during the air war.

United States and South Vietnamese forces overran a Viet Cong prison camp in the Mekong Delta, freeing 25 captives, military spokesmen said today. The guerrilla guards had executed four prisoners seconds before fleeing.

The spokesmen said eight of the 25 Vietnamese men rescued had just been shot and wounded by the escaping Viet Cong. Two of the guerrillas were killed and one was captured in the fight Tuesday 75 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. Navy patrol boats carrying South Vietnamese troops pounced on the jungle jail in a lightning operation. The camp was hidden in the heavy brush near the mouth of the Bassac River.

The American sailors jammed their craft against the bank and sprayed covering fire for the government troops who stormed into the camp, one of more than a dozen seized by allied troops the past three years. The Viet Cong use such camps to hold defectors from their ranks, punish wayward guerrillas and hold local residents as hostages to guarantee from nearby civilian residents.

On the ground, firefights continued around the outer fringes of Saigon's ring of defenses. U.S. military spokesmen said the Viet Cong had lost 200 dead in three days of clashes. Allied troops have been on alert in the Saigon area this week against a possible third Viet Cong offensive.

At Da Nang on South Vietnam's northern coast a U.S. Air Force bus blew up on a bridge across the Da Nang River. The U.S. Marine command said an explosive charge had been planted under the dashboard of the vehicle. Ten Americans were wounded.

U.S. State Department Mission sources in Saigon said today a high ranking North Vietnamese official has taken direct control of all Communist military and political activities in South Vietnam. They identified him as Pham Hung, North Vietnam's first deputy premier. Hung ranks fifth in the Hanoi hierarchy. The sources said he succeeded Gen. Nguyen Chi Thanh who died nearly a year ago—during a U.S. B52 raid, according to some accounts.

Meanwhile, in Paris diplomatic sources said today the United States is making a new effort to break the logjam in the Paris negotiations.

They said U.S. negotiators designed an appeal to North Vietnamese representatives in their 10th meeting today to turn their backs on propaganda statements and engage in meaningful bargaining.

Cyrus R. Vance, who heads the U.S. team in the absence of Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, was said to be undaunted by repeated rejections of U.S. proposals. Harriman was in Washington today to meet with administration officials.

However, indications were that North Vietnamese negotiators remained adamant in insisting on immediate halt to U.S. bombings of their country as precondition for any meaningful talks. Political observers expected no breakthrough from Vance's meeting with Xuan Thuy, head of the Hanoi delegation.

Both the United States and North Vietnam appeared unwilling to make any major concessions at this point. The talks may continue throughout the summer without vigorous efforts to break the deadlock, the sources said.

Some diplomats said the peace talks would enter a new phase after the U.S. political conventions. Hanoi keeps hoping a "dove" may be nominated for president.

In Saigon, Prime Minister Trang Van Huong of South Vietnam said today his government is gaining popular support but will not be strong enough to

Water, Water Everywhere

By JEAN F. DOLAN

It is still the same old story, only more so.

The rains came again, dumping 2.1 inches on Kingston from 4:45 p. m. yesterday to 7:35 this morning and it is still teeming.

Two Flooding Complaints

Kingston police received two complaints of flooding Tuesday night as torrential downpours were too much for regular drainage.

At least two cars were stalled on Harding Avenue as they attempted to pass through deep pools on the street.

Rushing water in a drainage pipe lifted a manhole cover and caused hazardous conditions for passing motorists at East Chester and Wood Streets. Both complaints were referred to the Department of Public Works.

A spokesman at the public works office this morning said he was "surprised and happy" that more flooding had not been reported so far. It is expected that there may be some flooding along the lower sections of the Strand as high tide crests at 3:16 today. The Kingston Fire Department has been alerted to flooding in that area this morning and motorists are advised to use caution.

Homeowners throughout the county have been plagued with minor cellar flooding as the rain soaked earth reaches saturation and gutters and downspouts overflow in the intermittently heavy storm.

So far, the county highway department has received no reports of flooding or washouts on county roads.

Dubious Record Looms

We may have the dubious distinction of breaking records for the wettest June recorded by the City Engineer's Office. Previous record was set June, 1944 when 6.58 inches of rain fell on the city. As of this morning, the culmulative total for June, 1968 is six and a quarter inches and there are four more days before the end of the month.

The blame for the current deluge is directly traceable to the tropical storm Candy. Though the name is sweet, the results are neither sweet or ladylike in other parts of the state. Western New York is suffering through floods and power failures caused by the storm which so far has dumped more than three inches of rain on Buffalo and its suburbs.

Heavy rains in the metropolitan area disrupted the Yankee baseball game at least three times Tuesday night. Severe thunderstorms were reported in the lower Hudson Valley.

Fortunately, the Mid-Hudson area was spared most of the electrical storm activity. Central Hudson had only isolated power interruptions during the night.

Anyone for An Ark?

Extended forecast calls for rain continuing through today and Thursday with showers on Friday and again on Monday. Temperatures are expected to be below normal with a slightly warming trend over the weekend.

With nothing but more rain in the forecast, we might do well to take to the boats. Anyone got building plans for an ark?

County Airport Commission Planning for Future Needs

For more than a year the Airport Study Commission of the County Legislature has been working on plans for an airport for Ulster County. This three-part Freeman series will outline the commission's progress, why its members feel the county needs an airport and what benefits will be derived.

By HUGH REYNOLDS
(First of three articles)

Time has been called our most precious commodity and its saving means money, big money, to industry. Increasingly, to save time, industry has taken to the air and landing and building in those communities that have adequate airport facilities.

An airport is to modern America what train stations were a hundred years ago. Transportation, modern, fast transportation, is the key to community development today just as it was in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Unfortunately, Ulster County is still saddled with a transportation system that reflects the past, not the future.

Take, for instance, a businessman from New York City who wants to place an order with a Kingston-based industry. If he drives, takes a train or bus he will spend about three hours, roundtrip, on the road. He can complete the same trip by air in about an hour, saving two hours valuable time.

A salesman flying from New York could be here and gone before his competitor, traveling overland, ever hits Broadway.

Hope to Awaken Area

However, efforts are being made to awaken an area famed for Rip Van Winkle's 20-year snooze, by a group of men who form the Ulster County Airport Study Commission. Chairman is Harry Kapreilian.

Commission plans call for a 5,000-foot runway which can be extended up to 10,000 feet located within 20 minutes driving time of Kingston, chosen because of its central location.

There were eight sites investigated including Marbletown, Ohioville, High Falls, Libertyville, Springtown, East Kingston, Galesville and Hurley. Money for the site work which entailed wind studies, soil analysis, boundary and topographic surveys and preparation of preliminary airport layout plans along with cost estimates came from a $16,500 grant to the commission shared by the county and federal governments.

Two sites will ultimately be selected and extensive surveys done on them. Site selection is, of course, one of the first steps toward a county airport. It is perhaps the most important.

A site can be rejected for a number of reasons. Obviously, an airport must have a great deal of acreage. Estimates for an airport for Ulster of adequate size for at least the next 20 years run from between 300 and 500 acres. A site can be rejected if it is too near a populated area or if it doesn't have expansion features.

Another drawback on most of our present airports is their unadaptability for instrument landings vital for large aircraft setting down in bad weather.

Soil Important

Soil compaction is also vital which ties in closely with the cost. An airport runway takes a great deal more punishment than a superhighway. Imagine the impact of a 707 jet weighing 180 tons and hitting the runway at 250 miles per hour.

Ulster, however, need not be concerned with roaring 707 jets. The county airport will handle, at the most, twin-engined commercial planes and some corporate jets.

The cost of Ulster's 5,000 foot runway airport is expected to be initially about $1,500,000. Of this amount the federal government pays 50 per cent, the state two thirds of what's left under the transportation bond issue and the county the rest, about $250,000.

The county will be responsible for maintaining the airport and can administer it in one of two ways. Ulster can elect to operate the airport through an airport commission and hire a professional airport administrator as Orange County does.

Or it can elect to lease it out to a private individual who has sole operation of the airport and pays the county a set fee for its use, as Dutchess County does.

Revenue From Airport

The airport itself is a source of revenue through the sale of gasline, parking space and hanger space along with the snack bar and flying lessons by the staff. However, even with all this the Orange County Airport which opened five years ago doesn't expect to operate in the black for another two or three years.

On the surface an airport looks to be a losing proposition financed with taxpayers' money. But is it?

Time has been called our most precious commodity and its saving means money, big money, to industry. Increasingly, to save time, industry has taken to the air and landing and building in those communities that have adequate airport facilities.

An airport is to modern America what train stations were a hundred years ago. Transportation, modern, fast transportation, is the key to community development today just as it was in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Unfortunately, Ulster County is still saddled with a transportation system that reflects the past, not the future.

Take, for instance, a businessman from New York City who wants to place an order with a Kingston-based industry. If he drives, takes a train or bus he will spend about three hours, roundtrip, on the road. He can complete the same trip by air in about an hour, saving two hours valuable time.

A salesman flying from New York could be here and gone before his competitor, traveling overland, ever hits Broadway.

Hope to Awaken Area

However, efforts are being made to awaken an area famed for Rip Van Winkle's 20-year snooze, by a group of men who form the Ulster County Airport Study Commission. Chairman is Harry Kapreilian.

Commission plans call for a 5,000-foot runway which can be extended up to 10,000 feet located within 20 minutes driving time of Kingston, chosen because of its central location.

There were eight sites investigated including Marbletown, Ohioville, High Falls, Libertyville, Springtown, East Kingston, Galesville and Hurley. Money for the site work which entailed wind studies, soil analysis, boundary and topographic surveys and preparation of preliminary airport layout plans along with cost estimates came from a $16,500 grant to the commission shared by the county and federal governments.

Two sites will ultimately be selected and extensive surveys done on them. Site selection is, of course, one of the first steps toward a county airport. It is perhaps the most important.

A site can be rejected for a number of reasons. Obviously, an airport must have a great deal of acreage. Estimates for an airport for Ulster of adequate size for at least the next 20 years run from between 300 and 500 acres. A site can be rejected if it is too near a populated area or if it doesn't have expansion features.

Another drawback on most of our present airports is their unadaptability for instrument landings vital for large aircraft setting down in bad weather.

Soil Important

Soil compaction is also vital which ties in closely with the cost. An airport runway takes a great deal more punishment than a superhighway. Imagine the impact of a 707 jet weighing 180 tons and hitting the runway at 250 miles per hour.

Ulster, however, need not be concerned with roaring 707 jets. The county airport will handle, at the most, twin-engined commercial planes and some corporate jets.

The cost of Ulster's 5,000 foot runway airport is expected to be initially about $1,500,000. Of this amount the federal government pays 50 per cent, the state two thirds of what's left under the transportation bond issue and the county the rest, about $250,000.

The county will be responsible for maintaining the airport and can administer it in one of two ways. Ulster can elect to operate the airport through an airport commission and hire a professional airport administrator as Orange County does.

Or it can elect to lease it out to a private individual who has sole operation of the airport and pays the county a set fee for its use, as Dutchess County does.

Revenue From Airport

The airport itself is a source of revenue through the sale of gasline, parking space and hanger space along with the snack bar and flying lessons by the staff. However, even with all this the Orange County Airport which opened five years ago doesn't expect to operate in the black for another two or three years.

On the surface an airport looks to be a losing proposition financed with taxpayers' money. But is it?

STANLEY LONDON

London Uptown Leader

Stanley London was installed as the new president of the Uptown Businessmen's Association at a meeting held last night.

Other officers installed were: August H. Foerschler, first vice-president; Fred Firstenburg, second vice-president and secretary and George Manson, treasurer.

Ward Tongue of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, present at the meeting, showed artist's sketches of a projected uptown area including semi-malls. The plan was described as "highly tentative," according to London.

Tongue also spoke of plans for demolition of the old Montgomery Ward building on N. Front Street and others slated for removal. Demolition contracts are being prepared, he said and will soon be let.

Tongue said it was the agencie's opinion that it would be cheaper to demolish a number at one time rather than piecemeal.

The businessmen also named the following to its board of directors:

Leo Albert, Joseph Brady, Clifford Bunting, Robert Callan, William Costello, H. Van Wyck Darrow, Albert Flanagan, Walter Foster, Anthony Hickey, Adrian Kaplan, Louis Kaye, Frank Kolts, Ralph Megna and Irwin Miller.

Also Stuart Randall, Charles Rider, George Schneider, Glen Stampfle, Ted Weiner and Robert Yallum.

Randall, chairman of the nominating committee, was also chairman of the dinner held at the Kirkland Hotel.

Planners Welcome Additions

Five new members were welcomed to the Ulster County Planning Board at its regular meeting at the County Office Building. These appointments were made by the County Legislature on the recommendations of the various municipal governments. In most cases, the nominee is also a member of the local planning board.

The Town of Esopus is now represented by Robert Courtney of Ulster Park. He is a member of the Esopus Planning Board and is with IBM—Poughkeepsie.

Stanley Walker, of High Falls, is the new representative from Marbletown. Walker is associated with IBM—Kingston.

John E. Johnson is chairman of the Village of Ellenville Planning Board. He is secretary of Marvin Millwork, Inc., and treasurer of the Deyo Company. His father, Deyo W. Johnson, was first chairman of the Ulster County Planning Board when it was established by the Board of Superivsors in 1963.

R. Abel Garraghan and Charles McCullough are representing the City of Kingston. Garraghan is president of Abek Associates, Inc., a land development company, and vice-president of Kingston Securities Corporation. McCullough is a sergeant on the Kingston Police Force.

At present the towns of Hardenbergh, Kingston and Lloyd and the Villages of New Paltz and Pine Hill have no representation on the County Planning Board.

New Paltz Cave-in and the Mayor's Car

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

The Village of New Paltz treasury will have to incur the expense of replacing an 18-year-old water pipe casing which broke last Friday at the Springtown Road pumping station it was announced at the village board meeting Monday night.

Escaping water caused by the break had eroded the ground under the station's circular drive which resulted in a cave-in under Mayor Henry DuBois' car.

The mayor had been on an inspection tour of the station with Albert Sutherland, superintendent of public works.

The mayor's car had to be towed out of the gaping hole.

It was also announced at the board meeting that a letter had had been received from Governor Rockefeller informing village officials that recently passed legislation would allow the board to sell village-owned land upon which will be erected a new post office.

Public bidding for the project will be announced soon.

On Saturday, the New Paltz Fire Department will burn down an abandoned building at the end of Mohonk Avenue on Water Street.

Purpose of the action is to train new men and test equipment.

Village officials voted to pay $13,784.80 to the contracting firm of Lombardi and Son for engineering work done on a sewer contract.

The new sewer line, located at upper Main Street, flows into the sewer that serves Colonial Arms on Harrington Street which, in turn, flows to the pumping station at Harrington Street and Fulton Road.

The work was completed recently.

Some $588 was voted to be paid to the planning firm of Brinnier and Larios for a recently made village survey.

Monies for the two projects will come out of the general fund.

Trustees George Ackert proposed that Wilson Lorenzen be appointed to fill the unexpired term of Marion Lane on the zoning board of appeals.

The move was seconded by Trustee William George and passed by the board.

Present at the meeting were Mayor DuBois, Ackert, George and Trustees Leland Heinze and Harold Phillips.

Campaign at Reduced Pace

Washington Streets Near Normal

By AUSTIN SCOTT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The streets of the nation's capital were back to normal today—no curfew, no heavy police patrols, no National Guardsmen and few visible symbols of the Poor People's Campaign.

But even with its leader, The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, beginning a 20-day jail term and Resurrection City reduced to stacks of plywood, the campaign continued to run at a reduced pace.

"We have to keep the movement alive," said the Rev. Andrew Young, Abernathy's chief assistant, as he announced plans for clergymen to march on the Capitol grounds today, despite a law forbidding demonstrations there.

Young told a news conference plans for the ministerial demonstration had been in the works for some time. They were released by Abernathy in a letter "from a jail in Washington D.C."

The tactic was similar to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s classic "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" in 1963, but Abernathy's was much shorter and quite different in content.

"I am in jail with the poor, and today I ask you to join us," it said. "The time for stating our case in words is past; we have done that and have been rebuked by the authorities . . ."

Abernathy said he hoped the clergymen would be just "one of the first waves of people who are willing to join the poor in jail . . ."

Abernathy, one of 261 demonstrators arrested Monday, was sentenced by Chief Judge Harold H. Greene of the District of Columbia court of General Sessions.

Greene said he had no doubt "you were sincerely trying to help the poor people of America." He could have levied 90 days in jail plus a $250 fine.

The most visible aspect of the Poor People's Campaign Tuesday was the mule train. Five weeks after it left Marks, Miss., its 13 battered wagons trundled across the 14th St. bridge into Washington under police escort.

In hot, muggy weather, it made a 10-mile tour of poor and wealthy sections of the Negro areas hit by disorders and to the surprise of even the drivers was warmly welcomed wherever it went.

This prompted young and 28-year-old wagon master Willie Bolden to decide that mule train members could do more out of jail than in, and should try to drum up support among Washington area residents.

"We will use the mule train to go around the D.C. community and try to get the community involved," Young said.

As the mule train creaked along the Potomac River bridge from Virginia, it passed within sight of a strangely empty Resurrection City.

Some 400 workmen arrived at the muddy, rutted Lincoln Memorial campground at 8 a.m. and in less than six hours, demolished what had taken the campaign more than six trouble-plagued weeks to build.

Less than 24 hours after it was vacated by a police sweep, not one of the plywood huts was left standing. Bulldozers pushed piles of dirt left over from sewer and electric line ditches into the muddy ruts, and both plywood and belongings were put in storage for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and its campaigners to claim.

A few U.S. Park Police patrolled the perimeter of the 15-acre site to keep out the curious. Some stood by crude, hand-lettered signs reading, "Occupied by U.S. Government."

A spokesman said reseeding of the turf would be done in August, a better growing season.

LBJ Drive to Defend Dollar Seen Falling Short of Goal

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's drive to mobilize the nation in defense of the dollar has had only spotty success and apparently will fall far short of its goal.

The target set by Johnson on New Year's Day was to cut $3 billion from the nation's 1967 balance of payments deficit, which rose to an ominious figure of $3.57 billion.

In the nearly six months since, the President's main success was getting Congress to approve a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, which along with an accompanying $6 billion in spending cuts was expected to help restore confidence overseas in the stability of the dollar.

Because the balance of payments deficit—what the United States spent overseas over what it took in—had risen so high there had been concern in the world's banking centers about inflation and the drain on American gold holdings.

Substantial Recovery

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler told the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday there had been "a quick and quite substantial recovery" in the first quarter of this year when the payments deficit fell to $606 million.

If the $606 million figures is projected for the rest of the year the deficit would fall only to $2.42 billion.

To reach the relatively negligible deficit figure of $500 million to $600 million, Johnson had sought a combination of legislation and controls, both mandatory and voluntary. These involved:

—A mandatory $1 billion curtailment in direct industry investment overseas.

—A $500 million voluntary reduction on bank loans abroad.

—A $500 million voluntary cutback in travel outside the country.

—A drop of $500 million in government spending.

—A $500 million savings by enlarging the U.S. surplus in merchandise trade.

Trade—The goal will not be even closely approached. Johnson hoped to increase last year's $4.1 billion surplus in commodity trade to $4.6 billion, by increasing exports and other means. The trade surplus may shrink instead.

Investment—The mandatory curbs on business investment are working. Companies invested a total of $468 million in the first quarter, which is sustained, would cut the outflow of capital in direct investment more than $1 billion from last year's $3.02 billion.

But the goal cannot be achieved, officials say, because of a decision to exempt investment in Canada.

Government outlays—Secretary Fowler told the Finance Committee Tuesday that a government program to conserve dollars is "well under way." He referred to the 12 per cent reduction in overseas staffs of embassies and other missions ordered on March 30, along with further tightening of travel abroad. AID has been ordered to cut $100 million from its 1967 overseas spending level. Thousands of troops have been coming home from Germany.

Makes No Claim

But the cut in embassy and mission staffs is a gradual step down to be achieved by the end of 1969. Fowler made no claim that the $500 million savings goal for the government could be achieved this year.

Bank lending—The restraint on foreign lending, initiated Jan. 1, is off to an impressive start. A decline of $350 million, seasonally adjusted, was reported for the first quarter of the year.

Travel—A drive to increase foreign travel to the United States has been launched. But this is an uphill effort because many European travelers have been deterred by the riots in major American cities. And Congress has failed so far to enact any of the three Johnson proposals to reduce the outflow of dollars caused by rising American tourism overseas.

The three recommendations were: Extend the five per cent airline excise tax for international flight tickets; reduce the amount of duty-free merchandise a returning U.S. traveler can bring home; impose a temporary tax on the spending of American travelers abroad.

Report Bones Found Those of St. Peter

By RAY MOSELEY

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said today scholars have found "convincing" evidence that the bones under the main altar of St. Peter's Basilica are those of the Apostle St. Peter.

The Pope made his "happy announcement" to a crowd of several thousand persons attending his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica.

Scholars as well as Roman Catholic and Protestant churchmen have long been divided over whether the bones found under the high altar actually were those of Peter, regarded by the Catholic Church as the first Pope. Some have even questioned whether St. Peter actually came to Rome, as Catholic tradition has long maintained.

NATO Will Support W. German Freedom

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) —A North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) strategy session on Berlin broke up today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk carrying the alliance's pledge of united support to West Germany.

With West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt beside him, Rusk was flying to Bonn to assure the Germans of aid.

Brandt won a unanimous pledge from the United States and its NATO allies Tuesday to maintain the freedom of Berlin, deep inside Communist East Germany.

The Western allies declared Tuesday night the Soviet Union was responsible for the new Berlin crisis, caused by fresh East German-imposed travel restrictions. The NATO leaders called for an end to the restrictions.

But they agreed to continue a search for a formula for reducing their forces at the same rate as the Soviets. They appealed to the Soviet Union and other East bloc nations to "join in this search for progress towards peace."

"We have to keep the movement alive," said the Rev. Andrew Young, Abernathy's chief assistant, as he announced plans for clergymen to march on the Capitol grounds today, despite a law forbidding demonstrations there.

Young told a news conference plans for the ministerial demonstration had been in the works for some time. They were released by Abernathy in a letter "from a jail in Washington D.C."

The tactic was similar to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s classic "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" in 1963, but Abernathy's was much shorter and quite different in content.

"I am in jail with the poor, and today I ask you to join us," it said. "The time for stating our case in words is past; we have done that and have been rebuked by the authorities . . ."

Abernathy said he hoped the clergymen would be just "one of the first waves of people who are willing to join the poor in jail . . ."

Abernathy, one of 261 demonstrators arrested Monday, was sentenced by Chief Judge Harold H. Greene of the District of Columbia court of General Sessions.

Greene said he had no doubt "you were sincerely trying to help the poor people of America." He could have levied 90 days in jail plus a $250 fine.

The most visible aspect of the Poor People's Campaign Tuesday was the mule train. Five weeks after it left Marks, Miss., its 13 battered wagons trundled across the 14th St. bridge into Washington under police escort.

In hot, muggy weather, it made a 10-mile tour of poor and wealthy sections of the Negro areas hit by disorders and to the surprise of even the drivers was warmly welcomed wherever it went.

This prompted young and 28-year-old wagon master Willie Bolden to decide that mule train members could do more out of jail than in, and should try to drum up support among Washington area residents.

"We will use the mule train to go around the D.C. community and try to get the community involved," Young said.

As the mule train creaked along the Potomac River bridge from Virginia, it passed within sight of a strangely empty Resurrection City.

Some 400 workmen arrived at the muddy, rutted Lincoln Memorial campground at 8 a.m. and in less than six hours, demolished what had taken the campaign more than six trouble-plagued weeks to build.

Less than 24 hours after it was vacated by a police sweep, not one of the plywood huts was left standing. Bulldozers pushed piles of dirt left over from sewer and electric line ditches into the muddy ruts, and both plywood and belongings were put in storage for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and its campaigners to claim.

A few U.S. Park Police patrolled the perimeter of the 15-acre site to keep out the curious. Some stood by crude, hand-lettered signs reading, "Occupied by U.S. Government."

A spokesman said reseeding of the turf would be done in August, a better growing season.

LBJ Drive to Defend Dollar Seen Falling Short of Goal

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's drive to mobilize the nation in defense of the dollar has had only spotty success and apparently will fall far short of its goal.

The target set by Johnson on New Year's Day was to cut $3 billion from the nation's 1967 balance of payments deficit, which rose to an ominious figure of $3.57 billion.

In the nearly six months since, the President's main success was getting Congress to approve a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, which along with an accompanying $6 billion in spending cuts was expected to help restore confidence overseas in the stability of the dollar.

Because the balance of payments deficit—what the United States spent overseas over what it took in—had risen so high there had been concern in the world's banking centers about inflation and the drain on American gold holdings.

Substantial Recovery

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler told the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday there had been "a quick and quite substantial recovery" in the first quarter of this year when the payments deficit fell to $606 million.

If the $606 million figures is projected for the rest of the year the deficit would fall only to $2.42 billion.

To reach the relatively negligible deficit figure of $500 million to $600 million, Johnson had sought a combination of legislation and controls, both mandatory and voluntary. These involved:

—A mandatory $1 billion curtailment in direct industry investment overseas.

—A $500 million voluntary reduction on bank loans abroad.

—A $500 million voluntary cutback in travel outside the country.

—A drop of $500 million in government spending.

—A $500 million savings by enlarging the U.S. surplus in merchandise trade.

Trade—The goal will not be even closely approached. Johnson hoped to increase last year's $4.1 billion surplus in commodity trade to $4.6 billion, by increasing exports and other means. The trade surplus may shrink instead.

Investment—The mandatory curbs on business investment are working. Companies invested a total of $468 million in the first quarter, which is sustained, would cut the outflow of capital in direct investment more than $1 billion from last year's $3.02 billion.

But the goal cannot be achieved, officials say, because of a decision to exempt investment in Canada.

Government outlays—Secretary Fowler told the Finance Committee Tuesday that a government program to conserve dollars is "well under way." He referred to the 12 per cent reduction in overseas staffs of embassies and other missions ordered on March 30, along with further tightening of travel abroad. AID has been ordered to cut $100 million from its 1967 overseas spending level. Thousands of troops have been coming home from Germany.

Makes No Claim

But the cut in embassy and mission staffs is a gradual step down to be achieved by the end of 1969. Fowler made no claim that the $500 million savings goal for the government could be achieved this year.

Bank lending—The restraint on foreign lending, initiated Jan. 1, is off to an impressive start. A decline of $350 million, seasonally adjusted, was reported for the first quarter of the year.

Travel—A drive to increase foreign travel to the United States has been launched. But this is an uphill effort because many European travelers have been deterred by the riots in major American cities. And Congress has failed so far to enact any of the three Johnson proposals to reduce the outflow of dollars caused by rising American tourism overseas.

The three recommendations were: Extend the five per cent airline excise tax for international flight tickets; reduce the amount of duty-free merchandise a returning U.S. traveler can bring home; impose a temporary tax on the spending of American travelers abroad.

Report Bones Found Those of St. Peter

By RAY MOSELEY

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said today scholars have found "convincing" evidence that the bones under the main altar of St. Peter's Basilica are those of the Apostle St. Peter.

The Pope made his "happy announcement" to a crowd of several thousand persons attending his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica.

Scholars as well as Roman Catholic and Protestant churchmen have long been divided over whether the bones found under the high altar actually were those of Peter, regarded by the Catholic Church as the first Pope. Some have even questioned whether St. Peter actually came to Rome, as Catholic tradition has long maintained.

NATO Will Support W. German Freedom

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—A North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) strategy session on Berlin broke up today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk carrying the alliance's pledge of united support to West Germany.

With West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt beside him, Rusk was flying to Bonn to assure the Germans of aid.

Brandt won a unanimous pledge from the United States and its NATO allies Tuesday to maintain the freedom of Berlin, deep inside Communist East Germany.

The Western allies declared Tuesday night the Soviet Union was responsible for the new Berlin crisis, caused by fresh East German-imposed travel restrictions. The NATO leaders called for an end to the restrictions.

But they agreed to continue a search for a formula for reducing their forces at the same rate as the Soviets. They appealed to the Soviet Union and other East bloc nations to "join in this search for progress towards peace."

Delegates Not Free Agents

"The first thing a candidate who wants a nomination from a convention should realize is that delegates are not free agents, nor are they individuals subject to persuasion. The delegate is the property of his leader."

That is the very frank, bald and amazing statement of the way the majority of votes to nominate the Presidential candidates of the political parties are regarded by a man who knows. He is Edward Costikyan, who led Tammany Hall for part of the time when Robert F. Wagner was Mayor of New York.

The delegate usually becomes the property of his leader through patronage — the legal allocation of government favors in exchange for political support. This cements his loyalty to the party leader, to whom he is indebted for past favors and from whom he seeks future favors.

This explains how nominations are won, not necessarily in the primaries, but in state conventions, where the leaders can deliver delegate votes that will stay put so long as the leader wishes. It is what is often meant by the expression—the nomination was decided in the smoking rooms of the convention. That is where the deals are made that deliver the votes which put over the nomination.

It is probably the best argument that can be made for the Constitutional Amendment recently proposed by Senator Mike Mansfield, the Majority Leader. He urged a nationwide primary to select the nominees for President and Vice President and direct elections to follow very shortly thereafter.

Often, to protect their patronage, political leaders seek out and nominate outstanding candidates to head their tickets. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower are recent examples. But the fact remains, that the leaders deliver the delegates for whatever reason. The process accounts for the commanding leads now enjoyed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon in their respective parties.

Defense Contract Probe

The primary goal is to protect Great Society programs from too serious cutbacks. The hope is to save money through competition for the $40 billion in defense contracts so that the social programs can be saved from the budget axe. The way is a probe by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee.

Senator Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrat, is the chairman of the subcommittee and also an avid Great Society advocate. He may be going at it backward, but he hopes by showing large profits in defense contracts to find the money to save the Great Society programs.

"With more than 350,000 manufacturing firms in the country, 100 companies got 64 per cent of military contracts in 1966," Hart said. "More than 50 per cent of the contracts last year also were let noncompetitively."

There appears to be little price competition among bidders for defense contracts dealing with aircraft, electronics, missiles, tanks and ships, Hart found. Although he praised former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for improving contract procedures, Hart thinks he can find ways to inject more competition.

Pentagon sources contend that most defense contracts involve a two to three per cent profit. Subcommittee investigators report that 10 to 12 per cent was closer to the mark for firms handling only taxpayer dollars. Hart will try to find the truth between these reports.

With the passage by Congress of the 10 per cent surtax, Hart and others want to protect unemployment, housing, welfare and antipoverty programs from the $6 billion cut in spending required by the tax package.

Baltimore Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro III has run into opposition in his call for residents to turn in their guns as a step to stop violence. Citizens are keeping their guns to protect themselves in their homes, because police are given orders not to shoot law violators.

Theodore C. Sorensen, confidant both of John F. and Robert F. Kennedy, is seeking election as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention to fight for Senator Kennedy's ideals. His platform breaks with errors of the past and looks for opportunities of the future.

To take up the slack left by a cut in federal funds, a bipartisan move is under way in New Jersey to provide $2 million for 4,000 summer jobs for disadvantaged youths. Proportionate programs the country over would make $200 million available for summer jobs for 200,000.

Law, Order Imposed In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON — The eyes of the world have been turned during the last few weeks on the capital of the nation which boasts of its orderly processes of freedom and democracy. For the spectacle has been one of willful groups of exhibitionists seeking to coerce Congress and the executive departments through the tactics of a "demonstration," whose leaders preach "non-violence" but provoke disorder.

Nearly five years have elapsed since the first "march on Washington," and what was unhappily foreseen then has since occurred. On Aug. 29, 1963, this correspondent wrote:

"The 'march on Washington' will go down in history as marking a day of public disgrace — a step backward in the evolution of the American system of government. For the image of the United States presented to the world is that of a republic which had professed to believe in voluntarism rather than coercion, but which on August 28, 1963, permitted itself to be portrayed as unable to legislate equal rights for its citizens except under the intimidating influence of mass demonstrations.

"The press, television and radio, the public forums in halls and stadiums — all have been available heretofore as mediums through which the 'right of petition' could be effectively expressed and public opinion formed on controversial questions. But a minority group — led by men who drew to their side church leaders and groups as well as civic organizations — decided that a massive publicity stunt would be a better way to impress Congress and the President with the idea that unemployment and racial discrimination can be legislated out of existence....

"The right of petition is a fundamental principle of the Constitution, but it assumes an orderly and non-provocative procedure. The federal government had to go to large expense to police the Wednesday demonstration here and to keep people from crowding into the city who might participate in disorders.

"To say that the 'march' was successful because large-scale violence was avoided is to ignore the bitterness and resentment prevalent on that day in a city whose normal community life was disrupted. Tens of thousands of people remained secluded in their homes lest they become injured or subjected to unwarranted delays in moving to and from their residences. American citizens were prevented from pursuing their customary ways. Their right to go to their places of employment was impaired by fear of bodily injury.

"Would this have happened if the petitioners had relied on the process of reason in a voluntary society? Are injustices remedied by creating more injustices, and is the cause of civil rights advanced by interfering with the civil rights of non-participants in the mass demonstrations?

"These are questions which will need answering, and the full effect of what may come to be called 'the mess in Washington' could be reflected in future elections. For what was proved by the big demonstration — that in free America only the mob can get laws passed covering the issue of civil rights?"

Finally, this week, when leaders of the "Poor People's Crusade" openly defied governmental authority, political politeness was at last brushed aside, and law and order was unhesitatingly imposd. It is a healthful and constructive sign that the people do lose their patience when protesters — no matter how just the cause — do not proceed in a lawful and orderly manner to petition their government for the redress of grievances.

Maybe there will be more "demonstrations," but little by little long-suffering officials are getting tired of artificially developed mass protests. It is significant that D.C. Mayor Walter Washington, himself a Negro, took part in the ending of the fiasco of "Resurrection City," as 204 of the squatters — including the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, successor to the late Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. — were arrested. Thus was the maintenance of law and order resumed in the capital of the nation.

SCLC's Hosea Williams Has Been Clamoring for Violence

WASHINGTON—To a large extent, the Resurrection City rebellion was encouraged by scripture-quoting, psalm-singing Hosea Williams, the direction action leader, who had been clamoring for violence from the beginning.

Before his demonstrators swarmed into the Agriculture Department for their first confrontation with police, they huddled with Williams for last-minute instructions Federal authorities ordered restraint.

Auto-Theft Ring

They also ordered restraint two years earlier when the FBI linked Williams with an auto theft ring. The Justice Department sent three attorneys to Atlanta to make sure the case was handled delicately.

Perhaps this persuaded him that he could thumb his nose at the law with impunity.

We reported as early as April 22, for instance, that Williams was urging the Southern Christian Leadership Conference to overturn the late Dr. Martin Luther King's nonviolent policy.

On June 3, reporters heard Williams exhort his followers at Resurrection City: "The picnic is over. We are coming out of these shacks. Police will have a chance to use their billy clubs."

The same Hosea Williams was caught in 1966 with the keys to a stolen car in his possession. He swore he had no idea that the car was stolen. But the confessed thief, Harold Andrews, told the FBI a different story.

He claimed he had made a deal with a middle man, named Morris Finley, to deliver 17 stolen cars complete with false registration papers to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Williams was in charge of auto purchases for the organization's voter registration drive.

As it happened, Andrews produced only four cars, which he stole from auto agencies at Washington National Airport, Newark, N.J., Daytona Beach, Fla., and Atlanta. He equipped these with stolen license plates, forged registration cards and phony bills of sale.

He swore to the FBI that he sold the hot cars for only a fraction of the amounts shown on the bills of sale. Williams asked him to pad the bills of sale, Andrews said, to cover shortages in the SCLC books.

For several weeks, Andrews cooperated with the FBI in making a case against Williams and Finley. The FBI monitored phone calls, for example, between Andrews and Finley. Williams' name was prominently mentioned in the conversations.

Justice Department Intervenes

When the case was presented to the Grand Jury the Justice Department took it out of the hands of the local U.S. Attorney and sent three special attorneys to Atlanta. The Grand Jury indicted Andrews and Finley, completely ignored Hosea Williams.

U.S. Attorney Charles Goodson said the Justice Department had never previously intervened in a stolen-car case during his tenure in Atlanta. Andrews' Attorney, William O'Kelley, who spent two years in the U.S. Attorney's office, said he had handled every stolen-car prosecution during the 1959-61 period.

"The Justice Department," he told us, "didn't attempt to advise me in a single case, including one that involved 100 cars from all over the United States and Mexico."

At the trial, Andrews took the witness stand in his own defense and repeated under oath his charge that Williams had made the deal for the stolen cars. Andrews also told the jury that the special Justice Department prosecutors "on three different occasions" had tried to persuade him not to testify.

"They said it might cause a revolution in this country if these high officials in SCLC were arrested," he declared from the stand.

Judge Sidney O. Smith refused to accept evidence that might have implicated Williams. The trial was not concerned, the judge said, with the decision about who should have been prosecuted.

"The decision disturbs me," he said, "but it's not my problem. Whoever made the decision will have to live with it."

A justice department spokesman told us that there was insufficient evidence to prosecute Williams. The trial attorney, Allen Chancey of Goodson's office, agreed.

"The case against Hosea Williams," Chancey told us, "depended entirely upon the testimony of a convicted car thief."

Others believe that a jury, not the Justice Department, should have made this judgment.

Note: Both Andrews and Finley were convicted.

Gas Line Safety

A showdown as to whether the 700,000-mile network of pipeline crisscrossing the USA will be carefully inspected comes up in the House of Representatives today (June 26). Upon the outcome will depend whether or not more pipeline explosions will endanger nearby homes.

The lobbyists have been working overtime to kill the tougher Senate version of the pipeline safety bill, and have succeeded in the House Commerce Committee. Recently they have been getting local utility companies to pressure their congressmen. They also have Reps. James Droyhill, Republican, and Horace Korenegay, Democrat, both of North Carolina, as their spokesmen.

A drive will be made on the House floor by Reps. John Moss, Calif., John Dingell, Mich., Brick Adams, Wash., Joseph Vigorito, Pa., and Richard Ottinger, N.Y., all Democrats, to strengthen the weak House bill.

They will call attention to a series of pipeline explosions, one of them occurring last week in Doniphan, Mo., killing six people. Another terrible traedy occurred in a nursery outside Atlanta, Ga., where ten children were killed when a tractor cut into a pipeling which was not marked and was only eight inches below the surface.

Another pipeline tragedy occurred near Coshocton, Ohio, when a gas line leak, in a valley, displaced so much oxygen in the air that cars stalled and people felt nausea. People said that if rain had not dispelled the gas, damage would have been incalculable.

Three and a half years ago this column reported the fact that no federal inspection system existed for checking on the vast network of pipelines buried under the United States. It has taken three years for the Congress to get around to passing a tough pipeline inspection bill.

A showdown comes up in the House today.

Vigorous Vigorito

Rep. Joseph Vigorito, the vigorous Pennsylvania Democrat recently sent a sharp letter to Robertson C. Cameron, managing director of the Pennsylvania Gas Association, who defended the gas industry's pipeline safety record. Cameron contended that an average of only 44 persons were killed annually in gas-caused accidents.

"I fail to see why you are seemingly pleased that there were only (underline) 44 fatalities," wrote Vigorito. "To one who values human life, this would seem to be 44 too many."

He added that Cameron also had neglected to point out that every year there was an average of 1,053 personal injuries from gas explosions and 1,990 incidents of property damage.

What the Increase in Income Surtax Will Mean to You

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

WASHINGTON — The raise in income taxes, which has been passed in the Senate and in the House and sent to the President will not be anywhere near as severe as some may have imagined.

The raise will consist of a 10 per cent income surtax. This word "surtax" is important. It means that your employer will be required to withhold from your pay check 10 per cent more than he has been withholding up to now for income tax.

If, for example, he has been withholding $10 a week, he will withhold 10 per cent more, or another dollar making the total withholding $11 a week.

Here are four examples of how the increase will affect the average wage earner. (These figures were compiled for the Chicago Daily News by authoritative sources here. In each case, it is assumed that the taxpayer took the standard deductions and that married couples filed a joint return.)

If you are:

—Earning $100 a week and are single, you would have owed $707 60 a year in taxes at the old rate. Your employer was withholding $733.20 and you would have received a refund of $25.60 will be withheld, leaving you with a refund of $8.93.

—Earning $7,500 a year, married but without any children, you would have owed $914.50, and $894.40 would have been withheld, leaving a balance due of $20.10 which you would have to pay at the end of the tax year to square your account with the government. Now, you will owe $983.09 and $938.60 will be withheld, leaving a balance due you will have to meet of $44.49

—Earning $7,500 a year and married with two children, you would have owed $686.50, and $655.20 would have been withheld, leaving a balance due of $31.30. Now, you will owe $737.99 and $686.40 will be withheld, leaving a balance due of $51.59.

—Earning $10,000 a year and are married with two children, you would have owed $1,114.00, and $1,118.00 would have been withheld, giving you a refund of $4.00. Now, you will owe $1,197.55, and $1,175.20 will be withheld, leaving a balance due of $22.35.

Your employer will be required to start withholding the additional amount from your pay check two weeks after President Johnson signs the tax bill.

Congress has made this higher tax rate retroactive to April 1 for individuals, and to Jan. 1 for corporations. This does not mean that you will have to pay a lump sum extra to cover the period between April 1 and now when there was no extra sum withheld from your pay check.

Instead, it means that the 10 per cent nominal surtax will work out to an effective annual rate of 7.5 per cent.

Thus, as a rough rule of thumb, if you paid $1,000 income taxes for last year, you would pay 7.5 per cent more now, or $1,075.

The amount withheld from your pay check, in most cases, will not quite cover the extra income tax you will owe this year. That is because the 10 per cent additional will have been withheld for only six months, thus making the effective annual withholding rate 5 per cent, while the effective annual rate of tax increase will be 7.5 per cent.

The tax is due to expire after June 30 next year unless Congress votes to continue it. Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, has said he thinks it may be necessary for Congress to continue it.

If, however, it should expire after six months, the amount withheld from your paycheck should come close to settling your total tax bill. This is because the effective annual withholding rate for six months would come to 5 per cent — and the effective annual rate of the surtax for six months would also come to 5 per cent.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

It is increasingly difficult to detect the difference between publicity and news. Front page material is devised, engineered and executed. The city editors of the newspapers grow gray trying to detect the spontaneous event from the one that emerged from a conference of public pulse-takers.

In Washington, I looked at the tents beside the reflecting pool. The poor lived in yellow mud. Around them was the power structure: the White House, Congress, the Supreme Court. I asked myself if the Reverend Abernathy hoped to bend the power structure to his will, or was he taking dead aim on network television. For awhile, he lived in a dry hotel. The others, in leaky tents, sunk to the ankles in mud.

Are we being fooled by public relations experts? The test, I guess, is to weigh each event and ask ourselves if it would have happened in a vacuum. Richard Nixon's decision not to debate Nelson Rockefeller, nor to recite the political issues of our time, is a left-handed, anti-publicity publicity coup. Why should the champ — with enough delegate votes for nomination in his pocket — risk a fight in the arena with a challenger who is trying to draw attention to himself?

Twenty per cent of all the mail that comes across this desk is written by public relations organizations. Of this, half comes from departments of the United States Government. Speeches written by publicity men for department heads to enunciate at lunches, dinners and commencements are baled and mailed, and move swiftly across this typewriter on their way to the wastebasket.

Everyone who employs a publicity man is automatically a good person. He is militant in his defense of motherhood, the flag, education, lower taxes and a halo for himself. Are the North Vietnamese in Paris for peace or publicity? Suppose the press of the world agreed not to publish anything about the peace talks for a month? Which side would be hurt by the silence?

I do not denounce the field of public relations. Often, the press agent is a good legman in bringing legitimate news to the city desk. The problem is in trying to pluck the weeds from the flowers.

A novelist named Norman Mailer joined an assault on the Pentagon. Did he hope for the surrender of McNamara's citadel? I doubt it. When his tatered band of intellectuals saw the law ahead, they quailed and said: "I surrender. Don't hit me." Television is the prime medium for protests. A march through Mississippi isn't worth a foot of film unless a helmeted trooper is seen swinging a club at an inoffensive Negro. The wrecking of a college dean's office is pointless unless the camera is in focus.

No one ever burned a draft card in a dark closet. The American people — an inarticulate mass without a press agent — would like Congress to enact a strong anti-gun law that would make it difficult for emotionally unstable people to buy weapons. Our Congress felt no compulsion to obey.

Harold W. Glassen, president of the National Rifle Association, issued a call to arms to 900,000 hunters to inundate the Congress with letters opposing a strong gun law.

The organized mass is always more articulate than the disorganized. Mr. Glassen's appeal made the front page of the New York Times. Before the Ecumenical Council opened in Rome, Archbishop Martin O'Connor was appointed publicity chief for the event. He had, for years, been head of the North American College in Rome. The journalists of the world trickled to his office to find out what was going on, and what it meant.

Publicity influences our daily lives. The spectrum embraces everything from politics to the pill. It is so big — and not necessarily evil, as I pointed out — that we may have to learn to interpret sources as we read. No organization fought Medicare as viciously as the American Medical Association, and none embraced it as ardently. You must ask yourself why.

In the field of books, writing has become 50 per cent of the work for the author. The other half is get on t.v. talk shows, cooking seminars and soap and sob shows. The critical reviews used to spell success or failure for my books. Today, I need Mike Douglas, Johnny Carson, Mervin Griffin and Hugh Downs.

I don't care whether you're a cop, a college, a cutie, a capitalist, a communist, a cherrub, a corporation or a cause — you need a P.R. expert...

Urges Approval of Housing Bill

By TOM LITTLEWOOD
Chicago Sun-Times Special

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has urged prompt approval of a housing bill that the House Banking Committee has completed.

He said the measure would increase the rate of new low income housing by 10 times compared with existing government programs.

If the Rules Committee clears the proposal, House leaders have tentatively scheduled a floor vote for tomorrow.

The Banking Committee recommendation includes a comprehensive riot damage insurance system backed by the federal government.

Rep. Frank Annunzio, (D-Ill.) succeeded in having the proposed insurance plan for small businessmen in ghettos include protection against robbery and arson, as well as against regular property damage. He said the committee agreed to include the specification in its report.

Last year, the House approved his measure directing the Small Business Administration to look into plans for federal guaranteed insurance against burglary, theft and other crimes against small businesses.

In addition, the federal government would back a reinsurance system in the event companies and the federal government would be shared by the insurance companies and the federal government would be shared by the insurance companies and the federal pool. The federal agency would also have further borrowing power from the federal treasury.

Delegates Not Free Agents

"The first thing a candidate who wants a nomination from a convention should realize is that delegates are not free agents, nor are they individuals subject to persuasion. The delegate is the property of his leader."

That is the very frank, bald and amazing statement of the way the majority of votes to nominate the Presidential candidates of the political parties are regarded by a man who knows. He is Edward Costikyan, who led Tammany Hall for part of the time when Robert F. Wagner was Mayor of New York.

The delegate usually becomes the property of his leader through patronage — the legal allocation of government favors in exchange for political support. This cements his loyalty to the party leader, to whom he is indebted for past favors and from whom he seeks future favors.

This explains how nominations are won, not necessarily in the primaries, but in state conventions, where the leaders can deliver delegate votes that will stay put so long as the leader wishes. It is what is often meant by the expression—the nomination was decided in the smoking rooms of the convention. That is where the deals are made that deliver the votes which put over the nomination.

It is probably the best argument that can be made for the Constitutional Amendment recently proposed by Senator Mike Mansfield, the Majority Leader. He urged a nationwide primary to select the nominees for President and Vice President and direct elections to follow very shortly thereafter.

Often, to protect their patronage, political leaders seek out and nominate outstanding candidates to head their tickets. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower are recent examples. But the fact remains, that the leaders deliver the delegates for whatever reason. The process accounts for the commanding leads now enjoyed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon in their respective parties.

Defense Contract Probe

The primary goal is to protect Great Society programs from too serious cutbacks. The hope is to save money through competition for the $40 billion in defense contracts so that the social programs can be saved from the budget axe. The way is a probe by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee.

Senator Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrat, is the chairman of the subcommittee and also an avid Great Society advocate. He may be going at it backward, but he hopes by showing large profits in defense contracts to find the money to save the Great Society programs.

"With more than 350,000 manufacturing firms in the country, 100 companies got 64 per cent of military contracts in 1966," Hart said. "More than 50 per cent of the contracts last year also were let noncompetitively."

There appears to be little price competition among bidders for defense contracts dealing with aircraft, electronics, missiles, tanks and ships, Hart found. Although he praised former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for improving contract procedures, Hart thinks he can find ways to inject more competition.

Pentagon sources contend that most defense contracts involve a two to three per cent profit. Subcommittee investigators report that 10 to 12 per cent was closer to the mark for firms handling only taxpayer dollars. Hart will try to find the truth between these reports.

With the passage by Congress of the 10 per cent surtax, Hart and others want to protect unemployment, housing, welfare and antipoverty programs from the $6 billion cut in spending required by the tax package.

Baltimore Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro III has run into opposition in his call for residents to turn in their guns as a step to stop violence. Citizens are keeping their guns to protect themselves in their homes, because police are given orders not to shoot law violators.

Theodore C. Sorensen, confidant both of John F. and Robert F. Kennedy, is seeking election as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention to fight for Senator Kennedy's ideals. His platform breaks with errors of the past and looks for opportunities of the future.

To take up the slack left by a cut in federal funds, a bipartisan move is under way in New Jersey to provide $2 million for 4,000 summer jobs for disadvantaged youths. Proportionate programs the country over would make $200 million available for summer jobs for 200,000.

Law, Order Imposed In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON — The eyes of the world have been turned during the last few weeks on the capital of the nation which boasts of its orderly processes of freedom and democracy. For the spectacle has been one of willful groups of exhibitionists seeking to coerce Congress and the executive departments through the tactics of a "demonstration," whose leaders preach "non-violence" but provoke disorder.

Nearly five years have elapsed since the first "march on Washington," and what was unhappily foreseen then has since occurred. On Aug. 29, 1963, this correspondent wrote:

"The 'march on Washington' will go down in history as marking a day of public disgrace — a step backward in the evolution of the American system of government. For the image of the United States presented to the world is that of a republic which had professed to believe in voluntarism rather than coercion, but which on August 28, 1963, permitted itself to be portrayed as unable to legislate equal rights for its citizens except under the intimidating influence of mass demonstrations.

"The press, television and radio, the public forums in halls and stadiums — all have been available heretofore as mediums through which the 'right of petition' could be effectively expressed and public opinion formed on controversial questions. But a minority group — led by men who drew to their side church leaders and groups as well as civic organizations — decided that a massive publicity stunt would be a better way to impress Congress and the President with the idea that unemployment and racial discrimination can be legislated out of existence....

"The right of petition is a fundamental principle of the Constitution, but it assumes an orderly and non-provocative procedure. The federal government had to go to large expense to police the Wednesday demonstration here and to keep people from crowding into the city who might participate in disorders.

"To say that the 'march' was successful because large-scale violence was avoided is to ignore the bitterness and resentment prevalent on that day in a city whose normal community life was disrupted. Tens of thousands of people remained secluded in their homes lest they become injured or subjected to unwarranted delays in moving to and from their residences. American citizens were prevented from pursuing their customary ways. Their right to go to their places of employment was impaired by fear of bodily injury.

"Would this have happened if the petitioners had relied on the process of reason in a voluntary society? Are injustices remedied by creating more injustices, and is the cause of civil rights advanced by interfering with the civil rights of non-participants in the mass demonstrations?

"These are questions which will need answering, and the full effect of what may come to be called 'the mess in Washington' could be reflected in future elections. For what was proved by the big demonstration — that in free America only the mob can get laws passed covering the issue of civil rights?"

Finally, this week, when leaders of the "Poor People's Crusade" openly defied governmental authority, political politeness was at last brushed aside, and law and order was unhesitatingly imposd. It is a healthful and constructive sign that the people do lose their patience when protesters — no matter how just the cause — do not proceed in a lawful and orderly manner to petition their government for the redress of grievances.

Maybe there will be more "demonstrations," but little by little long-suffering officials are getting tired of artificially developed mass protests. It is significant that D.C. Mayor Walter Washington, himself a Negro, took part in the ending of the fiasco of "Resurrection City," as 204 of the squatters — including the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, successor to the late Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. — were arrested. Thus was the maintenance of law and order resumed in the capital of the nation.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

It is increasingly difficult to detect the difference between publicity and news. Front page material is devised, engineered and executed. The city editors of the newspapers grow gray trying to detect the spontaneous event from the one that emerged from a conference of public pulse-takers.

In Washington, I looked at the tents beside the reflecting pool. The poor lived in yellow mud. Around them was the power structure: the White House, Congress, the Supreme Court. I asked myself if the Reverend Abernathy hoped to bend the power structure to his will, or was he taking dead aim on network television. For awhile, he lived in a dry hotel. The others, in leaky tents, sunk to the ankles in mud.

Are we being fooled by public relations experts? The test, I guess, is to weigh each event and ask ourselves if it would have happened in a vacuum. Richard Nixon's decision not to debate Nelson Rockefeller, nor to recite the political issues of our time, is a left-handed, anti-publicity publicity coup. Why should the champ — with enough delegate votes for nomination in his pocket — risk a fight in the arena with a challenger who is trying to draw attention to himself?

Twenty per cent of all the mail that comes across this desk is written by public relations organizations. Of this, half comes from departments of the United States Government. Speeches written by publicity men for department heads to enunciate at lunches, dinners and commencements are baled and mailed, and move swiftly across this typewriter on their way to the wastebasket.

Everyone who employs a publicity man is automatically a good person. He is militant in his defense of motherhood, the flag, education, lower taxes and a halo for himself. Are the North Vietnamese in Paris for peace or publicity? Suppose the press of the world agreed not to publish anything about the peace talks for a month? Which side would be hurt by the silence?

I do not denounce the field of public relations. Often, the press agent is a good legman in bringing legitimate news to the city desk. The problem is in trying to pluck the weeds from the flowers.

SCLC's Hosea Williams Has Been Clamoring for Violence

WASHINGTON—To a large extent, the Resurrection City rebellion was encouraged by scripture-quoting, psalm-singing Hosea Williams, the direction action leader, who had been clamoring for violence from the beginning.

Before his demonstrators swarmed into the Agriculture Department for their first confrontation with police, they huddled with Williams for last-minute instructions Federal authorities ordered restraint.

Auto-Theft Ring

They also ordered restraint two years earlier when the FBI linked Williams with an auto theft ring. The Justice Department sent three attorneys to Atlanta to make sure the case was handled delicately.

Perhaps this persuaded him that he could thumb his nose at the law with impunity.

We reported as early as April 22, for instance, that Williams was urging the Southern Christian Leadership Conference to overturn the late Dr. Martin Luther King's nonviolent policy.

On June 3, reporters heard Williams exhort his followers at Resurrection City: "The picnic is over. We are coming out of these shacks. Police will have a chance to use their billy clubs."

The same Hosea Williams was caught in 1966 with the keys to a stolen car in his possession. He swore he had no idea that the car was stolen. But the confessed thief, Harold Andrews, told the FBI a different story.

He claimed he had made a deal with a middle man, named Morris Finley, to deliver 17 stolen cars complete with false registration papers to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Williams was in charge of auto purchases for the organization's voter registration drive.

As it happened, Andrews produced only four cars, which he stole from auto agencies at Washington National Airport, Newark, N.J., Daytona Beach, Fla., and Atlanta. He equipped these with stolen license plates, forged registration cards and phony bills of sale.

He swore to the FBI that he sold the hot cars for only a fraction of the amounts shown on the bills of sale. Williams asked him to pad the bills of sale, Andrews said, to cover shortages in the SCLC books.

For several weeks, Andrews cooperated with the FBI in making a case against Williams and Finley. The FBI monitored phone calls, for example, between Andrews and Finley. Williams' name was prominently mentioned in the conversations.

Justice Department Intervenes

When the case was presented to the Grand Jury the Justice Department took it out of the hands of the local U.S. Attorney and sent three special attorneys to Atlanta. The Grand Jury indicted Andrews and Finley, completely ignored Hosea Williams.

U.S. Attorney Charles Goodson said the Justice Department had never previously intervened in a stolen-car case during his tenure in Atlanta. Andrews' Attorney, William O'Kelley, who spent two years in the U.S. Attorney's office, said he had handled every stolen-car prosecution during the 1959-61 period.

"The Justice Department," he told us, "didn't attempt to advise me in a single case, including one that involved 100 cars from all over the United States and Mexico."

At the trial, Andrews took the witness stand in his own defense and repeated under oath his charge that Williams had made the deal for the stolen cars. Andrews also told the jury that the special Justice Department prosecutors "on three different occasions" had tried to persuade him not to testify.

"They said it might cause a revolution in this country if these high officials in SCLC were arrested," he declared from the stand.

Judge Sidney O. Smith refused to accept evidence that might have implicated Williams. The trial was not concerned, the judge said, with the decision about who should have been prosecuted.

"The decision disturbs me," he said, "but it's not my problem. Whoever made the decision will have to live with it."

A justice department spokesman told us that there was insufficient evidence to prosecute Williams. The trial attorney, Allen Chancey of Goodson's office, agreed.

"The case against Hosea Williams," Chancey told us, "depended entirely upon the testimony of a convicted car thief."

Others believe that a jury, not the Justice Department, should have made this judgment.

Note: Both Andrews and Finley were convicted.

Gas Line Safety

A showdown as to whether the 700,000-mile network of pipeline crisscrossing the USA will be carefully inspected comes up in the House of Representatives today (June 26). Upon the outcome will depend whether or not more pipeline explosions will endanger nearby homes.

The lobbyists have been working overtime to kill the tougher Senate version of the pipeline safety bill, and have succeeded in the House Commerce Committee. Recently they have been getting local utility companies to pressure their congressmen. They also have Reps. James Broyhill, Republican, and Horace Korenegay, Democrat, both of North Carolina, as their spokesmen.

A drive will be made on the House floor by Reps. John Moss, Calif., John Dingell, Mich., Brick Adams, Wash., Joseph Vigorito, Pa., and Richard Ottinger, N.Y., all Democrats, to strengthen the weak House bill.

They will call attention to a series of pipeline explosions, one of them occurring last week in Doniphan, Mo., killing six people. Another terrible traedy occurred in a nursery outside Atlanta, Ga., where ten children were killed when a tractor cut into a pipeling which was not marked and was only eight inches below the surface.

Another pipeline tragedy occurred near Coshocton, Ohio, when a gas line leak, in a valley, displaced so much oxygen in the air that cars stalled and people felt nausea. People said that if rain had not dispelled the gas, damage would have been incalculable.

Three and a half years ago this column reported the fact that no federal inspection system existed for checking on the vast network of pipelines buried under the United States. It has taken three years for the Congress to get around to passing a tough pipeline inspection bill.

A showdown comes up in the House today.

Vigorous Vigorito

Rep. Joseph Vigorito, the vigorous Pennsylvania Democrat recently sent a sharp letter to Robertson C. Cameron, managing director of the Pennsylvania Gas Association, who defended the gas industry's pipeline safety record. Cameron contended that an average of only 44 persons were killed annually in gas-caused accidents.

"I fail to see why you are seemingly pleased that there were only (underline) 44 fatalities," wrote Vigorito. "To one who values human life, this would seem to be 44 too many."

He added that Cameron also had neglected to point out that every year there was an average of 1,053 personal injuries from gas explosions and 1,990 incidents of property damage.

What the Increase in Income Surtax Will Mean to You

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

WASHINGTON — The raise in income taxes, which has been passed in the Senate and in the House and sent to the President will not be anywhere near as severe as some may have imagined.

The raise will consist of a 10 per cent income surtax. This word "surtax" is important. It means that your employer will be required to withhold from your pay check 10 per cent more than he has been withholding up to now for income tax.

If, for example, he has been withholding $10 a week, he will withhold 10 per cent more, or another dollar making the total withholding $11 a week.

Here are four examples of how the increase will affect the average wage earner. (These figures were compiled for the Chicago Daily News by authoritative sources here. In each case, it is assumed that the taxpayer took the standard deductions and that married couples filed a joint return.)

If you are:

—Earning $100 a week and are single, you would have owed $707.60 a year in taxes at the old rate. Your employer was withholding $733.20 and you would have received a refund of $25.60 will be withheld, leaving you with a refund of $8.93.

—Earning $7,500 a year, married but without any children, you would have owed $914.50, and $894.40 would have been withheld, leaving a balance due of $20.10 which you would have to pay at the end of the tax year to square your account with the government. Now, you will owe $983.09 and $938.60 will be withheld, leaving a balance due you will have to meet of $44.49

—Earning $7,500 a year and married with two children, you would have owed $686.50, and $655.20 would have been withheld, leaving a balance due of $31.30. Now, you will owe $737.99 and $686.40 will be withheld, leaving a balance due of $51.59.

—Earning $10,000 a year and are married with two children, you would have owed $1,114.00, and $1,118.00 would have been withheld, giving you a refund of $4.00. Now, you will owe $1,197.55, and $1,175.20 will be withheld, leaving a balance due of $22.35.

Your employer will be required to start withholding the additional amount from your pay check two weeks after President Johnson signs the tax bill.

Congress has made this higher tax rate retroactive to April 1 for individuals, and to Jan. 1 for corporations. This does not mean that you will have to pay a lump sum extra to cover the period between April 1 and now when there was no extra sum withheld from your pay check.

Instead, it means that the 10 per cent nominal surtax will work out to an effective annual rate of 7.5 per cent.

Thus, as a rough rule of thumb, if you paid $1,000 income taxes for last year, you would pay 7.5 per cent more now, or $1,075.

The amount withheld from your pay check, in most cases, will not quite cover the extra income tax you will owe this year. That is because the 10 per cent additional will have been withheld for only six months, thus making the effective annual withholding rate 5 per cent, while the effective annual rate of tax increase will be 7.5 per cent.

The tax is due to expire after June 30 next year unless Congress votes to continue it. Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, has said he thinks it may be necessary for Congress to continue it.

If, however, it should expire after six months, the amount withheld from your paycheck should come close to settling your total tax bill. This is because the effective annual withholding rate for six months would come to 5 per cent — and the effective annual rate of the surtax for six months would also come to 5 per cent.

Negro Veteran Returning to America; Problems and Pressures Burdening Him

By THOMAS CORPORA

NEW YORK (UPI) — In May of 1966, in the jungle war zones northwest of Saigon, Joe Williams, 19, a high school dropout, braved heavy machinegun and mortar fire to aid his buddies caught in an ambush.

Williams, a medic with a rifle platoon of the First Infantry Division, crawled from man to man, plugging caping sharapnel wounds with thick dressings, shooting morphine into another whose arm had been shattered and telling another he would be okay, although the lower portion of his body was blown away.

Joey was hit three times by bullets — in the back, in the legs and in one foot. For his heroism, the Army awarded Spec. 4 Don Joey Williams of Memphis, Tenn. the Bronze Star medal with a "V" for valor.

On April 4, 1968, near Maine and Beale Streets in downtown Memphis, Joey unemployed, looted stores, burned shops and fought the police and National Guard.

Six months after Joey won his decoration, on Nov. 6, 1966, Buddy Warrick, 22, a high school dropout and a rifleman, distinguished himself in combat during a battle in the central lowland of Vietnam.

Warrick ignored heavy mortar fire and dragged a wounded buddy 120 yards to safety. For his heroism, the 196th Light Infantry Brigade awarded Sgt. James (Buddy) Warrick of Providence, R. I., the Army Commendation Medal with a "V" and the Vietnamese government decorated him with its Silver Star for valor.

On Aug. 1, 1967, Buddy Warrick, also unemployed, went into the riot - torn streets of South Providence in a personally dangerous effort to persuade Negroes to stop looting and burning and go home.

Williams and Warrick are Negroes and the thing that sent Joey into the streets to stop a riot was the different feelings each had about the United States.

Williams felt that after having served in Vietnam, his country had failed to deliver on its promise of democracy and equal opportunity for everyone.

Warrick believed that the delivery was slow, that it was coming and he would get his.

In the Army, both men saw democracy in action — in equal opportunities for advancement, in full integration. In Vietnam, both learned there was only one color — olive drab — and only one concern — battle performance.

The battle record of Joey, Buddy and thousands of their Negro "brothers" is superb. Negroes make up not quite 10 per cent of the total number of men in uniform, according to the Defense Department, but more than 17 per cent of the men assigned to combat "occupations" are black. In some elite airborne brigades, Negro soldiers number between 25 and 45 per cent of the troops.

Almost one in four, 24.2 per cent, of the noncommissioned battle leaders in Vietnam, from squad leaders to field first sergeants, are black, and Negro officers, though only 5 per cent of the Army's officer corps, command everything from platoons to battalions. Others hold important staff jobs at every headquarters.

The Negro soldier has won more than his share of decorations in Vietnam, including, twice, the nation's highest award for devotion to duty, the Medal of Honor. One of the winners was Pfc. Milton Olive, 19, who threw himself on a live hand grenade and gave his life to save four others, both blacks and whites.

Tributes to his record in Vietnam have been paid the Negro by everyone from congressmen to commanders to white comrades - in -arms.

"The old notion that they are cowards has been disproved," said Joseph W. Dalton Jr., 26, of Schenectady, N.Y. a former Marine Lieutenant who is white.

"Negroes are as good fighting men as whites. There is no difference over there."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the former U.S. commander in Vietnam, used the opportunity of a speech before the all - white legislature of South Carolina, his home state, to single out the Negro soldier for praise.

"The performance of the Negro soldier has been particularly inspiring to me," Westmoreland said. "They serve with distinction."

On another occasion, Westmoreland said he had "an intuitive feeling that the Negro servicemen have a better understanding than the whites of what the war is about."

He referred to the involvement of so many black soldiers, perhaps through a feeling of empathy, in what the military likes to call "the battle for the hearts and minds" of the Vietnamese peasant.

Spec. 4 Michael Baker of Chicago, 21, a medic in the First Cavalry Division, is typical of that kind of Negro soldier. He has taught himself a few words of Vietnamese and on search operations in villages he seeks out the elders and tries to explain what the troops are doing and why. He also offers to treat sick villagers.

Often, Baker ends up being invited to drink tea with these village leaders and, when his unit pulls out, he has left behind Vietnamese who may not be friends of the United States but at least better understand the GI.

The most eloquent record of the black soldier in combat is that written in his own blood. Between 1961 and the end of 1967, 14.1 per cent of all battle deaths were Negroes, although Negroes during those years averaged less than 10 per cent of the total troops in Vietnam.

Neither Joey Williams nor Buddy Warrick was prepared to return to the status quo.

"I was going to get mine, you know," said Joey. "I was going to go anywhere and do anything I wanted."

"You settle for less when you go into the service," said Buddy. "But when you come home, you want something better."

Public Divided on Whether Nixon, HHH Can Better Deal With Vietnam

Copyright, 1968, American Institute of Public Opinion. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited, except with written contest of the copyright holders.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 25 — Neither Hubert Humphrey nor Richard Nixon currently has an advantage on the Vietnam issue, certain to be a decisive one in this fall's election.

While Republicans line up behind Nixon and Democrats back Humphrey on this issue, Independents — those who do not align themselves with either major party — are more inclined to think Nixon can deal better with the Vietnam war.

A total of 1538 adults in 320 communities were personally interviewed in a national survey conducted between June 15 and 18. The communities were selected by probability sampling methods. This question was asked:

"Which of these two men—Richard Nixon or Hubert Humphrey — do you think can be a better job of dealing with the Vietnam war "

	Nixon	HHH	Undec.
National	41%	41%	18%
Reps	74	12	14
Dems.	20	62	18
Inds.	47	35	18

The Vietnam war is cited as the top worry of Americans today, but debate over the proper course to follow has subsided while people await the outcome of the Paris talks.

The public is hopeful that something constructive will emerge from the Paris talks; at the same time, they are not expecting much. A large majority (2 persons in 3) expressed doubt when the talks first got underway that they would lead to a solution to the war. Only one person in nine expressed any real measure of confidence.

To shed light on the way the country is thinking, the following plan was presented to people interviewed in the latest survey:

"It has been suggested that the U.S. agree to stop all bombing of North Vietnam but with the understanding that if after one or two months the North Vietnamese DO NOT begin to remove their soldiers from South Vietnam that the U.S. would then decide whether to bomb all of North Vietnam, including the cities. Would you favor or oppose such a plan?"

Here are the findings:
Would favor this plan	54%
Oppose	33
No opinion	13

Opinion on this plan differs little between those who think Nixon can better deal with the Vietnam war and those who say Humphrey would do a better job.

Do Not Think U.S. Is Winning

Although the peace talks have to some degree calmed emotions over Vietnam, they have not lulled people into thinking that the war is going well.

One person in every four (25 per cent) believes we are "losing" the war. Another 47 per cent say we are "standing still," and 18 per cent think we the "making progress."

The latest results are somewhat more pessimistic, on balance, than those recorded in March and last November, as seen in the following table:

"Just your impression, do you think the U.S. and its allies are losing ground in Vietnam, standing still, or making progress?"

	Latest %	Mar. %	Nov. %

Secret Report About Gangland Extortion Plot

By ART PETACQUE
Chicago Sun-Times Special

CHICAGO — A secret tape-recorded statement, made by a former top leader of the Blackstone Rangers, a youth gang here, and turned over to a Senate Subcommittee, tells of Ranger extortion against merchants and politicians, dealings in marijuana and stockpiling of weapons and ammunition it has been learned here.

The tape was made last fall by George (Watusi) Rose, an ex-convict once third from the top in the Rangers hierarchy. Rose is expected to testify in open session before the Senate Investigations Sub-committee headed by John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

It was learned that the tape includes a statement by Rose that the Blackstone Rangers received cases of weapons from a Black Nationalist group and hid them in a church.

Sources say the tape contains names, addresses and places of business of merchants paying over $3,000 a week to Ranger members in extortion money.

The recording, the sources add, also include details of an attempt to murder Rose after he failed to make contact with a courier bringing 600 pounds of processed marijuana to a meeting place.

When Rose did not show up, the courier abandoned the marijuana in an alley, according to the tape.

Rose then asked for police protection in return for his disclosure of Ranger activities. On the tape, Rose told how police officials gave him a new name, found him a job, and moved him to an area where he was unknown.

Sources said that Rose pinpointed a cache of weapons hidden by the Rangers and that, on three occasions, investigators from the state's attorney's office made plans to raid the arsenal.

Each time, the sources said, State's Atty. John J. Stamos called off raid plans because of legal technicalities.

The tape recordings were turned over to the Chicago Police Department's Intelligence Division whose investigations have corroborated much of its information.

Police doubted some parts of Rose's statement, but members of the Senate Subcommittee were expected to question the former gang figure closely.

Negro Veteran Returning to America; Problems and Pressures Burdening Him

By THOMAS CORPORA

NEW YORK (UPI) — In May of 1966, in the jungle war zones northwest of Saigon, Joe Williams, 19, a high school dropout, braved heavy machinegun and mortar fire to aid his buddies caught in an ambush.

Williams, a medic with a rifle platoon of the First Infantry Division, crawled from man to man, plugging caping sharapnel wounds with thick dressings, shooting morphine into another whose arm had been shattered and telling another he would be okay, although the lower portion of his body was blown away.

Joey was hit three times by bullets — in the back, in the legs and in one foot. For his heroism, the Army awarded Spec. 4 Don Joey Williams of Memphis, Tenn. the Bronze Star medal with a "V" for valor.

On April 4, 1968, near Maine and Beale Streets in downtown Memphis, Joey unemployed, looted stores, burned shops and fought the police and National Guard.

Six months after Joey won his decoration, on Nov. 6, 1966, Buddy Warrick, 22, a high school dropout and a rifleman, distinguished himself in combat during a battle in the central lowland of Vietnam.

Warrick ignored heavy mortar fire and dragged a wounded buddy 120 yards to safety. For his heroism, the 196th Light Infantry Brigade awarded Sgt. James (Buddy) Warrick of Providence, R. I., the Army Commendation Medal with a "V" and the Vietnamese government decorated him with its Silver Star for valor.

On Aug. 1, 1967, Buddy Warrick, also unemployed, went into the riot - torn streets of South Providence in a personally dangerous effort to persuade Negroes to stop looting and burning and go home.

Williams and Warrick are Negroes and the thing that sent Joey into the streets to stop a riot was the different feelings each had about the United States.

Williams felt that after having served in Vietnam, his country had failed to deliver on its promise of democracy and equal opportunity for everyone.

Warrick believed that the delivery was slow, that it was coming and he would get his.

In the Army, both men saw democracy in action — in equal opportunities for advancement, in full integration. In Vietnam, both learned there was only one color — olive drab — and only one concern — battle performance.

The battle record of Joey, Buddy and thousands of their Negro "brothers" is superb. Negroes make up not quite 10 per cent of the total number of men in uniform, according to the Defense Department, but more than 17 per cent of the men assigned to combat "occupations" are black. In some elite airborne brigades, Negro soldiers number between 25 and 45 per cent of the troops.

Almost one in four, 24.2 per cent, of the noncommissioned battle leaders in Vietnam, from squad leaders to field first sergeants, are black, and Negro officers, though only 5 per cent of the Army's officer corps, command everything from platoons to battalions. Others hold important staff jobs at every headquarters.

The Negro soldier has won more than his share of decorations in Vietnam, including, twice, the nation's highest award for devotion to duty, the Medal of Honor. One of the winners was Pfc. Milton Olive, 19, who threw himself on a live hand grenade and gave his life to save four others, both blacks and whites.

Tributes to his record in Vietnam have been paid the Negro by everyone from congressmen to commanders to white comrades - in -arms.

"The old notion that they are cowards has been disproved," said Joseph W. Dalton Jr., 26, of Schenectady, N.Y. a former Marine Lieutenant who is white.

"Negroes are as good fighting men as whites. There is no difference over there."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the former U.S. commander in Vietnam, used the opportunity of a speech before the all - white legislature of South Carolina, his home state, to single out the Negro soldier for praise.

"The performance of the Negro soldier has been particularly inspiring to me," Westmoreland said. "They serve with distinction."

On another occasion, Westmoreland said he had "an intuitive feeling that the Negro servicemen have a better understanding than the whites of what the war is about."

He referred to the involvement of so many black soldiers, perhaps through a feeling of empathy, in what the military likes to call "the battle for the hearts and minds" of the Vietnamese peasant.

Spec. 4 Michael Baker of Chicago, 21, a medic in the First Cavalry Division, is typical of that kind of Negro soldier. He has taught himself a few words of Vietnamese and on search operations in villages he seeks out the elders and tries to explain what the troops are doing and why. He also offers to treat sick villagers.

Often, Baker ends up being invited to drink tea with these village leaders and, when his unit pulls out, he has left behind Vietnamese who may not be friends of the United States but at least better understand the GI.

The most eloquent record of the black soldier in combat is that written in his own blood. Between 1961 and the end of 1967, 14.1 per cent of all battle deaths were Negroes, although Negroes during those years averaged less than 10 per cent of the total troops in Vietnam.

Neither Joey Williams nor Buddy Warrick was prepared to return to the status quo.

"I was going to get mine, you know," said Joey. "I was going to go anywhere and do anything I wanted."

"You settle for less when you go into the service," said Buddy. "But when you come home, you want something better."

Public Divided on Whether Nixon, HHH Can Better Deal With Vietnam

PRINCETON, N. J., June 25 — Neither Hubert Humphrey nor Richard Nixon currently has an advantage on the Vietnam issue, certain to be a decisive one in this fall's election.

While Republicans line up behind Nixon and Democrats back Humphrey on this issue, Independents — those who do not align themselves with either major party — are more inclined to think Nixon can deal better with the Vietnam war.

A total of 1538 adults in 320 communities were personally interviewed in a national survey conducted between June 15 and 18. The communities were selected by probability sampling methods. This question was asked:

"Which of these two men—Richard Nixon or Hubert Humphrey — do you think can be a better job of dealing with the Vietnam war"

Look to Hudson River As NYC Water Source

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —The Susquehanna, Delaware, Mohawk and Hudson river basins today were suggested as sources of water to provide for the needs of the New York City area by the year 2020.

A report by Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, state health commissioner, to Governor Rockefeller urged development of new sources of water, rather than uneconomical enlarging of present facilities or piecemeal development of additional resources.

Undertaken during the 1966 drought, the $338,200 study concerned the water needs of the city and Westchester County. Also suggested in less detail as water sources were the St. Lawrence River, the Great Lakes, Lake Champlain and Long Island Sound.

The report also highly recommended water meters for the city.

The study said the most economical project and the one recommended would take a new supply from the Hudson River at Hyde Park. Impounding reservoirs would be built in the headwaters of the Hudson to provide the added fresh water flow needed during droughts. In addition to the reservoirs, an intake, treatment plant and pumping stations would be needed at Hyde Park plus an aqueduct to Kensico reservoir.

The study recommended development of new sources providing 500 million gallons-a-day at the start with expansion to 1,000 million gallons-a-day 25 years from now.

Population in the New York City and Westchester area is expected to increase from 9 million in 1965 to 12.3 million in 2020. The population of adjacent upstate counties, which might participate in a regional water supply project, will increase from 2.1 million to an estimated 4.6 million in 2020.

"Based on the population estimates, and assuming the prompt adoption of water metering and enforcement of conservation measures in New York City, average water demands in the area to be served are estimated at 1,470 MGD (million gallons per day) in 1980, 1,900 MGD in 2000 and 2,350 MGD in 2020," the report said.

Without metering and conservation, the total demands could be 150 to 300 MGD greater than the estimates.

Recommendations in the report included:

— Prompt and vigorous action by the city and state to obtain modification of Delaware River release requirements under the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 decree on use of the river's water.

— Participation by the city and state in further development of the Delaware, provided other Delaware basin states and the federal government play a part.

— Adoption of the Hudson River-Hyde Park project as the next major water supply development for the metropolitan region and steps to secure sites for impounding reservoirs.

The report suggested that for best utilization of existing and proposed water supplies, meters be installed on all service connections in New York City and efforts be made to minimize leakage and wastage; eliminate per capita limits on the quantity of water available to suburban communities from New York and filtration of Croton water and water taken for local supplies from the Catskill aqueduct above Kensico.

Purcell Quits

TROY, N.Y. (UPI) — John J. Purcell, Rensselaer County Democratic chairman, announced Tuesday night he would not seek another term.

Purcell has held the chairmanship for 15 years. Edward F. McDonough, Troy city chairman; Warren Traver, a former state senator, and George F. Regan of Poestenkill have been mentioned as possible successors.

Stay Active, Salinger To RFK Supporters

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pierre Salinger wants followers of the assassinated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to remain active in politics and search for a candidate who can lead a new crusade for "revolutionary change" in America.

The former White House press secretary indicated in an interview that Hubert M. Humphrey could win the hearts of Kennedy partisans if he declares his independence from the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy.

Salinger said he personally could not support Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Humphrey's only announced rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, because "the bitterness of the last several weeks of the campaign is too close to us."

He held out the chance of a third candidate. As one possibility, he mentioned Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota.

Salinger, a key political strategist for both of the assassinated Kennedy brothers, was interviewed beside the pool at his three-acre Beverly Hills estate where he lives with his French-born wife Nichole.

As to his call for revolutionary change, Salinger said: "I use the word revolutionary advisedly because some of the changes that must be made are of such major significance.

"It is going to take a real leader to do it, somebody who has the ability to really move the population—maybe down some disagreeable roads," he said.

The Humphrey who advocated the "politics of joy," did not seem to fit that description. But Salinger said: "You go back to the Hubert Humphrey of the 40s and 50s. He was in the forefront of change in America."

Salinger said most Kennedy backers have not yet given their allegiance to another candidate.

"I think with the uncertainties of politics in 1968 it would be a mistake to rush in and make a commitment anywhere now," he said. "You don't know if other candidates will emerge. I don't think the convention is anywhere near locked up."

But, if the choice at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August narrows to a fight between Humphrey and McCarthy, Salinger's sympathies clearly would be with Humphrey.

"The vice president is an old close friend of mine," he said. "I think he is a great public servant. I think he has a great deal of heart."

But he clearly saw the war in Vietnam as the key to unlock support of the Kennedy delegates for the vice president. "I'd have to see what he is going to do on the subject of Vietnam before I could make an open commitment to him," Salinger said.

Cops Raid Six Towns In Suffolk

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. (UPI)— Suffolk County police moved in on an alleged $25,000 a week heroin ring early today with simultaneous raids in six communities.

Police used 70 vehicles and 200 officers, divided into 33 teams, for the dawn raids in North Amityville, Wyandanch, Copiague, Lindenhurst, West Islip and Islip.

The number of arrests was not immediately known.

Police said the raids came after heroin had been sold to undercover narcotics agents during a three month investigation.

They said the heroin was supplied to the ring by an unidentified contact in New York City. The simultaneous raids were staged to allow "minimum risks to either officers or suspects because many are known to carry weapons," they said.

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Carleton J. King, R-N. Y., announced Tuesday he has appointed Col. Macarthur H. Manchester of Granville, N. Y., a finance chairman of the "King for Congress Committee."

The 64-year - old lawmaker is seeking re - election to a fifth term in the House of Representatives.

Manchester has been editor and publisher of the Granville Sentinel newspaper since his retirement from military service.

Mini-Building

HAPPY JACK, Ariz. (AP) — This northern Arizona lumbering community boasts what may be the smallest federal building in the nation—and probably the only homemade one in existence.

After fire destroyed the general store and post office in December 1966, residents pitched in and built a new 9-by-14-foot building to serve as a post office.

Look to Hudson River As NYC Water Source

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —The Susquehanna, Delaware, Mohawk and Hudson river basins today were suggested as sources of water to provide for the needs of the New York City area by the year 2020.

A report by Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, state health commissioner, to Governor Rockefeller urged development of new sources of water, rather than uneconomical enlarging of present facilities or piecemeal development of additional resources.

Undertaken during the 1966 drought, the $338,200 study concerned the water needs of the city and Westchester County. Also suggested in less detail as water sources were the St. Lawrence River, the Great Lakes, Lake Champlain and Long Island Sound.

The report also highly recommended water meters for the city.

The study said the most economical project and the one recommended would take a new supply from the Hudson River at Hyde Park. Impounding reservoirs would be built in the headwaters of the Hudson to provide the added fresh water flow needed during droughts. In addition to the reservoirs, an intake, treatment plant and pumping stations would be needed at Hyde Park plus an aqueduct to Kensico reservoir.

The study recommended development of new sources providing 500 million gallons-a-day at the start with expansion to 1,000 million gallons-a-day 25 years from now.

Population in the New York City and Westchester area is expected to increase from 9 million in 1965 to 12.3 million in 2020. The population of adjacent upstate counties, which might participate in a regional water supply project, will increase from 2.1 million to an estimated 4.6 million in 2020.

"Based on the population estimates, and assuming the prompt adoption of water metering and enforcement of conservation measures in New York City, average water demands in the area to be served are estimated at 1,470 MGD (million gallons per day) in 1980, 1,900 MGD in 2000 and 2,350 MGD in 2020," the report said.

Without metering and conservation, the total demands could be 150 to 300 MGD greater than the estimates.

Recommendations in the report included:

— Prompt and vigorous action by the city and state to obtain modification of Delaware River release requirements under the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 decree on use of the river's water.

— Participation by the city and state in further development of the Delaware, provided other Delaware basin states and the federal government play a part.

— Adoption of the Hudson River-Hyde Park project as the next major water supply development for the metropolitan region and steps to secure sites for impounding reservoirs.

The report suggested that for best utilization of existing and proposed water supplies, meters be installed on all service connections in New York City and efforts be made to minimize leakage and wastage; eliminate per capita limits on the quantity of water available to suburban communities from New York and filtration of Croton water and water taken for local supplies from the Catskill aqueduct above Kensico.

KHS Rites At Field House

Dan Allen, principal of Kingston High School, told The Freeman this morning that commencement exercises will be held in the Kate Walton Field House instead of Dietz Stadium tonight at 8.

Only those persons holding rain tickets will be admitted.

Purcell Quits

TROY, N.Y. (UPI) — John J. Purcell, Rensselaer County Democratic chairman, announced Tuesday night he would not seek another term.

Purcell has held the chairmanship for 15 years. Edward F. McDonough, Troy city chairman; Warren Traver, a former state senator, and George F. Regan of Poestenkill have been mentioned as possible successors.

Stay Active, Salinger To RFK Supporters

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pierre Salinger wants followers of the assassinated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to remain active in politics and search for a candidate who can lead a new crusade for "revolutionary change" in America.

The former White House press secretary indicated in an interview that Hubert M. Humphrey could win the hearts of Kennedy partisans if he declares his independence from the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy.

Salinger said he personally could not support Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Humphrey's only announced rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, because "the bitterness of the last several weeks of the campaign is too close to us."

He held out the chance of a third candidate. As one possibility, he mentioned Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota.

Salinger, a key political strategist for both of the assassinated Kennedy brothers, was interviewed beside the pool at his three-acre Beverly Hills estate where he lives with his French-born wife Nichole.

As to his call for revolutionary change, Salinger said: "I use the word revolutionary advisedly because some of the changes that must be made are of such major significance.

"It is going to take a real leader to do it, somebody who has the ability to really move the population—maybe down some disagreeable roads," he said.

The Humphrey who advocated the "politics of joy," did not seem to fit that description. But Salinger said: "You go back to the Hubert Humphrey of the 40s and 50s. He was in the forefront of change in America."

Salinger said most Kennedy backers have not yet given their allegiance to another candidate.

"I think with the uncertainties of politics in 1968 it would be a mistake to rush in and make a commitment anywhere now," he said. "You don't know if other candidates will emerge. I don't think the convention is anywhere near locked up."

But, if the choice at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August narrows to a fight between Humphrey and McCarthy, Salinger's sympathies clearly would be with Humphrey.

"The vice president is an old close friend of mine," he said. "I think he is a great puolic servant. I think he has a great deal of heart."

But he clearly saw the war in Vietnam as the key to unlock support of the Kennedy delegates for the vice president. "I'd have to see what he is going to do on the subject of Vietnam before I could make an open commitment to him," Salinger said.

Cops Raid Six Towns In Suffolk

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. (UPI)— Suffolk County police moved in on an alleged $25,000 a week heroin ring early today with simultaneous raids in six communities.

Police used 70 vehicles and 200 officers, divided into 33 teams, for the dawn raids in North Amityville, Wyandanch, Copiague, Lindenhurst, West Islip and Islip.

The number of arrests was not immediately known.

Police said the raids came after heroin had been sold to undercover narcotics agents during a three month investigation.

They said the heroin was supplied to the ring by an unidentified contact in New York City. The simultaneous raids were staged to allow "minimum risks to either officers or suspects because many are known to carry weapons," they said.

What Did the Poor Gain?

At Least a Beginning in the Way of More Help for the Needy

By LEON BURNETT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Poor People's Campaign fell far short of its declared goals, but did win at least a beginning in the way of more federal help for the needy.

What direction the campaign takes now, with Resurrection City dismantled and many demonstrators under arrest, lies with the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy and other leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

As expected, a Congress preoccupied with Vietnam, the budget deficit and the upcoming elections found time for only some expansion of existing programs.

The Johnson administration, preoccupied with Vietnam, congressional demands for spending cuts and other problems, took some minor action through the Agriculture Department—main target of demonstrators.

Hopes For Future

But while both legislative and administrative victories were quite modest compared to the campaign's broad demands, the wheels set in motion could carry hopes in the future for new programs to help feed, house and employ the poor.

For one thing, the campaigners won suspension for one year (and probably for good) of a curb on federal welfare payments to dependent children, scheduled to take effect July 1. The postponement was written into the tax-economy package awaiting President Johnson's signature.

Prospects are good for congressional approval of an extra $100 million a year, for three years, for free school lunches, and some breakfasts, for an estimated 5 million youngsters whose parents cannot pay for subsidized meals now generally available.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman and the House Agriculture Committee are studying possible expansion of the $225 million in subsidies now provided under the food stamp program. Freeman also is considering reducing the amounts families must pay for the stamps, which are priced according to income.

Increase Food Donations

In direct action, Freeman increased from 16 to 24 the variety of foods the government provides the poor in direct donations from surpluses.

New provisions to help the poor buy or renovate their own homes have been written into an omnibus housing bill passed by the Senate and recommended to the House by its Banking Committee.

A footnote: William M. Colmer, D-Miss., chairman of the House Rules Committee is urging action on legislation originally designed to close down Resurrection City, rewritten to put a permanent ban on use of federal park lands for such a purpose.

In its present form, that legislation would carry at least some solace for the poor: Creation of a grievance committee of 10 members of each House to hear citizens' complaints and recommend action.

But while both legislative and administrative victories were quite modest compared to the campaign's broad demands, the wheels set in motion could carry hopes in the future for new programs to help feed, house and employ the poor.

For one thing, the campaigners won suspension for one year (and probably for good) of a curb on federal welfare payments to dependent children, scheduled to take effect July 1. The postponement was written into the tax-economy package awaiting President Johnson's signature.

Prospects are good for congressional approval of an extra $100 million a year, for three years, for free school lunches, and some breakfasts, for an estimated 5 million youngsters whose parents cannot pay for subsidized meals now generally available.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman and the House Agriculture Committee are studying possible expansion of the $225 million in subsidies now provided under the food stamp program. Freeman also is considering reducing the amounts families must pay for the stamps, which are priced according to income.

Increase Food Donations

In direct action, Freeman increased from 16 to 24 the variety of foods the government provides the poor in direct donations from surpluses.

New provisions to help the poor buy or renovate their own homes have been written into an omnibus housing bill passed by the Senate and recommended to the House by its Banking Committee.

A footnote: William M. Colmer, D-Miss., chairman of the House Rules Committee is urging action on legislation originally designed to close down Resurrection City, rewritten to put a permanent ban on use of federal park lands for such a purpose.

In its present form, that legislation would carry at least some solace for the poor: Creation of a grievance committee of 10 members of each House to hear citizens' complaints and recommend action.

Guaranteed Relief Income Proposed for Welfare Clients

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —The Department of Social Services is considering guaranteed flat grants for welfare clients based solely on family size and rent, a spokesman said today.

The department has been moving in recent years to simplify the enormous amount of red tape in figuring out welfare grants for each client, he said.

Instead, the department is reducing the half dozen factors, now considered in determining the amount of the check, to a "flat grant" system.

The state administration and the federal government, which provides about one third of the state's welfare budget, must approve the proposals, he said.

The proposal was recommended by the governor's Arden House Conference last fall attended by 100 leading industrialists who called for changing the existing system.

The State Board of Social Welfare recently adopted the recommendation at a conference at Whiteface Mountain.

"This is not a true guaranteed annual income," the department spokesman said, "because it is based on the needs of those who qualify if they are eligible."

"A guaranteed annual income —and the flat grant is not one— is a basic amount of money which the government gives to everyone below a certain economic level," he said.

enter peace talks "for at least one or two more years."

"Our government is on the right track," he said. Then his craggy, leathery face knit into a frown. "But we have a long, long way to go."

Huong's view is that South and North Vietnam must be the main parties in any negotiations to end the war.

"But before talking with Hanoi, we must improve our position both politically and economically," Huong said in his first interview with a foreign newsman since taking office a month ago. He spoke in French.

Need People's Confidence

"The military situation is not too bad. But we have still not entirely recovered the confidence of the people. The government must work hard to win it," he said.

Shortly before taking office Huong described the Saigon "sampan of state" as "about to sink." Now he said, "The sampan has righted itself, although we haven't really started to move it forward yet."

Huong, 64, is a clean desk man. Except for the low hum of an air conditioner and a single black lacquer painting, the office of the gray-haired former school teacher is as quiet and as austere as a monastery cell. But the man stirs devotion.

His cabinet ministers call Huong "uncle," "The old man," or "venerable one." His admirers consider this self-made son of a laborer to be South Vietnam's answer to North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh.

"The situation has improved from many points of view in the past months. We've managed to keep prices from rising too steeply. In fact ,in some cases, they've dropped slightly.

Notes Unified Command

"Communication lines are open despite Viet Cong efforts to cut them. And we now have a unified military command for the Saigon area for the first time.

"There have been mass Viet Cong surrenders. That's a good sign," Huong said.

But he views the war not so much in terms of surrenders or dead soldiers as of a clash of morality and psychology, of a people's willingness to support the Saigon government. The crux is a "crisis of confidence" in the Saigon government, he said.

"The people have been deceived too much," said Huong.

2 Murder Counts Against Benjamin

Corporal Lewis Benjamin, 21, charged in the Good Friday slaying of a 19-year-old Saugerties girl, was indicted on two counts of murder this morning in county court.

The case is now ready for trial pending motions by Benjamin's attorney, F. Thomas Rea Jr. Since under the new penal law, there is no bail allowed on murder charges, Benjamin was remanded to the Ulster County Jail to await his trial.

The Marine corporal, who was arraigned June 10, is being held in connection with the death of Brenda Jean Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Benson of High Woods.

The girl's body was discovered down an embankment at the edge of a wooded area near the Glasco Turnpike, not far from the Viking Lounge, early Good Friday morning.

She was discovered by Sheriff's Deputies Marshall Canosa and Barton Kniffen. Benjamin was apprehended, unarmed, a short time later in the parking lot of the Viking Lounge walking from the direction of Miss Benson's parked automobile

Benjamin has entered a mandatory plea of not guilty. The county is represented by assistant district attorney, Francis Vogt.

Sr. Citizens Trip Tomorrow

Kingston Senior Citizens who did not participate in today's outing to Cooperstown may join the Recreation Department-sponsored excursion tomorrow.

Those wishing to go should be at the YWCA tomorrow morning at 8:30 to board a bus.

The trip, originally scheduled for today, was at first cancelled due to rain. However, because about 40 senior citizens came out for the trip this morning, one bus was arranged for their transportation today and another for tomorrow.

Charge Curator With Stealing Old Documents

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The curator of manuscripts for a museum here was arrested Tuesday for allegedly stealing and trying to sell museum documents bearing the signatures of Abraham Lincoln, Davy Crockett, and other historical figures.

Police said William McDermott, 23, a staff member of the Buffalo and Erie County Historical Society, took the documents from the society's files and tried to sell them to the Chas. Hamilton Galleries, a New York City autograph dealer. They were valued at $1,500 to $3,000.

He received $400 for the Lincoln, letter, police said, but Hamilton later discovered that the other documents left for appraisal belonged to the Buffalo museum.

Hamilton contacted Walter Dunn, president of the Buffalo society, and Dunn checked and discovered that the documents were missing.

McDermott, of suburban Eggertsville, was arrested while he worked in the museum.

Dunn said an inventory would be taken to discover if any other documents were missing.

Dyson to Burns: Use Influence At Convention

John Dyson, Democratic candidate for Congress, today urged John Burns, Democratic state chairman, "to exert your influence to assure the distribution of the at-large delegation to the Democratic National Convention in proportion to the primary vote."

In a letter to Burns, Dyson stated: "The at-large delegation should represent the victory Senator Eugene McCarthy achieved in the primary. In fairness, at least one-half of these delegates should be pledged to the senator."

Dyson explained: "This is not an endorsement of Senator McCarthy's candidacy, I consider myself neutral until after the convention, at which time I will support the Democratic nominee. However, I am a firm supporter of the primary system for selecting delegates.

The state committee would make a sham of the primary process if it chose a large number of uncommitted delegates committed to other candidates."

Glasco Water Hearing Set For Thursday

Saugerties Supervisor A. Michael Schovel reminds residents of The Glasco water district of the public hearing scheduled in the Firemen's Hall, Thursday at 8 p. m.

Making A Balanced List With Bonds and Preferreds

Q—We retired and plan to sell our home and move into an apartment. This will give us $20,000 to invest. After building up two of three mutual funds to $10,000 each, we will have about $18,000 to invest. We are considering preferred issues — Consumers Power $4.50, Christiana Securities $7.00, Du Pont $4.50, Gen. Motors $5.00 and Philadelphia Elec. $4.68. These look safe for income and we don't need more growth stocks now. What is your opinion?—G.S.

A—There is little I can add to the thoughtfully planned financial program you've presented. The five preferreds are of the highest quality and sell to yield around 6 per cent.

Because Christiana owns a 29 per cent interest in Du Pont, I would avoid duplication by eliminating Du Pont from your list. For additional stability I would suggest a high-yield triple-A bond. Any of those mentioned in yesterday's column, or Consumers Power 6⅞s of 1998, would be suitable.

Putting about $6,000 in bonds and $12,000 in preferred will help balance the $12,000 in your two growth funds — Enterprise and Penn Square. Your third fund, Delaware, which you plan to increase to $10,000, is diversified with emphasis on growth.

Thus your portfolio will be quite evenly divided between income and growth holdings.

Q—My husband and I are 55 and have inherited Northern States Power. I think we should switch into a growth stock and he thinks we should hold. Can you settle this?—H.R.

A—Although I hesitate to assume the role of arbiter. I must agree with you. Northern States is a high-quality income holding with a record of steady earnings improvement. Sooner or later investors will again place a higher value on these qualities and return the utilities to favor. Meanwhile, I think that with retirement about a decade away, you would be sensible to concentrate on building your capital through growth issues.

S-A Thrift Store

Lt. James Shotzberger, local Corps Officer, has announced the reopening of the Salvation Army Family Thrift Store at 585 Broadway and Cedar Streets next Monday at 9 a. m. Brigadier Walter Eden, manager of the Mid-Hudson Rehabilitation Center and John McKeon, general supervisor are assisting in the planning to bring further service of the Salvation Army to Kingston. The new outlet displays merchandise that has been renovated and sorted by the residents of the Poughkeepsie Men's Social Service Center. The store features clothing, furniture, bric-brac and other items.

Health for All

There are casualties in Vietnam are counted in the statistics.

They come from a disease called melioidosis, apparently found only in South-east Asia, which doctors in the United States are just beginning to know.

The disease has been called "the Vietnamese time bomb" because of its frequently delayed reaction. In some cases, actual illness can occur as late as 10 years after exposure.

Melioidosis initiates a type of pneumonia that is sometimes mistaken for tuberculosis. But the disease, according to present evidence is not contagious. If diagnosed in time, it can be treated successfully with certain antibiotics. Treatment must be continued for several weeks to avoid the danger of relapse.

The bacillus that causes the disease has been isolated, and is known to come from the soil of Vietnam. How it is transmitted is not yet known.

One of the problems of melioidosis is its unfamiliarity. Physicians in the United States have had no experience with it, and for this reason the sometime mistaken diagnosis of tuberculosis is made. The Armed Forces have tried to acquaint physicians with the disease and have asked doctors to be on the look-out for its among returning servicemen.

The National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, with which your Christmas Seal association is affiliated, is supporting a medical research grant to find an efficient skin test for melioidosis. It is hoped that such a skin test will identify the presence of infection, as the tuberculin skin test now does with tuberculosis.

IBM Dividend Is Declared

ARMONK—Directors of International Business Machines Corporation today declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 65 cents a share on the common stock, payable Sept. 10, to holders of record Aug. 8. Adjusting for the 2-for-1 stock split in the second quarter, this dividend rate is the same as the $1.30 per share paid on the pre-split shares in the first and second quarters of this year.

Thus your portfolio will be quite evenly divided between income and growth holdings.

Q—My husband and I are 55 and have inherited Northern States Power. I think we should switch into a growth stock and he thinks we should hold. Can you settle this?—H.R.

A—Although I hesitate to assume the role of arbiter. I must agree with you. Northern States is a high-quality income holding with a record of steady earnings improvement. Sooner or later investors will again place a higher value on these qualities and return the utilities to favor. Meanwhile, I think that with retirement about a decade away, you would be sensible to concentrate on building your capital through growth issues.

S-A Thrift Store

Lt. James Shotzberger, local Corps Officer, has announced the reopening of the Salvation Army Family Thrift Store at 585 Broadway and Cedar Streets next Monday at 9 a. m. Brigadier Walter Eden, manager of the Mid-Hudson Rehabilitation Center and John McKeon, general supervisor are assisting in the planning to bring further service of the Salvation Army to Kingston. The new outlet displays merchandise that has been renovated and sorted by the residents of the Poughkeepsie Men's Social Service Center. The store features clothing, furniture, bric-brac and other items.

Health for All

There are casualties in Vietnam are counted in the statistics.

They come from a disease called melioidosis, apparently found only in South-east Asia, which doctors in the United States are just beginning to know.

The disease has been called "the Vietnamese time bomb" because of its frequently delayed reaction. In some cases, actual illness can occur as late as 10 years after exposure.

Melioidosis initiates a type of pneumonia that is sometimes mistaken for tuberculosis. But the disease, according to present evidence is not contagious. If diagnosed in time, it can be treated successfully with certain antibiotics. Treatment must be continued for several weeks to avoid the danger of relapse.

The bacillus that causes the disease has been isolated, and is known to come from the soil of Vietnam. How it is transmitted is not yet known.

One of the problems of melioidosis is its unfamiliarity. Physicians in the United States have had no experience with it, and for this reason the sometime mistaken diagnosis of tuberculosis is made. The Armed Forces have tried to acquaint physicians with the disease and have asked doctors to be on the look-out for its among returning servicemen.

The National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, with which your Christmas Seal association is affiliated, is supporting a medical research grant to find an efficient skin test for melioidosis. It is hoped that such a skin test will identify the presence of infection, as the tuberculin skin test now does with tuberculosis.

Board Consensus: Austerity Budget

Onteora School Board has decided to operate the school system on a contingency budget until such time as a petition signed by 1,250 qualified voters demands a re-vote.

In May and again in June, voters turned down the original budget and then an amended budget which was reduced $59,169.

The board is now empowered to levy a tax sufficient to defray the cost of those items specifically authorized by statute.

The board must now determine what items to include in an austerity budget to provide for a minimum educational operation for 1968-69.

Some of the areas effected by an austerity budget are: new equipment, supplies used by students, library books, workbooks, new textbooks for grades K-6, research and development, summer reading and math programs.

Also, Head Start, extracurricular activities, interscholastic sports, transportation for away games and field trips, preschool clinics and the use of school facilities by outside agencies or persons.

There will be no cafeteria services, transportation will be limited to two miles for K-8 students and three miles for 9-12 pupils.

The board decision has already influenced some of their decisions made on other matters at a recent meeting.

For instance bids on bread were rejected and will be rebid subject to the operation of the cafeteria.

Also, the use of the Woodstock school for a concert was denied Rosewell Rudd due to the austerity budget.

In other business resignations were accepted from Walter Frohman, guidance counselor; John Frankle, Walter J. Smith, elementary teachers and Albert J. Wilson, secondary teacher. Mrs. Carmen Mousset, clerk-typist and Harold Hemeon, cafeteria custodian also resigned.

The board approved a salary schedule for the school psychologist beginning on step one with $14,510 and increasing to step ten at $17,480.

Hired were: Miss Arleen Reilly, substitute clerk-typist and clerical assistants, Robert Friday and Andrew Peck.

The employment of Walter Van Wagenen, to act as principal-advisor at the Woodstock School during July and August was also approved, including terminal leave at a pro-rated annual salary of $13,970.

As recommended by the superintendent, the following faculty appointments were made: Frank Mac Martin, administrative intern in charge of the junior high school; John Wildermuth, Domingo Lago and Joseph Cabibbo, secondary teachers; Susan Lindtveit, Mrs. Jeanne Maggiorre and Jean Druffner, elementary.

Also, Mrs. Carsten Creeson, girl's physical education; Harold Keel, instrumental music and Mrs. Natalie Earnest, school nurse teacher.

The part-time position on the foreign language department is not to be re-instated.

The annual reorganization meeting will be held July 2 at 8 p.m. at the Boiceville building.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education will take place July 15 at 8 p.m., also at Boiceville.

Ralph Perry Installed as Jaycee President

The annual installation banquet of the Woodstock Jaycees was held recently at Oehler's Mountain Lodge.

Installed were: president, Ralph Perry; internal vice president, Dominick Vanacore; external vice president, Peter Tosi; secretary, Jerry Rhodes; treasurer, Michael Frevert; directors, Jon Herbert, Richard Vandevort and Walter Winiewicz; and state director, Vincent Caliendo.

The keynote address was given by out-going National Jaycee Director Frank Antalek from Saugerties. He challenged the new officers to "take up the responsibility of leadership in their communities."

The Woodstock Jaycees extend an invitation to all local men between the ages of 21 and 35 to join with them in a concerted effort for community betterment in the coming year. The Jaycees meet at Deanies Restaurant in Woodstock the fourth Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m.

Overlook Pastor Reappointed

The Overlook United Methodist Church of Woodstock welcomes the reappointment of its pastor, the Rev. James W. Cook. The announcement was made at the recent annual conference of the New York Area of the United Methodist Church at Bridgeport, Conn.

The Rev. Cook will be on vacation for the month of July, during which time prominent area church members will be speaking on varied aspects of the topic, "To Open More Doors."

The first of the speakers on June 30 at 10 a.m. will be Harold Van Allen, a member of the First Baptist Church of Kingston and past president of the Kingston Area Council of Churches. He will speak on "Your Helping Hands and Heart."

The guest soloist will be Charles Van Voorhis and the worship service will be led by Dr. Harold Snyder.

A nursery will be provided.

Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens of Woodstock attended a season-end dinner recently at Deanie's.

They were entertained by Bill Spanhanke, singing, and Eddie Kerchner on the accordion. A singtime was had by all.

Senior Citizens who qualify for membership are cordially invited to join. Interested persons may call Annette I. Dietz.

Sermon

Christian Science is the title of the sermon to be presented Sunday at 11 in the First Church, Christ Scientist, Woodstock.

Instant Recognition

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Patrolman James Lammert noticed the car traveling ahead of his police cruiser Saturday night and pulled it over and arrested the driver.

The car was Lammert's, stolen the night before with $500 worth of clothing and his service revolver—all recovered.

All Unusual Students

Rockefeller University Has Graduating Class of Twenty-One

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — It happened on a rare day in an ordinary June full of graduation. Twenty-one unusual students followed their learned faculty down the tree-shaded walk to Caspary Auditorium.

No massed thousands in caps and gowns. No jammed football stadium or brass band. No pickets. No red white and blue bunting. No red white and blue speeches.

Ended With Taste

Only 21 young scholars taking the last steps toward their doctor of philosophy degrees. For all of them, it ended as it began — with taste and style a la Rockefeller.

It happened early this month. The graduating class was nearly all Phi Beta Kappa or its scientific counterpart Sigma XI. The graduates walked double file, led and flanked by the faculty of Rockefeller University. The faculty outnumbers the student body nearly 4 to 1, includes four Nobel Prize winners and other academic lights.

The procession marched informally, not to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," but to selections by the 16th century English composer Anthony Holborne, played for this occasion by a quintet, the Venetian Brass.

In the dome-shaped auditorium, the procession stepped down the black carpeted center aisle between rows of plush red seats, students and teachers taking places on stage. There was no formal speech, no fancy rhetoric.

Instead, each faculty sponsor presented his student candidate. He spoke of him by his first or familiar name, talked of his research, its roots in scientific history, its aim for the future.

Fond Memories

The professor recalled the successes and disappointments over the years they worked together, remembered their first meeting, or the patience of a student's wife, or the student's first confrontation with a laboratory mouse, or the quirks and habits only friends get to know.

It was all reflective of the close, constant interaction in this unique university on the East River, four city blocks of the best money can buy.

For some, leaving Rockefeller is difficult. For others, it is regretful, but an opening to the future.

For all of them Rockefeller University was a unique experience. Classes were small, rarely more than three students, when there were classes at all. Most reaching is done on a tutorial one-to-one basis, teacher and student. Most of the faculty are researchers, not teachers per se. Anything they need is produced on the university grounds. New bookshelves or equipment stands? Call the carpentry shop. A special piece of glassware? Call the glassblower, give him a design. Special illustrations for a scientific paper? Call the illustration service.

Rockefeller Endownment

Applications are carefully screened from all over the country. The few admitted are given a fellowship assuring themselves of $2,500 a year. They pay only for room and board, a subsidized bargain at a little over $1,000. They live, if they want to, in special student apartments. The university is endowed by the Rockefellers.

When the graduation ceremony ended, David Rockefeller, chairman of the board of the university, and Dr. Detlev Bronk, retiring after 15 years as president, led the way to cocktails in the garden and lunch catered by one of New York City's most expensive restaurants. Faculty and students, families and wives mingled on the shaded lawns.

That night, students and faculty danced at the graduation ball to the orchestra of Meyer Davis, society's music master.

Thus does the Rockefeller graduate, condemned by his own interests to the parsimonious halls of learning, have one last hearty fling.

All Unusual Students

Rockefeller University Has Graduating Class of Twenty-One

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — It happened on a rare day in an ordinary June full of graduation. Twenty-one unusual students followed their learned faculty down the tree-shaded walk to Caspary Auditorium.

No massed thousands in caps and gowns. No jammed football stadium or brass band. No picketts. No red white and blue bunting. No red white and blue speeches.

Ended With Taste

Only 21 young scholars taking the last steps toward their doctor of philosophy degrees. For all of them, it ended as it began — with taste and style a la Rockefeller.

It happened early this month. The graduating class was nearly all Phi Beta Kappa or its scientific counterpart Sigma XI. The graduates walked double file, led and flanked by the faculty of Rockefeller University. The faculty outnumbers the student body nearly 4 to 1, includes four Nobel Prize winners and other academic lights.

The procession marched informally, not to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," but to selections by the 16th century English composer Anthony Holborne, played for this occasion by a quintet, the Venetian Brass.

In the dome-shaped auditorium, the procession stepped down the black carpeted center aisle between rows of plush red seats, students and teachers taking places on stage. There was no formal speech, no fancy rhetoric.

Instead, each faculty sponsor presented his student candidate. He spoke of him by his first or familiar name, talked of his research, its roots in scientific history, its aim for the future.

Fond Memories

The professor recalled the successes and disappointments over the years they worked together, remembered their first meeting, or the patience of a student's wife, or the student's first confrontation with a laboratory mouse, or the quirks and habits only friends get to know.

It was all reflective of the close, constant interaction in this unique university on the East River, four city blocks of the best money can buy.

For some, leaving Rockefeller is difficult. For others, it is regretful, but an opening to the future.

For all of them Rockefeller University was a unique experience. Classes were small, rarely more than three students, when there were classes at all. Most reaching is done on a tutorial one-to-one basis, teacher and student. Most of the faculty are researchers, not teachers per se. Anything they need is produced on the university grounds. New bookshelves or equipment stands? Call the carpentry shop. A special piece of glassware? Call the glassblower, give him a design. Special illustrations for a scientific paper? Call the illustration service.

Rockefeller Endowment

Applications are carefully screened from all over the country. The few admitted are given a fellowship assuring themselves of $2,500 a year. They pay only for room and board, a subsidized bargain at a little over $1,000. They live, if they want to, in special student apartments. The university is endowed by the Rockefellers.

When the graduation ceremony ended, David Rockefeller, chairman of the board of the university, and Dr. Detlev Bronk, retiring after 15 years as president, led the way to cocktails in the garden and lunch catered by one of New York City's most expensive restaurants. Faculty and students, families and wives mingled on the shaded lawns.

That night, students and faculty danced at the graduation ball to the orchestra of Meyer Davis, society's music master.

Thus does the Rockefeller graduate, condemned by his own interests to the parsimonious halls of learning, have one last hearty fling.

Charged with leaving the scene of an accident on Route 209 at the intersection of Port Ben Road, Town of Wawarsing, at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jerry Johnson, 19, of 20 Maple Avenue, Ellenville, was arraigned before Town Justice Herbert Weinseff.

Johnson pleaded guilty and paid a $25 fine, according to troopers at the Ellenville substation.

Trooper C. R. Larson said Johnson was traveling north on the highway when his car skidded out of control backwards and slammed into guard rails and a traffic sign. He reportedly drove away without reporting the mishap. He was later arrested by Troopers D. H. Dymond and W. E. Hubert.

Johnson was not injured, troopers noted.

Gorman Speaks To Ulster Dems

Dr. Gerald P. Gorman, Democratic candidate for State Assembly in the 99th Assembly District, addressed the Town of Ulster Democratic Social Club at the regular June meeting.

In his first appearance since winning the Democratic primary, Dr. Gorman reviewed his qualifications for office and expressed his confidence in winning in November. Dr. Gorman predicted that widespread dissatisfaction with his Republican opponent would make the difference in the election. He welcomed the support of all voters and pledged, if elected, to represent all of Ulster County in Albany.

At the business meeting, presided over by Vice President Victor Nerone, it was decided to substitute a fun raising picnic for the July meeting. Mrs. Robert Stanley and Robert Hayes will serve as co-chairman of the events which will be held July 20.

Town chairman Walter Houle reviewed the primary election and expressed his thanks to the committeemen and the inspectors for their efforts on behalf of the Democratic Party.

Ulster Library Lists New Books

The Town of Ulster Library has announced the addition of several new books to the children's section of the library.

The new books are: Postgate and Firmin, Noggin and the Whale; Mayer, A Boy, A Dog, and A Frog; DuBois, Otto in Africa; Steiner, My Bunny Feels Soft; Fritz, Early Thunder; O'Dell, The Black Pearl; Holman, The Witch on the Corner; Frlis-Bastad, Don't Take Teddy; McClung, Horseshoe Crabs; Little, Sneakers Hill; Tunis, His Enemy, His Friend; Haugaard, The Little Fishes; Whitney, Mystery of the Strange Traveler; Boston, The Sea Egg; Stolz, A Wonderful, Terrible Time; Mays, Dead Reckoning; Snyder, The Egypt Game.

It has also been announced that a "Storytime" for preschoolers through third grade will begin for the summer on Wednesday, July 10 from 9:30-10 a.m. The reading program will be conducted by Mrs. Irving Rose.

Grange News

Plattekill Notes

First and second degrees will be conferred at the Ulster Park Grange Wednesday the Youth Degree Team of the Pleasant Valley Grange.

On Friday evening the third and fourth degrees will be conferred at the Plattekill Grange by the local degree team. These degrees are conferred on a county-wide basis.

It has also been announced that the Ritualistic Inter-County contest planned for Saturday, June 29 at the Highland Grange has been cancelled.

At a recent meeting of the Plattekill Grange, Mrs. Philip Rappalyea directed a program on hobbies with demonstrations by individual members of the Grange. Dorothy Ofree illustrated her hobby as a traveler by showing slides of Canadian scenery.

Man Charged With Stealing Automobile

Arrested in connection with the reported theft of a 1966 car, Robert Regan, 23, of East Orange, N. J., was arraigned Tuesday night before Ellenville Police Judge Ronald Elias on a charge of second degree grand larceny.

Judge Elias appointed Frank Spada as attorney for the accused man and adjourned preliminary examination until Tuesday, July 2 at 7 p. m. In lieu of $5,000 bail Regan was remanded to the county jail.

According to Police Chief Alex Rand, Regan was accused of the theft of a car belonging to Julius Tennenbaum at 3 Linden Street, Ellenville, last Saturday night. The chief said the defendant was apprehended at 1:40 a. m. Sunday by Sergeant Otis Brown, who was on night patrol when he spotted the Tennenbaum car.

Regan, authorities said, has been visiting relatives in the Ellenville area.

Stone Ridge

This Saturday is the date for the Stone Ridge Library Fair, the theme of which will be "Ye Olde Countrie Fair." The fairgrounds will be decorated in large gaily-colored pinwheels.

Charged with leaving the scene of an accident on Route 209 at the intersection of Port Ben Road, Town of Wawarsing, at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jerry Johnson, 19, of 20 Maple Avenue, Ellenville, was arraigned before Town Justice Herbert Weinstoff.

Johnson pleaded guilty and paid a $25 fine, according to troopers at the Ellenville substation.

Trooper C. R. Larson said Johnson was traveling north on the highway when his car skidded out of control backwards and slammed into guard rails and a traffic sign. He reportedly drove away without reporting the mishap. He was later arrested by Troopers D. H. Dymond and W. E. Hubert.

Johnson was not injured, troopers noted.

Gorman Speaks To Ulster Dems

Dr. Gerald P. Gorman, Democratic candidate for State Assembly in the 99th Assembly District, addressed the Town of Ulster Democratic Social Club at the regular June meeting.

In his first appearance since winning the Democratic primary, Dr. Gorman reviewed his qualifications for office and expressed his confidence in winning in November. Dr. Gorman predicted that widespread dissatisfaction with his Republican opponent would make the difference in the election. He welcomed the support of all voters and pledged, if elected, to represent all of Ulster County in Albany.

At the business meeting, presided over by Vice President Victor Nerone, it was decided to substitute a fun raising picnic for the July meeting. Mrs. Robert Stanley and Robert Hayes will serve as co-chairman of the events which will be held July 20.

Town chairman Walter Houle reviewed the primary election and expressed his thanks to the committeemen and the inspectors for their efforts on behalf of the Democratic Party.

Ulster Library Lists New Books

The Town of Ulster Library has announced the addition of several new books to the children's section of the library.

The new books are: Postgate and Firmin, Noggin and the Whale; Mayer, A Boy, A Dog, and A Frog; DuBois, Otto in Africa; Steiner, My Bunny Feels Soft; Fritz, Early Thunder; O'Dell, The Black Pearl; Holman, The Witch on the Corner; Fritz-Bastad, Don't Take Teddy; McClung, Horseshoe Crab; Little, Sneaker Hill; Munk His Enemy, His Friend; Hoagland, The Little Fishes; Whitney, Mystery of the Strange Traveler; Boston, The Sea Egg; Stolz, A Wonderful, Terrible Time; Mays, Dead Reckoning; Snyder, The Egypt Game.

It has also been announced that a "Storytime" for preschoolers through third grade will begin for the summer on Wednesday, July 10 from 9:30-10 a.m. The reading program will be conducted by Mrs. Irvin Rose.

Grange News

Plattekill Notes

First and second degrees will be conferred at the Ulster Park Grange Wednesday by the Youth Degree Team of the Pleasant Valley Grange.

On Friday evening the third and fourth degrees will be conferred at the Plattekill Grange by the local degree team. These degrees are conferred on a county-wide basis.

It has also been announced that the Ritualistic Interclub activity contest planned for Saturday, June 29 at the Highland Grange has been cancelled.

At a recent meeting of the Plattekill Grange, Mrs. Phillip Riggolyea directed a program on hobbies with demonstrations by individual members of the Grange. Dorothy Gillette illustrated her hobby as a traveler by showing slides of Canadian scenery.

Helicopter Makes Upside Down Landing

NEW YORK (AP)—A sightseeing helicopter made an unscheduled landing upside down in the Hudson River Tuesday, but police were able to rescue the five passengers and pilot within minutes.

Six policemen jumped into the river and swam about 100 feet off shore, where they found the passengers, including a five-year-old boy, clinging to the helicopter's pontoons.

"We swam out to the plane and just grabbed somebody," said Patrolman James Confrey, one of the rescuers.

The helicopter, took off shortly after 4 p.m. from the Port Authority Heliport on West 30th Street at the river's edge.

Within a minute, the helicopter struck a concrete abutment at the end of the heliport, flipped over and plunged into the river, with its rotor blades submerged 25 feet and the pontoons floating on the surface.

Two patrolmen on nearby traffic duty heard the crash and rushed to the river. Patrolmen James Crean and Michael Marine ripped off their gunbelts and jumped in.

They were joined by four policemen responding to a radio alarm.

The pilot and passengers were treated for cuts and bruises at St. Clare's Hospital and released.

The pilot, Thomas Minerva, 25, lives in Glendale, Queens. The passengers were identified as Mrs. William Brine, 48, and her son, John, 5, of Woodhaven, Queens; Thomas Sommat, 30, of Astoria, Queens, and Thomas Collins, 34, and Michael Spila Spillane, 34, both of Manhattan.

Eight Traffic Signals Now Operating in Paltz

It took some 10 years, but traffic lights have finally been installed and are now operating at the intersection of Main and Chestnut Streets in the Village of New Paltz.

The eight traffic signals began operating at about 11 a. m. Monday.

According to village officials, the village began communicating with the state about 10 years ago on the need for traffic signals at what is considered a dangerous intersection.

About two years ago Albany officials gave the go-ahead but the village had to follow certain requirements before actual installation could take place, such as the removing of parking meters near the four corners of the intersection and a rerouting of traffic in and out of the Grand Union parking lot.

With the meters-in-question removed, and the entrance and exit to the supermarket's parking lot now bordering only on Main Street, work on the installing of the lights began eight days ago.

The village also made North Front Street one way with the appropriate sign placed outside of Elting Library.

County Share Of Highway Aid Listed

Ulster County will receive $123,622.29 town highway aid and $49,269.90 county highway aid. This is part of the distribution of annual payment for county and town highway purposes announced by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt in Albany on June 20.

Ulster towns will receive the difference between the amount of tax of $1.5 million on actual property valuation and the sum of $150 for each mile in the town, but no less than $75 a mile. Where the levy is less than $1.5 million but equal to the amount of $75 a town highway mile, aid is paid at the $75 a mile rate.

To all other Ulster towns the state aid payment is in the amount equal to the levy. State financial aid for county purposes is allotted on a matching basis—the State matches the county appropriations for construction of improvement of county roads up to $30 a mile. Ulster County's allotment is the 14th largest for town and the ninth largest for county highway aid with a combined total of $172,892.19.

40 Graduates Feted at Dinner

Forty graduates were honored at the annual awards dinner by the Capital District Chapter 131 of the American Savings and Loan Institute at the Skytop Restaurant.

John E. Rupert, executive vice-president of the Broadview Savings and Loan Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and second vice-president of the American Savings and Loan Institute, was guest speaker.

William F. Paulus, mortgage officer and vice-president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association 235 Fair Street, was toastmaster. A past president of the Capital District Chapter No. 131, he introduced the guests, graduates and the instructors.

Real Estate Law graduates were George Berry, George Gardner, Betty Hassa, Henry Jordan, Mary Keane, Frank Matera, Sally Pulver and Guy C. Seligman.

Real Estate Appraising candidates for a degree included Marilyn Arra, George L. Berry, Peter Costa, Frank J. Ferraro, Adam C. Guess, Herman Hoffman, Frank Matera, Mary Lou Milne, Jane K. Murphy, Charles G. Rider, Eugene Rios, Patricia Schaffer and George J. Silkworth.

Receiving certificates in Savings and Loan Principals were Virginia Balz, Barbara Byrne, Grace Capasso, Joan Goff, Marja Hart, Margaret C. Matteson, June Munson, Sandra Newkirk and Julia Palmer.

Guests of honor were William F. Bohrer, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Troy, president of the Capital District of the American Savings and Loan Institute. Frank Gerosa, vice president of the group, from Gloversville Federal Savings and Loan Association; Germain Rondeau, secretary, First Federal Savings and Loan of Troy and Frederick Paulsen, treasurer of Central Savings and Loan Association.

Governors present included Frank C. Matera, Catskill Savings and Loan Association; Alexander J. McKittrick, executive vice-president of First Federal Savings and Loan of Kingston; Joan Goff of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston; Thomas Wiesenforth, Pioneer Building and Loan Association of Troy and Robert Pattinson, Permanent Savings and Loan Association, Albany.

DWI Charge

John T. Callahan, 68, of 18 Joys Lane, was arrested Tuesday night by Kingston police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He submitted to a blood test and the case was set down for hearing before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

Police reports noted that Callahan was driving west on West O'Reilly Street near the railroad trestle when his car struck a 1959 convertible which was parked off the road. The latter car was owned by James H. Fischang of 55 Boulevard. The mishap occurred at 10:30 p. m.

City police issued a total of 19 summonses yesterday for violations of the vehicle and traffic law. They are returnable before Judge Richter.

But It Was No U.S. Insult

Bushy-haired and sallow-faced Joao Ribeiro de Morais, a Brazilian university student, applauded the burning of the American flag but carefully explained later that he meant it as no insult against the American people.

It was, he said, a protest against Brazilian police.

His reasoning ran thus: The American ambassador had presented to Ribeiro de Morais's university a gift of 4,000 books. The presentation touched off an anti-American demonstration among the students. Police then used their clubs on the demonstrators.

And so the students burned the American flag.

Student demonstrations usually take an anti-American turn in Brazil for reasons running all the way from Vietnam to charges that the United States is exploiting unreplaceable Brazilian wealth in minerals and oil. Some seem as far-fetched as the reasoning that led to the flag-burning. Some are sparked by professional agitators.

And so it was a few days ago when a student demonstration against government educational policies turned against the U.S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro and police fired into their ranks with tragic results. At least three persons died, including a policeman.

Today it costs less than a quarter a day to have a phone in your home. And you're getting more for your money than ever before.

40% of the New York State phone calls that you paid long distance charges on ten years ago are now local calls.

The one-time charge for color phones has been cut in half, from $10 to $5.

We're offering Home Econ-O-Call service which can give you a bonus of up to 20% on your phone calls.

Besides all this, you get low night rates on out-of-state calls an hour earlier, at 7 p.m. And these low rates last all weekend long—till 7 a.m. Monday. 60 straight hours. There's also a special midnight-to-7 a.m. rate every night which lets you call anywhere in the country for 75¢ or less, if you dial the call yourself.*

If talk is cheap, blame it on the phone company.

*That's for a three-minute, station-to-station out-of-state call, plus tax, anywhere in the U.S., except Alaska and Hawaii.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

July 4 Celebration, A Gala Two-Day, Fun-Filled Event

The Saugerties annual Fourth of July Celebration, sponsored by the Saugerties Jaycees, begins Wednesday, July 3 at 7 p.m. when a County Mod Night takes place at Cantine Field.

A battle of the bands will be conducted from 7 to 9 and will be followed by country dancing with audience participation. The Lefooters square dance group will perform.

Thursday, the big eleven division parade will step off at 10 a.m. to be followed by a drum corps exhibition at Cantine Field at 11:30.

Miss Ulster County, Miss Janice Johnson, will present trophies and awards to parade participants at 12:15 to be followed by a horse show produced by the Woodstock Riding Club.

The balance of the day's schedule is as follows:

1 p.m., Watermelon eating contest.

1:30 p.m., Kung Fu. The oriental art of self defense will be demonstrated.

1:45 p.m., Model airplanes will perform aerial acrobatics.

2:15, Baby parade with prizes.

2:30, Dog show and dog judging contest with performance by Ulster Dog Training Club.

2:45, Children's penny hunt.

3 p.m., Children's games.

3:30, Air Show, part one, Cole Palen, of Rhinebeck Aerodrome.

4 p.m., Sky diving by the Hudson Valley Sky Divers.

4:45, Air show, part two, re-enactment of a World War I dog fight.

5:15, Pie baking and pie eating contest.

6:15, Jaycee A Go Go for contemporary dancing.

7 p.m., All girl barber shop harmony with the "Sweet Adelines."

7:30, Band concert, a musical panorama, co-sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians, Local 415, Kingston.

9:15, Awarding of 50 prizes.

9:30, Fireworks, sponsored by Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company.

Registration For Swimming This Friday

Registration for children's swimming lessons at Saugerties Bathing Beach will be held Friday, at the beach from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Lessons will begin July 1 and will continue through the month. The beach itself officially opens Saturday with lifeguards on duty for regularly scheduled hours.

The swimming lessons are for children five years of age and older. No fee will be charged. Classes will be taught for beginners, advanced swimmers and a course in life saving will be given.

Clarence Bryden Honored At Farewell Dinner

Clarence Bryden was honored recently at a farewell dinner held at Williams Lake and given by the Malden and Glasco school faculty and staff.

The dinner was arranged by Katherine Warnefeld, chairman of the social committee.

Bryden has been principal of the Malden and Glasco schools since he entered the Saugerties School System in 1965. He will become the principal of the Main Street School in September.

An inscribed loving cup was presented Bryden on which were the words "The World's Greatest" and a poem written by Dorothy Lacey was read.

Benjamin Renaldi, assistant principal at Glasco presented a leather attache case to Bryden following a speech of commendation.

Final Meeting

Rebekahs of the Queen of the Catskill Mountain Lodge 36 held their last meeting of the season with a covered dish supper recently.

A few members of Queen Ulster Lodge 34 attended, including Florence Gippert, Anna Minkler, Mildred Gippert, Jane Bridgeman, Sarah Mack and Dorothy Imhoff.

Fire Company Auxiliary to Meet

The Centerville Fire Company Auxiliary will hold its annual picnic June 30, at the Cedar Grove Picnic Grounds in Athens.

The auxiliary extends an invitation to all members and their families and all firemen and their families.

Everybody will meet at the Centerville Firehouse at 10 a.m. and proceed to the picnic grounds. Eating time is 12:30.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring a covered dish, their own meat and place setting. Watermelons and soda will be furnished by the auxiliary.

Katherine Helm New Chairlady

Katherine Helm, newly elected chairwoman of the Centerville Homemakers Club presided at the final season meeting of the group recently.

Past chairwoman Margaret McColl recognized her past officers and presented them a gift.

New tables will be sought in the fall when the club resumes its meetings after a summer recess.

The sunshine committee for the coming year will include Lillian Compitello and Margaret Marburger.

Pin cushion hats and decorated soap bars were displayed by Ann Kalencheck.

Thirty-six members and guests attended the recent dinner meeting held at Leherbs Restaurant.

HISTORIC AWARD — Lawrence J. Zollar, (L), assistant superintendent New York City National Park Service Group presents special award to Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz at the recent annual luncheon meeting of the society. The award was granted the Jean Hasbrouck Memorial House which is the only house of its type and age still standing in the country. It is a fine example of Flemish architecture and has not been altered since it was built in 1694-1712. The entire Huguenot Street of stone houses was designated as National Historic Site several years ago. The special award to the Memorial House will be marked by a bronze plaque on the exterior.

HIGH FALLS NEWS

HIGH FALLS — Brownie Troop 57 concluded the season with a picnic at the home of troop member Susan Rappolt recently. Mrs. James Feth and Mrs. Huyler Van Wagenen, leaders and Troop Committee mother, Mrs. Eugene Gross assisted in the arrangements. Mrs. Gross will be leader next year.

Brownies attending were Patti Gross, Carol Royce, Wanda Visconti, Susan LaFera, Susan Albany, Susan Bowden, Susan Feth, Susan Rappelt, Linda vanLaer, Robin VanDemark, Laura Shifer, Roxanne VanWagenen, Liza MaCardle, Caroline Burr, and Barbara Coddington.

Mr. and Mrs. Willam Dalton entertained at a cookout at their home Saturday afternoon in honor of their son, Michael Jasinski who graduated from St. Peter's School in Rosendale this week. He finished second highest in his class. Next year he will attend the John A. Coleman High School, Kingston. Over 100 guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hornbeck and family were in Ellenville Sunday afternoon attending Open House honoring Nancy Haener, a graduate of Ellenville High School this week. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Haener Jr. and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiana of Kripplebush.

Earl Stokes is a patient in the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen visited Mrs. Jansen's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Page of Susquehanna, Pa. over the weekend. They were dinner guests Saturday evening of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Waters of Dallas, Pa.

The final session of the season of the High Falls Church School will be held Sunday at 8:45 a.m. The school will open again in September.

Church services will be held at 10 a.m. with the summer pastor, John Arnone in charge. The Arnones live in High Falls Park.

Speech Correction

There are still openings in the speech correction course being offered every Thursday and Monday at St. Joseph's School, 236 Wall Street.

The course started this past Monday and will continue through Aug. 1 at 10:30 a.m. The instructor is A. Edmund Turner, MS, speech correctionist of Queens Village.

Those wishing to enroll may register 11:30 a.m. this Thursday.

State Lists Plans for 9W

The New York State Department of Transportation will rebuild 0.6 of a mile of Route 9W in the Town of Marlborough, State Transportation Commissioner J. Burch McMorran announced recently.

The proposal is to reconstruct Route 9W in the area of Rusoff's Hill, a mile north of the community of Marlboro. The highway improvement would ease the present steep grade, eliminate the sharp curve, and provide a climbing lane for slow traffic.

Any citizen who wishes a public hearing on the project and its economic effects should make a written request on or before Monday, July 8 to the District Engineer, State Department of Transportation, 28 Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie.

If a public hearing is scheduled, the date will be announced.

Slight Error

NEW DELHI (AP) — India has steadfastly maintained during its 20-year duel with Pakistan over Kashmir state that Kashmir is an integral part of India.

Thus an embarrassed parliament, informed that the Kashmir Trade Agent in Bombay was listed in the telephone directory under foreign trade commissioners, quickly ordered the directory to be amended.

2:45, Children's penny hunt.

3 p.m., Children's games.

3:30, Air Show, part one, Cole Palen, of Rhinebeck Aerodrome.

4 p.m., Sky diving by the Hudson Valley Sky Divers.

4:45, Air show, part two, re-enactment of a World War I dog fight.

5:15, Pie baking and pie eating contest.

5:45, Emergency first aid demonstration.

6:15, Jaycee A Go Go for contemporary dancing.

7 p.m., All girl barber shop harmony with the "Sweet Adelines."

7:30, Band concert, a musical panorama, co-sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians, Local 415, Kingston.

9:15, Awarding of 50 prizes.

9:30, Fireworks, sponsored by Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company.

Registration For Swimming This Friday

Registration for children's swimming lessons at Saugerties Bathing Beach will be held Friday, at the beach from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Lessons will begin July 1 and will continue through the month. The beach itself officially opens Saturday with lifeguards on duty for regularly scheduled hours.

The swimming lessons are for children five years of age and older. No fee will be charged. Classes will be taught for beginners, advanced swimmers and a course in life saving will be given.

Clarence Bryden Honored At Farewell Dinner

Clarence Bryden was honored recently at a farewell dinner held at Williams Lake and given by the Malden and Glasco school faculty and staff.

The dinner was arranged by Katherine Warnefeld, chairman of the social committee.

Bryden has been principal of the Malden and Glasco schools since he entered the Saugerties School System in 1965. He will become the principal of the Main Street School in September.

An inscribed loving cup was presented Bryden on which were the words "The World's Greatest" and a poem written by Dorothy Lacey was read.

Benjamin Renaldi, assistant principal at Glasco presented a leather attache case to Bryden following a speech of commendation.

Final Meeting

Rebekahs of the Queen of the Catskill Mountain Lodge 36 held their last meeting of the season with a covered dish supper recently.

A few members of Queen Ulster Lodge 34 attended, including Florence Gippert, Anna Minkler, Mildred Gippert, Jane Bridgeman, Sarah Mack and Dorothy Imhoff.

Fire Company Auxiliary to Meet

The Centerville Fire Company Auxiliary will hold its annual picnic June 30, at the Cedar Grove Picnic Grounds in Athens.

The auxiliary extends an invitation to all members and their families and all firemen and their families.

Everybody will meet at the Centerville Firehouse at 10 a.m. and proceed to the picnic grounds. Eating time is 12:30.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring a covered dish, their own meat and place setting. Watermelons and soda will be furnished by the auxiliary.

Katherine Helm New Chairlady

Katherine Helm, newly elected chairwoman of the Centerville Homemakers Club presided at the final season meeting of the group recently.

Past chairwoman Margaret McColl recognized her past officers and presented them a gift.

New tables will be sought in the fall when the club resumes its meetings after a summer recess.

The sunshine committee for the coming year will include Lillian Compitello and Margaret Marburger.

Pin cushion hats and decorated soap bars were displayed by Ann Kalencheck.

Thirty-six members and guests attended the recent dinner meeting held at Leherbs Restaurant.

HISTORIC AWARD — Lawrence J. Zollar, (L), assistant superintendent New York City National Park Service Group presents special award to Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz at the recent annual luncheon meeting of the society. The award was granted the Jean Hasbrouck Memorial House which is the only house of its type and age still standing in the country. It is a fine example of Flemish architecture and has not been altered since it was built in 1694-1712. The entire Huguenot Street of stone houses was designated as National Historic Site several years ago. The special award to the Memorial House will be marked by a bronze plaque on the exterior.

HIGH FALLS NEWS

HIGH FALLS — Brownie Troop 57 concluded the season with a picnic at the home of troop member Susan Rappolt recently. Mrs. James Feth and Mrs. Huyler Van Wagenen leaders and Troop Committee mother, Mrs. Eugene Gross assisted in the arrangements. Mrs. Gross will be leader next year.

Brownies attending were Patti Gross, Carol Royce, Wanda Visconti, Susan LaFera, Susan Albany, Susan Bowden, Susan Feth, Susan Rappelt, Linda vanLaer, Robin VanDemark, Laura Shifer, Roxanne VanWagenen, Liza MaCardle, Caroline Burr, and Barbara Coddington.

Mr. and Mrs. Willam Dalton entertained at a cookout at their home Saturday afternoon in honor of their son, Michael Jasinski who graduated from St. Peter's School in Rosendale this week. He finished second highest in his class. Next year he will attend the John A. Coleman High School, Kingston. Over 100 guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hornbeck and family were in Ellenville Sunday afternoon attending Open House honoring Nancy Haener, a graduate of Ellenville High School this week. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Haener Jr. and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiana of Kripplebush.

Earl Stokes is a patient in the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen visited Mrs. Jansen's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Page of Susquehanna, Pa. over the weekend. They were dinner guests Saturday evening of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Waters of Dallas, Pa.

The final session of the season of the High Falls Church School will be held Sunday at 8:45 a.m. The school will open again in September.

Church services will be held at 10 a.m. with the summer pastor, John Arnone in charge. The Arnones live in High Falls Park.

Speech Correction

There are still openings in the speech correction course being offered every Thursday and Monday at St. Joseph's School, 236 Wall Street.

The course started this past Monday and will continue through Aug. 1 at 10:30 a.m. The instructor is A. Edmund Turner, MS, speech correctionist of Queens Village.

Those wishing to enroll may register 11:30 a.m. this Thursday.

State Lists Plans for 9W

The New York State Department of Transportation will rebuild 0.6 of a mile of Route 9W in the Town of Marlborough, State Transportation Commissioner J. Burch McMorran announced recently.

The proposal is to reconstruct Route 9W in the area of Rusoff's Hill, a mile north of the community of Marlboro. The highway improvement would ease the present steep grade, eliminate the sharp curve, and provide a climbing lane for slow traffic.

Any citizen who wishes a public hearing on the project and its economic effects should make a written request on or before Monday, July 8 to the District Engineer, State Department of Transportation, 28 Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie.

If a public hearing is scheduled, the date will be announced.

Slight Error

NEW DELHI (AP) — India has steadfastly maintained during its 20-year duel with Pakistan over Kashmir state that Kashmir is an integral part of India.

Thus an embarrassed parliament, informed that the Kashmir Trade Agent in Bombay was listed in the telephone directory under foreign trade commissioners, quickly ordered the directory to be amended.

Heart Will Set Up Transplant Guides

A thorough investigation will be launched by the American Heart Association into the scientific, legal and ethical problems resulting from human heart transplantation in order to develop detailed guidelines for the medical profession and the public. The study was proposed by the newly-named Committee on Ethics of the Association. Approval of the Ethics Committee's study recommendation was announced today by Dr. Lewis E. January, Chairman of the Association's Committee for Medical and Community Program.

The areas to be investigated with the assistance of the appropriate scientific councils and committees of the American Heart Association will include the following:

Establishment of criteria for death and the rights of the heart donor.

Formulation of criteria for selection or a heart recipient.

Development of technical guidelines for institutions and surgical teams planning human heart transplantation.

Identification of potential donors and the establishment of organ registries.

Development of appropriate legal safeguards to protect the donor, recipient and physician and determination as to whether legislation is required and, if so, whether state or federal legislation would be more appropriate.

Analysis of development and treatment costs of artificial heart transplant programs and recommendations for national financial commitments in future years.

Guidelines for continuous education of the public in interpreting the limitations as well as the potential of heart transplantation.

In announcing acceptance of the recommendations, Dr. January said the mechanism for conducting the broad - scale study is now being set up and the Ethics Committee plans to meet again in the fall to review the reports of the study groups.

The Ethics Committee recommended that the "enormous capabilities" of the American Heart Association's scientific members as well as the "talents of its lay members distinguished in the fields of theology, philosophy and the law" be utilized in dealing with the unique problems raised by heart transplantation, the solution of which was said to be "of greatest concern to the association and the public." In view of the widespread interest in the subject among many scientific, governmental and other organizations, the Ethics Committee also urged that the AHA participate in joint discussions with other groups where appropriate.

In its report, the Ethics Committee agreed that the patient selected as a heart recipient "must be in a hopeless state after all other forms of reasonably indicated therapy have failed." Although heart transplantation is at present "not an established or predictable form of therapy," the report added, "a limited number of therapeutic trials are justified on the basis of our current knowledge when qualified scientific judgment indicates they offer a patient the only alternative for life."

Introduction of any new techniques in cardiac surgery is invariably associated with a high initial mortality, the Committee noted, cautioning that "only a few of these hopelessly ill patients may be saved even under ideal conditions."

Middletown Bus Slated This Sunday

The special bus sponsored by the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, which runs once a month between the Kingston-New Paltz area and Middletown State Hospital, will run this month on Sunday, June 30.

The bus is run for the convenience of persons wishing to visit patients at the hosiptal. Maintaining contact with relatives and friends is generally a very important factor in the recovery of someone suffering from a mental illness.

The bus leaves from the front of the Park Diner in Kingston at 11:45 a.m. and returns at about 5:30 p.m. It stops at The Elms in oRsendale at noon, and at the Grand Union, Chestnut Street in New Paltz at 12:10 p.m. It is also possible for it to stop at other points en route if a request is made in advance to the office of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston. The office is open between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Information may also be obtained in Saugerties from Mrs. Edwin C. Shults, and in New Paltz from Mrs. Albert S. Kerr.

Key Amendments Defeated by House

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of major social programs face the formidable task of overcoming demands that economy measures must come at their expense and not from defense spending.

Amendments before the House today called for the restoration of at least part of $609 million cut from education programs and the $307 million slashed from antipoverty projects.

The funds were part of $1.17 billion pared by the House Appropriations Committee from a $17-billion money bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments, and related agencies including the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"If anyone thinks we are going to capitulate to communism or to forces that would destroy us and cut the defense budget accordingly, they have another thing coming," Appropriations Chairman George D. Mahon, D-Tex., said Tuesday.

Mahon spoke before the House defeated two amendments that would have increased allocations. One, to add $5 million for improving the education of non-English speaking U.S. children —mainly Indians, Puerto Ricans and youngsters of Mexican descent—lost by only one vote, 96 to 95.

During debate, supporters of social programs charged that the economy mandate voted by Congress last week in connection with the 10 per cent income surtax is being applied largely against these programs.

The tax-spending bill requires a $6-billion cut in outlays under budget estimates for the year beginning July 1.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said the Johnson administration will have to withhold even more funds that the committee cut to meet its $6 billion over-all reduction requirement.

Mahon rejected a suggestion that the defense budget be cut in proportion to the social programs, for a $5 billion saving.

Mahon said he "stoutly repudiated" claims he promised that social programs would not be touched at all.

"I said we would have to make cuts all down the line," he said.

Losing Cause

DENVER (UPI)—Drunk-driving defendant Lowell J. Conway told County Judge John Sanchez he drank "a few beers" before coming to court Wednesday because he was so nervous.

Now Conway will have to make two more appearances in court. His drunk-driving case was continued and Sanchez ordered him to appear on another charge of being drunk in a public place—the courtroom.

Middletown Bus Slated This Sunday

The special bus sponsored by the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, which runs once a month between the Kingston-New Paltz area and Middletown State Hospital, will run this month on Sunday, June 30.

The bus is run for the convenience of persons wishing to visit patients at the hospital. Maintaining contact with relatives and friends is generally a very important factor in the recovery of someone suffering from a mental illness.

The bus leaves from the front of the Park Diner in Kingston at 11:45 a.m. and returns at about 5:30 p.m. It stops at The Elms in oRsendale at noon, and at the Grand Union, Chestnut Street in New Paltz at 12:10 p.m. It is also possible for it to stop at other points en route if a request is made in advance to the office of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston. The office is open between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Information may also be obtained in Saugerties from Mrs. Edwin C. Shults, and in New Paltz from Mrs. Albert S. Kerr.

Key Amendments Defeated by House

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of major social programs face the formidable task of overcoming demands that economy measures must come at their expense and not from defense spending.

Amendments before the House today called for the restoration of at least part of $609 million cut from education programs and the $307 million slashed from antipoverty projects.

The funds were part of $1.17 billion pared by the House Appropriations Committee from a $17-billion money bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments, and related agencies including the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"If anyone thinks we are going to capitulate to communism or to forces that would destroy us and cut the defense budget accordingly, they have another thing coming," Appropriations Chairman George D. Mahon, D-Tex., said Tuesday.

Mahon spoke before the House defeated two amendments that would have increased allocations. One, to add $5 million for improving the education of non-English speaking U.S. children —mainly Indians, Puerto Ricans and youngsters of Mexican descent—lost by only one vote, 96 to 95.

During debate, supporters of social programs charged that the economy mandate voted by Congress last week in connection with the 10 per cent income surtax is being applied largely against these programs.

The tax-spending bill requires a $6-billion cut in outlays under budget estimates for the year beginning July 1.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said the Johnson administration will have to withhold even more funds that the committee cut to meet its $6 billion over-all reduction requirement.

Mahon rejected a suggestion that the defense budget be cut in proportion to the social programs, for a $5 billion saving.

Mahon said he "stoutly repudiated" claims he promised that social programs would not be touched at all.

"I said we would have to make cuts all down the line," he said.

Losing Cause

DENVER (UPI)—Drunk-driving defendant Lowell J. Conway told County Judge John Sanchez he drank "a few beers" before coming to court Wednesday because he was so nervous.

Now Conway will have to make two more appearances in court. His drunk-driving case was continued and Sanchez ordered him to appear on another charge of being drunk in a public place—the courtroom.

Country Prepares for 192nd Independence Day Celebration

By AP NEWSFEATURES

As the country prepares to observe Independence Day for the 192nd time, planning is already well under way for a monumental birthday celebration eight years hence, on the United States' 200th anniversary.

Not only will the July 4 date be fittingly noted in 1976, but the American Bicentennial Celebration will be spread over a period of years and will commemorate numerous events that led to the founding of the country and its development over the following two centuries.

Congress has designated the period from 1975 to 1983 as the time for the observance of the 200th birthday of the United States and has established a national American Revolution Bicentennial Commission to coordinate activities. Carlisle H. Humelsine, president of Colonial Williamsburg, has been appointed chairman of the 25-member group which includes senators, representatives and men and women from private life.

Will Submit Recommendations

The National Park Service, which controls most of the major 18th century historic sites, is already studying suitable ways for marking the event and will submit its recommendations to the commission.

In the original 13 colonies, and especially in historical centers such as Boston and Philadelphia, bicentennial planning groups have been formed. Both of these cities have proposed expositions to be held in 1976, but the earliest the Bureau of International Expositions can officially approve an International Exposition for that year is mid-1970.

Citizens' committees were organized as early as 1962 in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was drawn up, to begin mapping that city's contribution to the national celebration. These committees were merged into the Philadelphia 1976 Bicentennial Corporation for the purpose of developing proposals for consideration by the national commission.

The Whitechapel Bell Foundry in London, where the original Liberty Bell was cast in 1752, is at work on 2,400 one-fifth size replicas it will produce to commemorate the occasion. Made of bronze, just like the original they will be offered for sale in this country for $756 each to historical societies, patriotic groups and other "appropriate purchasers."

In Massachusetts, where rebellion against the Crown flared more than a decade before the Revolutionary War, commemorative activity is already in progress. During the years 1765 to 1775, that state, and especially Boston, witnessed a series of events that revealed the growing tensions between the colony and the mother country—including the Stamp Act crisis, the Boston Massacre and the Boston Tea Party.

The Revolutionary War Bicentennial Commission, created by the Massachusetts Legislature in 1964, is now engaged in publication of factual material for use in schools of the Commonwealth. The publications are also being distributed to historical societies and libraries throughout the state, to public and university libraries in other states and abroad and to interested individuals.

Exhibition Proposed

For the year 1976 an exhibition has been proposed for Boston Harbor, utilizing existing land and land to be created, for a total of approximately 700 acres.

The towns of Concord and Lexington are making plans for the greatest celebration since the centennial of 1876, when President Grant took part in observances.

Starting last year, Minute Men units from surrounding towns have been putting on military drills and displays of musketry at Minute Man National Historical Park each Sunday during the summer.

A collection of "Eyewitness Accounts of the American Revolution," reprints of rare books that have long been out of print, was published this spring by the New York Times and Arno Press Inc. The 30 works in 34 volumes include accounts of prison life during the period and detailed descriptions of famous battles told by those who fought in them.

Sahloff, Quick Awarded Medals

Two Kingston Air Force sergeants, Roger W. Sahloff and Clifton G. Quick, have been cited by their respective Air Force units.

Quick, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton B. Quick of 81 Harwich Street, has been named the outstanding supply man of the quarter in his unit at Myrtle Beach AFB, S.C.

Sahloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sahloff of 143 Third Avenue, is a member of a unit that has earned the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sergeant Quick, a supply inventory specialist, was selected for his leadership and performance.

A graduate of Kingston High School, the sergeant attended Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., where he earned a BA degree in 1966. He is married to the former Eileen M. Steltz.

Sergeant Sahloff, a jet aircraft mechanic in the 49th Tactical Fighter Wing at Spangdahlem AB, Germany, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

His unit was cited for outstanding achievement in maintaining its combat readiness while converting from the use of the F-105 Thunderchief to the newer F-4 Phantom. The three fighter squadrons of the wing flew 10,954 missions without an accident or incident during the complex transition. The sergeant is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Saari Decorated In Viet Combat

Army Sp/4 John C. Saari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Saari of Ulster Park, has been awarded the Army Air Medal and the Army Air Medal with oak leaf cluster for service in Vietnam.

Saari won the air medal for "meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight" during a period from Nov. 1, 1967 to Jan. 14, 1968. He earned the oak leaf cluster for achievement from Jan. 15 to Feb. 4, 1968.

Saari, who is due home from Vietnam in August, is a 1964 graduate of Kingston High School and attended Ulster County Community College for two years.

He entered the service in Nov., 1966, took basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. and radio and teletype training at Fort Gordon, Ga. He went to Vietnam last August.

Joseph O'Brien

Fireman Apprentice Joseph J. O'Brien, USN, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. O'Brien of First Street, Connelly, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS America.

His ship is operating as a part of the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Robert Whiston

Second Lieutenant Robert S. Whiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiston of 135 Linderman Avenue, has been graduated at Tyndall AFB, Fla., from the course for U.S. Air Force weapons controllers.

Lt. Whiston was trained to direct operation and maintenance of ground search and height finding radars.

The lieutenant, a graduate of Kingston High School, received an AB degree from Hamilton College and is a member of Chi Psi.

He was commissioned in 1968 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

WILLIAM BENDELL

Army Flyer

Warrant Officer William H. Bendell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bendell, Route 209, Kerhonkson, received the silver wings of an Army aviator and was appointed a warrant officer June 4 upon graduation from the Army Aviation School at Hunter Army Airfield near Savannah, Ga.

During the 16-week course, he was taught various fire techniques and tactical maneuvers for helicopters supporting ground troops in combat. He also received instruction in helicopter maintenance and survival techniques.

Thomas Radiola

Army Private First Class Thomas A. Radiola, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Radiola, 22 Niles Drive, was assigned June 4 as an automotive maintenance apprentice to Headquarters and Company A of the 4th Infantry Division's 704th Maintenance Battalion near Pleiku, Vietnam.

Henry Schoppmann

Army Private First Class Henry C. Schoppmann, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoppmann, Route 1, Wallkill, was assigned June 5 to Battery B, 6th Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division's 15th Artillery near Lai Khe, Vietnam, as an artilleryman.

Dietrich Wins Navy Medal For News Work in Pacific

Navy Master Chief Journalist Robert W. Dietrich, 38, son of Mrs. Helen G. Dietrich of Wawarsing, was awarded the Navy Achievement Medal recently for outstanding work as a news correspondent covering Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force operations.

Chief Dietrich was cited by the secretary of the navy for achievement in news and feature reporting throughout 1967. He is currently attached to Amphibious Force headquarters at Coronado, Calif.

The chief, who retires from early 20 years' active naval service next month, has gone to all seven continents on Navy news assignments.

He covered the first three "Deep Freeze" expeditions to the Antarctic in 1954-57; during the second expedition he served as press aide to the late Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd.

Other assignments took him throughout Western Europe and to North Africa, South America, Australia, New Zealand, Asia and North Polar regions.

He volunteered for duty in Vietnam in early 1965 and was assigned to U.S. Navy Support Headquarters in Saigon. He was cited by the Commander in Chief, U.S. Pacific Fleet, for his news and feature reporting of U.S. Navy operations during the 1965-66 escalation of the Vietnam war.

Thomas Lucas

Communications Yeoman Third Class Thomas J. Lucas, USN, 21, son of Mrs. Dolita Lucas of 120 Hunter Street, is serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Piedmont in the Western Pacific.

His ship, homeported at San Diego, provides repair facilities and services to the ships of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

Chief Robert T. T. Dietrich

County Crops and Elm Trees Suffer

By JON POWERS

The heavy rainfall that has deluged Ulster County during June has caused more harm than good, according to William Palmer of the Ulster County Agricultural Extension Service.

Palmer reported that crops throughout the county are suffering, not only from the heavy rains, but also from its inevitable by-product — the lack of sunshine. County fruit growers are experiencing a phenomenon known as "June drop," and it may result in one of the lowest crop yields in years. "June drop," a term used to describe the premature falling of fruit from their limbs, occurs when the foliage is unable to manufacture its own food because of the lack of sunshine.

The "peel crops" (Sweet corn, wheat etc.) have also been affected by the heavy rainfall. Palmer said that if the excessive rainfall continues, many of the fields will not mature and the farmers will be unable to plant their late-summer and fall crops.

Strawberry and cherry growers in the county are experiencing similar difficulties. The high moisture content has prevented the growers from removing fungicides from the plants and they are, as a result, unable to breathe. But Palmer reported that the most extensive damage to the strawberry crop came as a result of the late spring frost. Even if weather conditions in June had been favorable, it is doubtful that there would have been a good strawberry crop this summer.

Elm trees in the county also have suffered extensive damage this year, but not directly as a result of the heavy rain. The trees are reportedly suffering from Dutch Elm Disease, carried by the Elm Bark Beetle. Palmer said that the only way to prevent the spread of the disease is to kill the insects. He said that private individuals have attempted to save their trees through spraying but that the only positive cure would be the initiation of a community-wide spraying program.

LEADER OF YEAR — Mrs. Andrew Juhl of Ulster Hurley Neighborhood and Mrs. Marvin Savatgy, Kingston Neighborhood, receive 1968 Girl Scout Leader of the Year Awards from last year's winner, Mrs. Leo Notari, (R). Viet Bridge Costs: Nine Lives, Sweat

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PHU CUONG, Vietnam AP — The bridge cost nine lives and nine months' sweat. The American engineers built it to last although everyone knows it's the biggest target for miles around.

The site is on the main Viet Cong infiltration route to Saigon just 18 miles to the south.

To put a 1,000-foot concrete and steel bridge across the Saigon River at this point was obviously a gamble — but a gamble that the U.S. Command figured would pay off in many ways.

It is practically finished now and the freckle-faced and suntanned first lieutenant in charge, Bruce Adams, 24, East Bloomfield, N.Y., admits "If this bridge is ever blown up, I'll be heartsick."

To protect his bridge, Adams led an infantry assault last February when the Viet Cong almost captured the South Vietnamese post commanding the northern anchor of the span. His pickup platoon of about 25 men included cooks and anybody who could be hastily assembled. One was ruddy - faced Sgt. Harold Murphy, 21, a welder from Norfork, Va., who was supposed to go on leave that morning.

"Engineers are fighters too," Murphy recalls, "but I'll tell you, I didn't think I was going to make it home for a while."

Two engineers were killed and five wounded but the rest were back at work the next day.

"We're sort of proud of that bridge," said S.Sgt. Richard Turoczy, Grafton, West Va., at 34 a relative old - timer. "These kids have learned to do everything."

There are about 30,000 Army engineers in Vietnam. Their jobs are frequently unglamorous, so a big bridge is a welcome assignment.

This one is the biggest permanent span built by Army engineers in Vietnam.

Apart from the Viet Cong, the bridge was a technical challenge. There is no bedrock foundation in the ancient delta. More than six miles of piling was put in and the bridge sort of floats on the mucky soil.

To complicate the job, delta tides shift as much as 10 feet daily and the temperature tops 100 most of the day.

To guard against frogmen trying to blow the bridge, special protection has been built around the pilings and other precautions have been taken. Massive bunkers at both ends guard against ground attacks.

The span will save the Army thousands of dollars daily—and save countless Army truck drivers lots of sleep. It enables trucks from the big supply bases east of Saigon to bypass the capital on the way to U.S. installations north and west of the city. Drivers who used to get up at 3:30 a.m. for the daily convoys will soon be able to luxuriate in bed until, say, 6:30 a.m.

County Crops and Elm Trees Suffer

By JON POWERS

The heavy rainfall that has deluged Ulster County during June has caused more harm than good, according to William Palmer of the Ulster County Agricultural Extension Service.

Palmer reported that crops throughout the county are suffering, not only from the heavy rains, but also from its inevitable by-product — the lack of sunshine. County fruit growers are experiencing a phenomenon known as "June drop," and it may result in one of the lowest crop yields in years. "June drop," a term used to describe the premature falling of fruit from their limbs, occurs when the foliage is unable to manufacture its own food because of the lack of sunshine.

The "peel crops" (Sweet corn, wheat etc.) have also been affected by the heavy rainfall. Palmer said that if the excessive rainfall continues, many of the fields will not mature and the farmers will be unable to plant their late-summer and fall crops.

Strawberry and cherry growers in the county are experiencing similar difficulties. The high moisture content has prevented the growers from removing fungicides from the plants and they are, as a result, unable to breathe. But Palmer reported that the most extensive damage to the strawberry crop came as a result of the late spring frost. Even if weather conditions in June had been favorable, it is doubtful that there would have been a good strawberry crop this summer.

Elm trees in the county also have suffered extensive damage this year, but not directly as a result of the heavy rain. The trees are reportedly suffering from Dutch Elm Disease, carried by the Elm Bark Beetle. Palmer said that the only way to prevent the spread of the disease is to kill the insects. He said that private individuals have attempted to save their trees through spraying but that the only positive cure would be the initiation of a community-wide spraying program.

REAL REUNION — At the 60th annual reunion of the PVP Girls Club of the original Ulster Academy, officials of the new Ulster Academy were guests. Raymond A. Nelson, (L), headmaster of the new school presents catalogue to Mrs. Mary C. Doremus, mathematics teacher at the original school. Looking on are Mrs. John B. Sterley, chairman of the reunion luncheon and George Hutton, president of the board of trustees of the new academy. Festivities were held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

The PVP, a literary organization founded in 1908 by girl students at the original Ulster Academy, held its 60th annual reunion at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently, under the chairmanship of Mrs. John B. Sterley.

To mark the event, the ladies of the original Academy whose graduating class was 1915, the year the Kingston public high school was built, invited as their guests the Headmaster and President of the Board of Trustees of the new Ulster Academy which will open in 1968 and whose first graduating class will be 1971. In addition to the guests, the luncheon honored Mrs. Mary C. Doremus, a teacher of mathematics at the original Academy and now, at 88, its last surviving faculty member.

Mrs. Doremus still energetic and enthusiastic, recalled that the first Academy was also known as the Canalers School because so many of its students were the children of captains, owners, hands, and workers on the old canal and riverboats which built the fortunes of Kingston in the decades of the late 19th century. Mrs. Doremus recalled also that the Ulster Academy building, later the No .2 school and then the first home for the Ulster County Community College, was built on Academy Hill in 1870 and enlarged in 1886. The original Academy which was at the turn of the century the largest school in the county had a student body of 900 and a faculty of 21. Mrs. Doremus recalled her salary of $720 a year in 1909, but indicated that mathematics had not changed over the years as much as the economy. Her comments on the new math, she said, "were not suitable for print." But she seemed to have kept remarkably well abreast of developments, not only in education, but in the world affairs.

The ladies in attendance numbering 25 came from Kingston, other areas in New York and throughout the East, and in one case from California. They heard news of old friends, unable for various reasons to attend this year's reunion, and they listened with great interest to George V.D. Hutton and Raymond A. Nelson, president and headmaster respectively for the new Academy explain the founding and educational philosophy and program of the new school which will open in the fall.

At the conclusion of Mr. Nelson's remarks Mrs. Doremus moved that the members of the PVP (Pro Viriles Partes) formally wish the new Academy "the same spirit of loyalty, interest and continuance that the old school had."

Spada Hears Lorenzo Speak At Convention

Ulster County Clerk Albert Spada, attending the annual convention of the County Clerk's Association at the Nevele Country Club, Ellenville, heard Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo call for a new national miracle last night.

Lomenzo asked for the elimination of all prejudices—many of which know no color line—to achieve the miracle.

"None of us can be naive enough to believe that prejudice exists only among people of different colors, "he said.

"There is prejudice among white people, there is prejudice among black people and there is prejudice among people of different national origins and different strata of society.

These are days of decrying all that is bad when they should be days of vision and re-assessment of our destiny."

He said he felt a stubborn resistance remains among too many human beings to become at least tolerant of each other's personal dignity.

"If we remain apathetic, we will continue to have slums, we will continue to have poverty and we will continue to have violence and crime."

Mayor on the Move

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP)— Clyde Reynolds, a lumber dealer, has been elected to a third term as mayor—all in different Wyoming towns.

Swimming, Lifesaving Courses

The Red Cross senior lifesaving course aims to provide the individual with the knowledge and skills designed to save his own life or the life of another in the event of an emergency.

Paltz Burglary Under Probe

New Paltz village police and state troopers are investigating a burglary that took place in the village early Monday morning.

Fred's Shoe Repair, both firms

Victimized were Western Auto Supply Company and located at the intersection of Main Street and Route 28.

In entering Western Auto, burglars climbed up a tree and broke through a rear window. One of the thieves evidently cut his hand, however, because drops of blood were found on the floor of the establishment.

According to village police officer Nicholas Pape, four radio sets were taken from the auto supply store.

It could not be immediately ascertained what was taken from the shoe repair shop.

Elected to Y Office

RALPH STEWART

At the recent state YMCA convention in Utica, Ralph Stewart, of Boulder Avenue, immediate past president of the Kingston-Ulster County YMCA, was elected as a member-at-large to the State Executive Committee of the YMCA.

Stewart, an engineer with the New York Telephone Company, was a three-time president of the YMCA, and is still very active in the local affairs. He was informed of his election by State YMCA official Howard Shinn, and will shortly attend his first state meeting in New York City.

His election is for one year. In announcing his election, Paul Coon, current YMCA president, indicated the great pride the local association takes in the choice of Mr. Stewart.

"This reflects," Coon said, "our vital concern with spreading our opinions throughout the state, as well as being receptive to successful 'Y' techniques used in other associations." The Kingston-Ulster County YMCA is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Civil Service To Give Exam For Operator

The Ulster County Civil Service Commission, announces a competitive examination for a telephone operator in Ulster County.

The last date for filing applications is Aug. 16, and the examination date is Sept 21. The list resulting from this examination will also be used for appointment to appropriate vacancies in all Ulster County offices or departments.

Candidates must have been legal residents of Ulster County for at least four months preceding the examination date and must have either three months experience as a telephone switchboard operator and completion of a standard high school course or a satisfactory equivalent combination of training and experience. Duties are to operate a telephone switchboard and to do related work as required.

Salaries range from $3720 to $4784. Applications may be secured from the Ulster County Civil Service Commission.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 26, 1968 TWENTY-FIVE

REAL REUNION — At the 60th annual reunion of the PVP Girls Club of the original Ulster Academy, officials of the new Ulster Academy were guests. Raymond A. Nelson, (L), headmaster of the new school presents catalogue to Mrs. Mary C. Doremus, mathematics teacher at the original school. Looking on are Mrs. John B. Sterley, chairman of the reunion luncheon and George Hutton, president of the board of trustees of the new academy. Festivities were held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Ulster Academy—1909 and 1968: A Meeting of the Old and the New

The PVP, a literary organization founded in 1908 by girl students at the original Ulster Academy, held its 60th annual reunion at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently, under the chairmanship of Mrs. John B. Sterley.

To mark the event, the ladies of the original Academy whose graduating class was 1915, the year the Kingston public high school was built, invited as their guests the Headmaster and President of the Board of Trustees of the new Ulster Academy which will open in 1968 and whose first graduating class will be 1971. In addition to the guests, the luncheon honored Mrs. Mary C. Doremus, a teacher of mathematics at the original Academy and now, at 88, its last surviving faculty member.

Mrs. Doremus still energetic and enthusiastic, recalled that the first Academy was also known as the Canalers School because so many of its students were the children of captains, owners, hands, and workers on the old canal and riverboats which built the fortunes of Kingston in the decades of the late 19th century. Mrs. Doremus recalled also that the Ulster Academy building, later the No .2 school and then the first home for the Ulster County Community College, was built on Academy Hill in 1870 and enlarged in 1886. The original Academy which was at the turn of the century the largest school in the county had a student body of 900 and a faculty of 21. Mrs. Doremus recalled her salary of $720 a year in 1909, but indicated that mathematics had not changed over the years as much as the economy. Her comments on the new math, she said, "were not suitable for print." But she seemed to have kept remarkably well abreast of developments, not only in education, but in the world affairs.

The ladies in attendance numbering 25 came from Kingston, other areas in New York and throughout the East, and in one case from California. They heard news of old friends, unable for various reasons to attend this year's reunion, and they listened with great interest to George V.D. Hutton and Raymond A. Nelson, president and headmaster respectively for the new Academy explain the founding and educational philosophy and program of the new school which will open in the fall.

At the conclusion of Mr. Nelson's remarks Mrs. Doremus moved that the members of the PVP (Pro Viriles Partes) formally wish the new Academy "the same spirit of loyalty, interest and continuance that the old school had."

Spada Hears Lorenzo Speak At Convention

Ulster County Clerk Albert Spada, attending the annual convention of the County Clerk's Association at the Nevele Country Club, Ellenville, heard Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo call for a new national miracle last night.

Lomenzo asked for the elimination of all prejudices—many of which know no color line—to achieve the miracle.

"None of us can be naive enough to believe that prejudice exists only among people of different colors, "he said.

"There is prejudice among white people, there is prejudice among black people and there is prejudice among people of different national origins and different strata of society.

These are days of decrying all that is bad when they should be days of vision and re-assessment of our destiny."

He said he felt a stubborn resistance remains among too many human beings to become at least tolerant of each other's personal dignity.

"If we remain apathetic, we will continue to have slums, we will continue to have poverty and we will continue to have violence and crime."

Camp Tri-Mount Opens 22nd Season

Camp Tri-Mount, BSA, located in East Jewett, is being readied for one of the biggest seasons yet, according to Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, chairman of the camping committee of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America. With the first camp period opening on Sunday, June 30, it is expected that there will be a "full house" of over 165 campers in attendance the first week. The 525 acre camp, owned and operated by the Rip Van Winkle Council, will be in its 22nd season of serving Boy Scouts from Ulster and Greene Counties, as well as occasional Troops from outside the Council territory.

The 1968 summercamp season at Tri-Mount will be six weeks in duration, and at the present time every period except the sixth (Aug. 4 to 11) is registered to capacity. Places are available in this period for approximately 75 Scouts, and reservations may be made through the Council office in Kingston by individual Scouts or by Troops desiring to spend a week in summer camp.

Last Saturday was the second spring "Good Turn Day" at Tri-Mount, when several volunteer Scout leaders assisted in preparing the camp for opening day. This week, the camp staff has taken up residence, and is readying the various program areas for their summer activities. The major program opportunities at Tri-Mount are waterfront, nature, Scoutcraft and field sports, which includes riflery and archery.

This year's camp staff will have a number of "old familiar faces" as well as quite a few new members. By far the longest tenure of any staff member belongs to the camp chef, James Garland of Schenectady, who is returning to Tri-Mount for his ninth consecutive season. Nature Director Jon Fox of West Hurley will be serving his fifth summer in the nature program of the camp. The position of camp director will be filled for the sixth season by John Vliet of Catskill, district Scout executive with the Rip Van Winkle Council.

This year's waterfront director will be Ernest O'Dell of Kingston, a teacher in the Saugerties school system. Scoutcraft director is to be Christopher Dapp, Jr. assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 70 in Highland. Handi-craft director will be Gary Halstead also of Troop 70, and the Trading Post director will be Stephen Lawrence of Troop 34 in Woodstock. The Camp chaplain is to be the Rev. George Wood of Saugerties, who occupied this position on the 1966 staff and the summer ranger-driver is Joseph Kramer, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 36 in Saugerties.

The International Camp Staff program this year is sending a young Danish Scouter, Finn Blom Christensen, to serve as a member of the Tri-Mount staff. He will serve in any program area where his diversified talents may be needed. All in all, it would appear that another banner year is in store for Camp Tri-Mount. The Rip Van Winkle Council is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

NEW SCOUT TROOP — St. Joseph's Church Holy Name Society became the first organization to sponsor two Boy Scout Troops in the Rip Van Winkle Council when Troop 103 was officially inaugurated last Thursday. The Church also sponsors Troop 3. Shown at ceremonies are (L) Scoutmaster Richard Rioux, Tenderfoot, Edward Kuhnel, Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, church pastor and Scout Executive Alex Macdonald. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

International Flavor For Scouts This Year

A Danish Scout leader, Finn Blom Christensen, will give an international flavor this summer to Camp Tri-Mount, the Rip Van Winkle Council Boy Scout camp near East Jewett in Greene County. Christensen will assist with the field sports program for the camp season running from June 30 to Aug. 11, and will take part in staff week before the camp opens.

"Scouters from other countries can make a valuable contribution to our Scout program," said John Vliet, the camp director. Arrangements for Christensen to serve as a member of the staff were made through the International Camp Staff Program of the Boy Scouts of America. This enables Scout leaders from other countries to come to the United States and work in summer camps. "Hopefully through such an association, our boys will learn how to live in peace and friendship with their brothers in other lands," said Vliet.

Christensen studied at Holberg School a technical preparatory school in Denmark, and for the last four years has worked as an apprentice toolmaker in Copenhagen. He is proficient in canoeing, first aid, woodcraft, outdoor cookery, overnight camping, painting, Scoutcraft, cross country running, map reading, and soccer. The Scouter has also attended summer camps at various locations in Denmark since 1962.

Webelos-Dad Weekend Set By Van Winkle Scouts

Webelos Scouts and their fathers will have an opportunity to go camping in the outdoors together at a Webelos/Dad Weekend the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council is planning at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett, June 29-30.

More than 100 Webelos Scouts and their fathers are expected to attend the weekend when the boys will have an opportunity to show their dads what Scouting is all about. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 29, at the camp. After registration, each Webelos Scout and his dad will be assigned sleeping quarters in a tent.

From 2 to 5 p.m., the Scouts and their Dads will have an opportunity to visit and try out all the camp program areas including the archery range and the camp craft area. There also will be hiking and fishing.

Saturday night there will be the traditional Campfire program. Sunday morning, after church services, there will be a father-son softball game.

During the weekend, all meals will be eaten in the dining hall and prepared by veteran camp chef, James Garland. Chairmen for the 1968 Webelos-Dad Weekend program is Erwin Tate of Saugerties, District commissioner of the Mohican Trail District.

Fly Up Rites

Fly-Up ceremonies for Brownie Troop 80, Junior Troop 179 and Cadette Troop 139 were held recently at the Shady Methodist Church Hall with parents and friends attending.

Brownies who received their fly-up wings were Donna Keefe, Dana Ostrander, Jorid Olsen, Susan Kaftan, Constance Blair and Laurie Howland. They were welcomed to Junior Troop 179 by Mrs. Harold Ray, leader, and troop members.

Moving into Cadette Troop 139 were juniors Lynn Bailey, Kathleen Curran, Sheila Howland, Jean May, Denise Militello, Kathleen Sass and Debra Sonnenberg. Mrs. James Sass and Mrs. George Denise, co-leaders, welcomed the girls and presented them with handbooks.

The troops are members of the Onteora Neighborhood of Girl Scouts. Any girls from the area wishing to join the troops may contact the leaders. Mrs. Albert Gander of Lake Hill is leader of the Brownie Troop for girls age 7 and 8. Mrs. Ray of Bearsville is leader of Junior Troop 179 for girls ages 9, 10 and 11. Mrs. Sass and Mrs. Denise of Willow are co-leaders for the Cadettes, ages 12, 13 and 14.

Camp Tri-Mount Opens 22nd Season

Camp Tri-Mount, BSA, located in East Jewett, is being readied for one of the biggest seasons yet, according to Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, chairman of the camping committee of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America. With the first camp period opening on Sunday, June 30, it is expected that there will be a "full house" of over 165 campers in attendance the first week. The 525 acre camp, owned and operated by the Rip Van Winkle Council, will be in its 22nd season of serving Boy Scouts from Ulster and Greene Counties, as well as occasional Troops from outside the Council territory.

The 1968 summercamp season at Tri-Mount will be six weeks in duration, and at the present time every period except the sixth (Aug. 4 to 11) is registered to capacity. Places are available in this period for approximately 75 Scouts, and reservations may be made through the Council office in Kingston by individual Scouts or by Troops desiring to spend a week in summer camp.

Last Saturday was the second spring "Good Turn Day" at Tri-Mount, when several volunteer Scout leaders assisted in preparing the camp for opening day. This week, the camp staff has taken up residence, and is readying the various program areas for their summer activities. The major program opportunities at Tri-Mount are waterfront, nature, Scoutcraft and field sports, which includes riflery and archery.

This year's camp staff will have a number of "old familiar faces" as well as quite a few new members. By far the longest tenure of any staff member belongs to the camp chef, James Garland of Schenectady, who is returning to Tri-Mount for his ninth consecutive season. Nature Director Jon Fox of West Hurley will be serving his fifth summer in the nature program of the camp. The position of camp director will be filled for the sixth season by John Vliet of Catskill, district Scout executive with the Rip Van Winkle Council.

This year's waterfront director will be Ernest O'Dell of Kingston, a teacher in the Saugerties school system. Scoutcraft director is to be Christopher Dapp, Jr. assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 70 in Highland. Handi-craft director will be Gary Halstead also of Troop 70, and the Trading Post director will be Stephen Lawrence of Troop 34 in Woodstock. The Camp chaplain is to be the Rev. George Wood of Saugerties, who occupied this position on the 1966 staff and the summer ranger-driver is Joseph Kramer, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 36 in Saugerties.

The International Camp Staff program this year is sending a young Danish Scouter, Finn Blom Christensen, to serve as a member of the Tri-Mount staff. He will serve in any program area where his diversified talents may be needed. All in all, it would appear that another banner year is in store for Camp Tri-Mount. The Rip Van Winkle Council is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

NEW SCOUT TROOP — St. Joseph's Church Holy Name Society became the first organization to sponsor two Boy Scout Troops in the Rip Van Winkle Council when Troop 103 was officially inaugurated last Thursday. The Church also sponsors Troop 3. Shown at ceremonies are (L) Scoutmaster Richard Rioux, Tenderfoot, Edward Kuhnel, Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, church pastor and Scout Executive Alex Macdonald. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

International Flavor For Scouts This Year

A Danish Scout leader, Finn Blom Christensen, will give an international flavor this summer to Camp Tri-Mount, the Rip Van Winkle Council Boy Scout camp near East Jewett in Greene County. Christensen will assist with the field sports program for the camp season running from June 30 to Aug. 11, and will take part in staff week before the camp opens.

"Scouters from other countries can make a valuable contribution to our Scout program," said John Vliet, the camp director. Arrangements for Christensen to serve as a member of the staff were made through the International Camp Staff Program of the Boy Scouts of America. This enables Scout leaders from other countries to come to the United States and work in summer camps. "Hopefully through such an association, our boys will learn how to live in peace and friendship with their brothers in other lands," said Vliet.

Christensen studied at Holberg School a technical preparatory school in Denmark, and for the last four years has worked as an apprentice toolmaker in Copenhagen. He is proficient in canoeing, first aid, woodcraft, outdoor cookery, overnight camping, painting, Scoutcraft, cross country running, map reading, and soccer. The Scouter has also attended summer camps at various locations in Denmark since 1962.

Webelos-Dad Weekend Set By Van Winkle Scouts

Webelos Scouts and their fathers will have an opportunity to go camping in the outdoors together at a Webelos/Dad Weekend the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council is planning at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett, June 29-30.

More than 100 Webelos Scouts and their fathers are expected to attend the weekend when the boys will have an opportunity to show their dads what Scouting is all about. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 29, at the camp. After registration, each Webelos Scout and his dad will be assigned sleeping quarters in a tent.

Philharmonic Scores Saturday

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Woman's Page Editor

(June 22) Saturday night's soiree at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston was such a success that Dr. Richard Messina, president of the Philharmonic's Ulster County Council is talking about a Flemish Night or Colonial Night. What are these programs? They are gastronomical adventures into the foods of foreign countries but the thing that makes them even more unique is that this fun type of programming serves also as a fund raising campaign for the Hudson Valley Philharmonic.

With the social and financial success of the Philharmonic's Wine and Cheese Tasting parties the Council agreed to add another Philharmonic treat. Indonesian Night was suggested by UCCC Professor Harry Matzen, a native of that country.

As Mrs. Amos Newcombe, former Council president, told us, members of the planning committee prepared all the food under Matzen's supervision. Serving with Mrs. Newcombe on that committee were Mrs. C. L. Christensen, chairman, Mrs. Othman Abugheida, Mrs. William Askue, Mrs. H. Richard Barnett, Mrs. William Diamond, Mrs. Aaron Eldridge, Mrs. Frank Hoornbeek, Mrs. Richard Messina, Mrs. Peter Muellner, Mrs. Ray Nelson, Miss Helen Sheldon, Mrs. Stephen Waligurski.

The food was excellent although it didn't take long to stay away from Sambal Delek — red hot pepper.

Chicken, lamb, lobster curries were served along with fried bananas, an egg dish and, of course, rice. Exotic fruits and coffee were served for dessert.

The buffet was served in the garden lounge of the hotel and guests enjoyed the Indonesian atmosphere achieved through decorations, costumes, and music.

Included in the capacity crowd were Attorney and Mrs. Maurice Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yallum, Miss Florence Cordts, Jo Dunham, Margaret Branigan, the Rev. David Bronson, Lynn Matzen, wife of Prof. Matzen, Mrs. Roland Tonnesen, president of the Musical Society of Kingston, Frank Hoornbeek and Mrs. Ray Ickes, to list a few.

Donations of $7.50 per person were for the Philharmonic's Orchestra Maintenance Fund.

It was an unusual evening — one which bears repeating.

FREEMAN WOMAN'S PAGE EDITOR Dorothy A. Narel chats with Mrs. Margaret Rathburn of Woodstock during the Philharmonic's social event Saturday night (June 22) at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. Mr. Rathburn is caught full face by the camera. The buffet consisted of a variety of poultry, fish and meat concoctions served on the basic food of the Indonesian Islands — rice. 40th Anniversary Celebration Held

Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Auchmoody of 48 Vincent Street, this city, were feted at a surprise 40th wedding anniversary party Sunday June 23, at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Carpino, Route 5 Box 56A, Saugerties.

Twenty - five family guests attended the lawn party including Mrs. Auchmoody's 82 - year - old mother, Mrs. Luella Ostrander of Kingston.

The Auchmoodys were married June 24, 1928, at the Grand Gorge Methodist Church.

Mrs. Auchmoody is the former Millie Ostrander of Olivebridge.

In addition to Mrs. Carpino, the couple have another daughter, Mrs. Watson Goodrich of West Hurley and a son, Alwyn Auchmoody of Kingston and five grandchildren. Another daughter, Mrs. Beverly Perison of Rochester died 10 years ago.

Mr. Auchmoody is a retired employe of the New York Central Railroad. Mrs. Auchmoody is a 17 year employe of IBM, Kingston, with the Systems Manufacturing Division. They have been residents of Kingston for the past 35 years.

Meeting Friday

Initiation of candidates will take place Friday at the regular meeting of Clinton Chapter No. 445, Order of Eastern Star, at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, at 8 p. m.

Members of Eastern Star and Master Masons are invited. Refreshments will be served and a social hour held after the meeting.

Band Concert Thursday

The Supervisor of the Town of Ulster, Thaddeus Musialkiewicz, has announced that in conjunction with the Town of Ulster Library and the Town Board, a band concert will be sponsored Thursday on the parking lot of the Town of Ulster Library on Morton Boulevard.

Music will be provided by the Kingston Concert Band, American Federation of Musicians, Local 215, with Marlin E. Morrette conducting under a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund.

The concert will be from 8 p.m. until 10 p.m.

It is urged that persons planning to attend bring their own folding chairs so that they may be comfortable while enjoying the musical program arranged by the Kingston Concert Band.

In the event of rain the concert will be postponed to a later date.

When time matters

Summer time is fun time—especially when Mom takes a day off and takes the youngsters to the beach. It's not unusual to forget all about supper and stay a little longer than you should. Forget the clock—precious extra time is yours whenever you serve Grandma Brown's Home Baked Beans.

Everyone will enjoy real honest-to-goodness Home Baked Beans with the taste that comes only from patient hours of preparation. There's just no other way to get that old-fashioned flavor, so at Grandma Brown's, we take the time.

When your time is short, team up with Grandma Brown and serve the Baked Beans that took us hours to prepare.

Miss Peacock Weds D.S. Kerr in Indiana

MRS. DOUGLAS S. KERR
(Ross Photo)

Miss Wauneta Myrtle Peacock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Peacock, Danville, Ind., was married to Douglas Santee Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Santee Kerr, New Paltz, Saturday, June 15, at the Sugar Grove Friends' Meeting House, Plainfield, Ind.

Following the custom of the Religious Society of Friends, they made their vows to each other before witnesses in a meeting for worship and used rings that had been the wedding rings of the bridegroom's grandmother and great-grandmother.

The bride wore an ankle-length gown of white linen in empire lines styled with a round neck and long bell sleeves. Wide lace was embroidered on the sleeves and at the hem, with the lace at the empire waist lined with blue. The bride carried a bouquet of white and blue daisies and myrtle, and wore matching flowers in her hair.

Mrs. Robert Stratton, Salem, Ohio, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore an ankle length gown of blue linen in empire lines, with short bell sleeves and round neck. She carried a bouquet of blue and white daisies and wore blue and white daisies in her hair.

Attendants were Mrs. Stanley White, Barnesville, Ohio, and Miss Judith Starbuck, Chicago, Ill. Their gowns were identical to that of the matron of honor. Miss Johanna May Stratton and Miss Liesa Diane Peacock, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Their dresses were the same as the other attendants, except that they were trimmed with daisies. They carried baskets of blue and white daisies.

H. J. Carr, Cincinnati, Ohio, was best man. Ushers were Toby Berk and Bruce Klein, both of West Lafayette, Ind.

After the wedding a reception and buffet luncheon were held on the porch and lawn of the Sugar Grove Meeting House.

Mrs. Kerr was graduated from the Friends Boarding School, Barnesville, Ohio, and Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio. She is a member of the Green Key Scholastic Honor Society. She received a Master's degree in English at Purdue University this June.

Mr. Kerr is a graduate of the Taft School, Watertown, Conn., and Yale College, and has MS and PhD degrees from Purdue University. He is assistant professor of Computer Science at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Linda Jo Chick Takes Marriage Vows

MRS. ROBERT E. SINOR
(Photo Workshop)

Miss Linda Jo Chick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Chick, 85 Crane Street, Kingston, became the bride of Robert Earl Sinor of Ballston Spa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sinor of Tacoma, Wash., on Sunday, June 23, at St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony. Theodore Riccobono, organist, accompanied Mrs. Virginia Mancuso who sang traditional wedding selections. Altar boys were Paul Maccaline and LeRoy Sheffer, cousins of the bride. Arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a cage style gown of silk organza over silk taffeta fashioned with a Venician lace bodice and short sleeves of Venician lace. The gown featured a full chapel train with bands of Venician lace. Her veil was a butterfly bouffant of English silk illusion attached to a bonnet style cloche of daisies and accented with a crown of daisies. She carried a missal covered with white roses.

Miss Carol Chick of 85 Crane Street, this city, was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a yellow chiffon cage style gown fashioned with a high collar of Venician lace. The gown was styled with double panels of Venician lace down the back. A cluster of yellow flowers with four tiers of bouffant veiling served as her headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Attendants were Cynthia Chick, sister of the bride, Kingston; and Kathleen Chmura, cousin of the bride, Forest Glen Park. Their gowns and headpieces were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant.

Wade Smith of Amsterdam was best man. Ushers were Julius Chick, cousin of the bride, East Kingston; and Robert Toffel, Kingston.

After the wedding a reception for 100 guests was held at Walnut Grove Restaurant, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Tacoma, Wash., the bride selected a blue jacket-dress of silk shantung accented with organza ruffles at the neckline and jacket sleeves. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, Ulster County Community College and State University at Plattsburgh.

Her husband was discharged recently from the U.S. Air Force, having been stationed at Plattsburgh Air Force Base for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinor will reside at San Bernardino, Calif.

MRS. ROBERT A. KENT

Miller-Kent Wedding

Miss Linda Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller Sr., Leurenkill Road, Ellenville, exchanged nuptial vows with Robert A. Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kent of Ellenville and formerly of Kingston, on Sunday, June 16, at St. Mary's and St. Andrew's Church.

The Rev. John Drew officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of mixed flowers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a square necked Chantilly lace bodice over peau de soie skirt which featured a lace train. Her waist length veil was attached to a small tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white disies.

Miss Sarah Shustack of Ulster Heights was maid of honor. She wore a pale green empire styed gown and carried a yellow and white nosegay of daisies.

Attendants were Pat Reynolds and Ellie Hobson, both of Ellenville. Their yellow empire gowns were fashioned similarly to that of the honor attendant and they carried nosegays of white and yellow daisies.

Robert Buchanan of Stone Ridge was best man for his cousin. Ushers were Henry Miller III, Michael Miller and David Miller, all brothers of the bride.

After the wedding a reception for 100 guests was held at Sportsman's Club, Napanoch.

For her wedding trip to the Poconos in Pennsylvania the bride chose a yellow linen suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Ellenville High School and the Beauty Culture School of Middletown. Her husband attended Kingston High School and is an alumnus of Ellenville High School. He attended Husson College in Bangor, Me., and is employed by the New York Telephone Company. He will leave for active duty with the U.S. Army on July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent will reside at 16 Circle Avenue, Ellenville.

Wedding Announced

Miss Donna Rae Slawson, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Slawson of Stone Ridge, exchanged Nuptial vows with John James Goldy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goldy of Middletown, on Saturday, May 18, at St. Joseph's Church in Middletown. The Rev. Father Dunn officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown styled with white Alencon lace bodice, long tapered sleeves and a taffeta skirt which featured a detachable watteau taffeta train. Her bouffant illusion veil was fastened to a flower headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, centered with an orchid.

Regina Taylor of Stone Ridge was maid of honor. She wore a pink suit and carried a bouquet of daisies.

Paul Traficanti of High Falls, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

A family reception was held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Tuthill of Silver Lake.

The bride was graduated from Rondout Valley Central High School in Stone Ridge and attended Orange County Community College. Her husband, an alumnus of Monticello High School and Orange County Community College in Middletown, is employed as bookkeeper at Warwick Rubber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldy will reside at 75 Beattie Avenue, Middletown.

Freer - Wisnoski

St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Freer of 49 Lamb Avenue, Saugerties, to Leon Martin Wisnoski II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin Wisnoski I, 206 Sumitt Road, Cassville, on Saturday, June 22.

The Rev. James LeBar officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Baskets of white carnations and gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length semi A-line gown styled with long lace sleeves, scalloped neckline accented with sequins and pearls, and a scalloped hemline. A mantilla lace veil was attached to a tiny pillbox decorated with sequins and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Dunn of Saugerties was matron of honor. Her sheer full length pink over matching taffeta gown featured long sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a matching large brim picture hat and carried an old fashioned bouquet of mint carnations with baby's breath.

Miss Margaret Grunewald of 133 O'Neil Street, Kingston, was bridesmaid for her cousin. Her mint green gown and picture hat were fashioned similarly to that of the honor attendant and she carried a hand bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Cathy Dunn was flower girl. Her white linen A-line gown was styled with a pink lace bodice. She wore a white picture bonnet and carried a basket of pink baby roses and baby's breath.

Clyde Spaulding of Windham was best man. Ushers were Harold Grunenwald of Kingston, uncle of the bride; and James Wisnoski, Cassville. Ringbearer was Michael Fayville, cousin of the bridegroom.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride for 75 guests.

For her wedding trip through the New England States, the bride chose a bright pink jersey A-line shift with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Saugerties High School and Board of Cooperative Educational Services School of Practical Nursing, is employed on the staff of Kingston Hospital.

Her husband, an alumnus of Sauquoit Valley Central High School, and Guild X-Ray Training School of Saranac Lake, is employed in the x-ray department at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisnoski will reside at 56 Elm Street, Saugerties.

Longto - Camp Wedding Is Announced

Old Dutch Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Rodella Marie Longto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Constant Longto Sr. of Kingston, to John T. Camp, son of Mrs. John Camp of Austin, Tex., on Saturday, June 15.

The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Lucinda Jones provided traditional wedding selections. White gladioli and pompons decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza gown in modified cage style with a bodice of Alencon lace. The long tapered sleeves were bonded with matching lace and she wore a stylized headpiece to which was shirred a silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and orchids.

Miss Linda L. Longto, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a nile green floor length gown accented with a back paneling of satin, and carried a cascade bouquet of pompons.

Miss Patricia Musto, Miss Michele Betkowski, Miss Ruth Kershner and Mrs. Harry Hornbeck, all of Kingston, served as attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant and they carried matching pompon bouquets.

Roland Brown of Arkansas, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Dr. Arthur Carr, Seppo Ritraner, Neil Denny and Constant Longto Jr., brother of the bride, all of Kingston.

After the wedding a reception for 100 guests was held at Elmer's Inn at Ruby.

For her wedding trip to North Shore, L. I., the bride selected a gray dotted Swiss dress with a white orchid corsage.

The bride is employed by American Plating Equipment Corporation of Kingston. Her husband, an alumnus of University of Texas, is now interning at Old Dutch Church as seminary associate.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp will return to Austin, Tex., where he will complete his final year of study for the ministry at Austin Theological Presbyterian Seminary.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I find kitchen trash baskets retain odors so I scrub mine with scouring powder, rinse it carefully, and it smells and looks good for quite awhile.

However, if I put a thin layer of scouring powder in the bottom of the kitchen wastebasket (since it gets the most abuse), all I have to do is wipe it with a wet paper towel to get it clean. None of the usual hard scouring.

And the minute amount of bleach in the scouring powder acts as a disinfectant.

Fan.

Dear Heloise:

I wonder if you would tell your readers that when they use commemorative stamps on letters to please place it back about ¼" from the corner of the envelope.

Collectors like a little margin of the envelope to remain on the stamp. And this way there is less damage to the stamp when it's removed.

Nina E.

Dear Heloise:

My two little girls like canned vegetable - beef soup for lunch, but it seems so thin after being diluted.

I finally got the idea to thicken it with some canned peas, corn, or green beans. A different one each time for variety.

It's also a good place to use that dab of leftover vegetables from last night's supper... It makes the soup much tastier and the children like it even more. Also, it's better for them.

MRS. DARRYL LANG
(Lakeside Studio)

Miss Sharon Frances Winchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winchell of 47 Tompkins Street, Kingston, became the bride of Darryl Lang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lang of Spring Lake Trailer Park, on Saturday, June 8, at St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

The Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of nylon mist posed over bridal taffeta, fashioned with a circlet neckline, princess bodice and long tapered sleeves. An A-line skirt featured a detachable watteau chapel train. The bodice, sleeves and train were trimmed with Alencon lace motifs. Her bouffant illusion veil was attached to a stylized headpiece.

Mrs. Irene Winchell of Port Ewen, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue empire style linen gown fashioned with a scooped neckline, abbreviated sleeves and a high waistline encircled with lace embroidery. A matching headpiece held her flirtation veil and she carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Bonnie Cwill, Kingston, was junior bridesmaid and Maryann Cwill and Cheryl Lang, both of Kingston, were attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant in pink, green and yellow, respectively, and they carried bouquets of white daisies accented with ribbons matching their gowns.

John Lang of Browning Terrace, this city, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Robert Grunenwald, Kingston; Robert Winchell, Port Ewen, brother of the bride. Junior usher was Ronald Maurer of New Jersey, a cousin of the bride.

After the wedding a reception for 150 guests was held at Ray's Riverside Restaurant, this city.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed at Varifab in High Falls. Her husband attended Kingston High School and is employed by Canfield Supply Company, Kingston. He is a volunteer fireman of Rapid Hose Fire Company.

When the couple return from their wedding trip to Canada, they will reside in Kingston.

Freer - Wisnoski

St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Freer of 49 Lamb Avenue, Saugerties, to Leon Martin Wisnoski II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin Wisnoski I, 206 Sumitt Road, Cassville, on Saturday, June 22.

The Rev. James LeBar officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Baskets of white carnations and gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length semi A-line gown styled with long lace sleeves, scalloped neckline accented with sequins and pearls, and a scalloped hemline. A mantilla lace veil was attached to a tiny pillbox decorated with sequins and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Dunn of Saugerties was matron of honor. Her sheer full length pink over matching taffeta gown featured long sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a matching large brim picture hat and carried an old fashioned bouquet of mint carnations with baby's breath.

Miss Margaret Grunewald of 133 O'Neil Street, Kingston, was bridesmaid for her cousin. Her mint green gown and picture hat were fashioned similarly to that of the honor attendant and she carried a hand bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Cathy Dunn was flower girl. Her white linen A-line gown was styled with a pink lace bodice. She wore a white picture bonnet and carried a basket of pink baby roses and baby's breath.

Clyde Spaulding of Windham was best man. Ushers were Harold Grunenwald of Kingston, uncle of the bride; and James Wisnoski, Cassville. Ringbearer was Michael Fayville, cousin of the bridegroom.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride for 75 guests.

For her wedding trip through the New England States, the bride chose a bright pink jersey A-line shift with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Saugerties High School and Board of Cooperative Educational Services School of Practical Nursing, is employed on the staff of Kingston Hospital.

Her husband, an alumnus of Sauquoit Valley Central High School, and Guild X-Ray Training School of Saranac Lake, is employed in the x-ray department at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisnoski will reside at 56 Elm Street, Saugerties.

CONCENTRATION IS written all over face of Dick Tracewski, Detroit Tiger shortstop, as he awaits throw in effort to nab New York Yankee Horace Clarke in second inning at Yankee Stadium last night. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Horton's Triple Keys Tigers' 8-5 Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willie Horton's booming two-run triple to the left-center field fence climaxed a six-run seventh inning rally which lifted the league-leading Detroit Tigers to an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night in a game delayed three times by rain.

The game, which enabled the Tigers to retain their seven and a half game lead over Cleveland, ended at 12:59 a. m. EDT, four hours and 59 minutes after it began. Play was interrupted for a total of 99 minutes.

Steve Barber, in quest of his first win, limited the Tigers to six hits and one run through six innings but was lifted after walking pinch hitter Wayne Comer leading off the seventh. Steve Hamilton and Bill Monbouquette, who followed Barber to the mound, failed to retire a batter.

Hamilton, slipping and sliding on the rain-soaked mound, walked Dick McAuliffe and Dick Tracewski doubled off third baseman Bobby Cox' glove, driving in one run. Mickey Stanley greeted Monbouquette with a two-run single and Bill Freehan knocked out Monbo with a single, taking second on the throw to third.

Horton promptly slammed a long drive up the alley in left center off Fred Talbot, and Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly scored Horton with the final run of the inning. Northrup tripled home Horton with an insurance run in the ninth.

Monbouquette was charged with the loss, his sixth in 11 decisions, while Dennis Ribant, who pitched 3 2-3 innings in relief of wild Mickey Lolich, was credited with his first American League victory.

The Yanks scored two unearned runs in the first inning with the help of two walks and two wild pitches by Lolich and a passed ball by Jim Price. They added a pair in the third on a single by Cox, a double by Tresh, a sacrifice fly by Robinson and Frank Fernandez' double, and concluded their scoring in the fifth with the help of Ribant's two-base throwing error.

Detroit scored its first run in the second on a wild pitch by Barber following singles by Freehan and Horton, and a fieleer's choice.

Seaver Blanks Reds, 9th Homer for Cleon NY Near .500 Mark

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cleon Jones homered in the sixth inning and singled during a three-run seventh inning Tuesday night as the New York Mets blanked the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 behind Tom Seaver's five-hit pitching.

Jones, whose previous major league high for a season was eight homers in 1966, snapped a scoreless tie with his ninth of this year in the sixth paving the way for Seaver to win his sixth game against five losses. It was Seaver's fourth straight victory.

The shutout was the 11th of the season for the New York staff, matching its total for the 1967 season.

The Mets added three more runs off George Culver in the seventh on a walk to Al Weis, Bud Harrelson's triple and singles by Don Bosch, Jones and J. C. Martin.

Jones and Weis each had three hits to pace the Mets' 11-hit attack which dealt Culver his eighth loss against five victories.

Robinson, Bunker Top Birds

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, only a pain in the neck earlier this season, and Wally Bunker, nothing but a sore arm this spring, look healthy enough now to patch up the aching Baltimore Orioles.

Robby, raising his average to .270, cracked a single, double and homer, driving in three runs and scoring two behind Bunker's five-hitter as the Orioles cut up Boston 6-0 Tuesday night.

The performances were even more pleasing to the Orioles because the slugging Robinson obviously is back in shape after an earlier bout with the mumps, and Bunker appears over the arm trouble that forced his brief return to the minor leagues.

The victory also soothed the wounded Orioles with only their third triumph in 11 games and lifted them back into a tie for third place with Minnesota.

Cleveland held on to second place with a 6-1 victory over Washington, but no one gained ground on runaway Detroit as the Tigers came from behind for a 8-5 decision over the New York Yankees.

California downed Oakland 7-6 and Minnesota and the Chicago White Sox were rained out in other games.

Robinson blasted his third homer of the season off loser Ray Culp, 4-3, in the third inning after Bunker walked. His single drove in another run in the fifth and he doubled and scored in the seventh as the Orioles remained 8½ games behind Detroit.

Bunker, who helped pitch the Orioles to their 1966 pennant and won a game in that World Series, was knocked out last Wednesday in his first start since being recalled from Rochester of the International League.

Against the Red Sox he struck out seven, walked one and only one runner got past first base against him — Elston Howard doubled and reached third on an infield out.

Sonny Siebert of Cleveland did even better for six innings against the sickly Senators, who lost for the 11th time in 12 games. Siebert, who has one-, two- and three-hitters this year, did not allow a hit until Ron Hansen doubled with two out in the seventh.

California took a 7-3 lead with a run in the sixth inning when Oakland center fielder Rick Monday dropped a fly ball for a three-base error and Bubba Morton singled.

But the Angels had to call starter Jim McGlothlin out of the bullpen with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth and two runs home. McGlothlin got out of the inning with a double play and a ground out.

Big Paltz Trout Means Outfit For Nimrod

Somewhere in the waters of the New Paltz town pond, a giant 20-inch rainbow trout lurks, and any area youngster who catches the big fellow will win himself a complete fishing outfit.

Supervisor Anthony Moriello informed The Freeman that some 400 trout were dumped into the pond, located at the sanitary land fill area on Pioneer Terrace, last week.

The fish were purchased at a commercial hatchery in Lake George.

Most of the fish are from seven to nine inches in length so "there won't be any mistake when the big one is caught," said Moriello.

The contest is open to all youngsters up to the age of 14. When the giant rainbow is caught, the town clerk is to be called and the prize awarded.

The area, off Route 32 north of the village, is under development as a park. Recently, 40 more acres have been added to the town tract.

Can Charlie Janes Harness Comets?

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Charlie Janes, Kingston High's all-time strikeout record holder, makes his Hudson Valley Rookie League debut Thursday night at Dietz Stadium.

And manager Paul Giannuzzi of the Kingston Braves couldn't have picked a tougher assignment for the 6-foot-2 fireballing right hander.

The league champion Florida Comets will be in town with their fine brother act on the pitching mound—Gary and Art Dross.

Florida, nationally known for its onion grounds and good baseball teams, captured the 1967 HVRL championship by defeating the Beacon Astros, three games to two in the playoff finals.

The Floridians won the second half with a 11-1 record in 1967, finishing the season with seven wins in a row.

Beacon Here Friday

And who'll be at Dietz Stadium Friday night? The Beacon Astros, no less! Ron Thomas gets the nod for this one, Giannuzzi said. Both games are scheduled at 8 o'clock.

Janes set a KHS standard for strikeouts in nine innings when he fanned 20 Saugerties High batters in a 10-inning contest during the 1967 season. The 20 Ks came in the first nine innings. He was later drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League.

"Janes is the kind of pitcher the Hudson Valley Rookie League is noted for," said Manager Giannuzzi. "We look for a top performance from him Thursday night."

Janes will draw one of the Dross brothers and each spells trouble. Gary, a lefthander, is frosh football coach at Liberty High. Art, a righty, pitched varsity ball at Hofstra College at Hempstead, L. I. this season. Both are overpowering pitchers with big overhand motions that produce hefty strikeout totals.

Florida has other talent like catcher Bruce Bell, the league's RBI leader last season. He has a fine throwing arm. First baseman and assistant coach is Bob Lattimer, head baseball and swim coach at Warwick High.

The Comets have a far ranging, heavy hitting outfielder in Jim Jennings, who has one of the best arms in the league. Eugene Schuermann is a top third sacker. Florida boasts the classic winning formula—good pitching and hitting and strong up the middle.

Jerry Hawkins, one of the club's leading hitters in 1967, is back with the Braves permanently. And that bit of news makes Manager Giannuzzi mighty happy.

"Jerry is one of the best hitters in the Hudson Valley," said Giannuzzi. "He will be a big help to our attack."

The Braves have been disappointed by the failure of Paul (Boots) Buytkins to appear for more than one game. But in his absence the locals will go with Hawkins, Ron Valle and Joe Schabot in the outfield.

Lou Perry, who missed the Newburgh Atom game, returns to shortstop. The remainder of the infield: Chick Boice, first; Mike Derrenbacher, second; and Pete Watzka, third. Glenn Davis will be behind the plate.

Yaz, Freehan Lead All-Star Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Yastrzemski, who led Boston's miracle Red Sox to a pennant last season, and Bill Freehan, a leader in the assault to end a 23-year pennant drought in Detroit this year, head the American League All Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Yastrzemski, the Boston left fielder who won the American League's Most Valuable Player award last season after winning the Triple Crown, received 246 of a possible 252 votes and Freehan, the Tiger catcher, polled 248 of 251 possible votes to lead in the balloting of AL players, managers and coaches.

Three holdovers from last year's starting team join Yastrzemski and Freehan on the 1968 squad which will attempt to snap a record five-year National League winning streak when the teams meet July 9 at the Houston Astrodome.

Killebrew in Whisker

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, who nipped Baltimore's Boog Powell by 10 votes in the closest balloting for any position, will be at first base again while teammate Rod Carew, rookie of the year last season, repeats as second baseman.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson, having one of his worst seasons at the plate, still managed to outpoll Cleveland's Max Alvis to repeat as third baseman.

Jim Fregosi of California, who played the last 11 innings of last year's 15-inning, 2-1 National League victory, was an easy victor over Chicago's Luis Aparicio to complete the infield.

Frank Howard of Washington and Detroit's Willie Horton, the league's two leading home run producers with 24 and 18, join Yastrzemski in the outfield. Ironically, all are left fielders but were able to be chosen since all outfielders are grouped together in the voting.

Dick Williams, the Boston manager who will handle the American League stars this year, will select his pitchers and the remaining players to fill out the 25-man roster later this week.

Yaz Only .300 Man

Yastrzemski, the AL's leading hitter, is the only .300 plus batter on the eight-man team with a .320 average and one of only two in the entire league in games played through Monday night. Yastrzemski, who slumped early in the season before regaining his 1967 form, has 11 home runs, fourth in the league, and 29 runs batted in.

Horton paces the league-leading Tigers in batting with a .287 mark while Howard is batting .298, third in the league and is tops in RBI's with 53. The selection is Howard's first in the American League.

Carew ranks fifth in batting with a .294 average while Robinson is hitting .234 and Fregosi .258. Killebrew is hitting only .216 but has hit 12 home runs.

Among last season's starters, Minnesota's Tony Oliva, the center fielder, finished fourth in the voting for outfielders while Rico Petrocelli of Boston, the starting shortstop, was fourth at his position. Boston's Tony Conigliaro, the starting right fielder in 1967, has been forced to retire from baseball with an eye injury.

SF Bonds Pay Off

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

For 70 long summers Frosty Bill Duggleby had a secluded corner of baseball's cluttered hall of records all to himself.

Then, a young Giant born two years after Frosty Bill's passing crashed the oldtimer's heretofore private domain with one swing of the bat.

Bobby Bonds, a 22-year-old outfielder called up by San Francisco Monday from the Pacific Coast League, became the first modern-era player to hit a bases-loaded homer in his first major league game when he connected during the Giants' 9-0 romp over Los Angeles Tuesday night.

The sixth inning grand slam —Bonds' first hit in the majors —matched a feat achieved just once before . . . by Duggleby, a right-handed pitcher, in his 1898 debut with the Philadelphia Nationals.

While Bonds' blast altered the record book and southpaw Ray Sadecki shackled the Dodgers on two hits, Pittsburgh's Maury Wills ran his hitting streak to 23 games—high in the majors this season—in a 3-2 victory over St. Louis, the NL leaders.

The New York Mets blanked Cincinnati 4-0, Atlanta whipped Philadelphia 6-1 and Houston beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in other NL games.

An Old Habit

Grand slam homers have become second nature to Bonds, a 6-foot-1 Californian who was leading the PCL with a .367 batting average when the Giants promoted him from their Phoenix farm club. Despite his claim that "I don't consider myself a home run hitter," he had swatted eight PCL homers . . . including three grand slams in five bases-loaded situations.

Bonds grounded out and was hit by a pitch in his first two at-bats. In the sixth, a pair of bases-loaded walks gave the Giants a 3-0 lead before Bonds sent a John Purdin pitch over the left field fence.

Sadecki struck out 10 and limited Los Angeles to a bloop third-inning double by pitcher Claude Osteen until Willie Davis beat out an infield roller in the ninth.

Wills bettered an earlier 22-game hitting streak put together by Cincinnati's Pete Rose with a run-scoring single in the fifth inning, then tripled and scored the deciding run in the eighth on Gene Alley's single.

Walks Saves Veale

Bob Veale blanked the Cardinals until the eighth, when they chased him during a two-run rally. Reliever Luke Walker then struck out Tim McCarver and got Ed Spiezio to rap into an inning ending double play, stranding the tying run on third.

Tom Seaver checked Cincinnati on five hits and Cleon Jones laced two singles and a homer as the Mets climbed within one victory of the 500 mark for the fourth time this year.

Braves' rookie RonReed fired a four-hitter against Philadelphia for his eighth victory in 11 decisions. Two run-scoring singles by catcher Joe Torre gave Reed all the support he needed.

Hector Torres' six-inning triple touched off a three-run burst that carried the Astros past the Cubs behind Mike Cuellar's five-hitter. The loss was Chicago's third in a row and 10th in the last 11 games.

Horton's Triple Keys Tigers' 8-5 Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willie Horton's booming two-run triple to the left-center field fence climaxed a six-run seventh inning rally which lifted the league-leading Detroit Tigers to an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night in a game delayed three times by rain.

The game, which enabled the Tigers to retain their seven and a half game lead over Cleveland, ended at 12:59 a. m. EDT, four hours and 59 minutes after it began. Play was interrupted for a total of 99 minutes.

Steve Barber, in quest of his first win, limited the Tigers to six hits and one run through six innings but was lifted after walking pinch hitter Wayne Comer leading off the seventh. Steve Hamilton and Bill Monbouquette, who followed Barber to the mound, failed to retire a batter.

Hamilton, slipping and sliding on the rain-soaked mound, walked Dick McAuliffe and Dick Tracewski doubled off third baseman Bobby Cox' glove, driving in one run. Mickey Stanley greeted Monbouquette with a two-run single and Bill Freehan knocked out Monbo with a single, taking second on the throw to third.

Horton promptly slammed a long drive up the alley in left center off Fred Talbot, and Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly scored Horton with the final run of the inning. Northrup tripled home Horton with an insurance run in the ninth.

Monbouquette was charged with the loss, his sixth in 11 decisions, while Dennis Ribant, who pitched 3 2-3 innings in relief of wild Mickey Lolich, was credited with his first American League victory.

The Yanks scored two unearned runs in the first inning with the help of two walks and two wild pitches by Lolich and a passed ball by Jim Price. They added a pair in the third on a single by Cox, a double by Tresh, a sacrifice fly by Robinson and Frank Fernandez' double, and concluded their scoring in the fifth with the help of Ribant's two-base throwing error.

Detroit scored its first run in the second on a wild pitch by Barber following singles by Freehan and Horton, and a fieleer's choice.

Seaver Blanks Reds, 9th Homer for Cleon NY Near .500 Mark

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cleon Jones homered in the sixth inning and singled during a three-run seventh inning Tuesday night as the New York Mets blanked the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 behind Tom Seaver's five-hit pitching.

Jones, whose previous major league high for a season was eight homers in 1966, snapped a scoreless tie with his ninth of this year in the sixth paving the way for Seaver to win his sixth game against five losses. It was Seaver's fourth straight victory.

The shutout was the 11th of the season for the New York staff, matching its total for the 1967 season.

The Mets added three more runs off George Culver in the seventh on a walk to Al Weis, Bud Harrelson's triple and singles by Don Bosch, Jones and J. C. Martin.

Jones and Weis each had three hits to pace the Mets' 11-hit attack which dealt Culver his eighth loss against five victories.

Robinson, Bunker Top Birds

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, only a pain in the neck earlier this season, and Wally Bunker, nothing but a sore arm this spring, look healthy enough now to patch up the aching Baltimore Orioles.

Robby, raising his average to .270, cracked a single, double and homer, driving in three runs and scoring two behind Bunker's five-hitter as the Orioles cut up Boston 6-0 Tuesday night.

The performances were even more pleasing to the Orioles because the slugging Robinson obviously is back in shape after an earlier bout with the mumps, and Bunker appears over the arm trouble that forced his brief return to the minor leagues.

The victory also soothed the wounded Orioles with only their third triumph in 11 games and lifted them back into a tie for third place with Minnesota.

Cleveland held on to second place with a 6-1 victory over Washington, but no one gained ground on runaway Detroit as the Tigers came from behind for a 8-5 decision over the New York Yankees.

California downed Oakland 7-6 and Minnesota and the Chicago White Sox were rained out in other games.

Robinson blasted his third homer of the season off loser Ray Culp, 4-3, in the third inning after Bunker walked. His single drove in another run in the fifth and he doubled and scored in the seventh as the Orioles remained 8½ games behind Detroit.

Bunker, who helped pitch the Orioles to their 1966 pennant and won a game in that World Series, was knocked out last Wednesday in his first start since being recalled from Rochester of the International League.

Against the Red Sox he struck out seven, walked one and only one runner got past first base against him — Elston Howard doubled and reached third on an infield out.

Sonny Siebert of Cleveland did even better for six innings against the sickly Senators, who lost for the 11th time in 12 games. Siebert, who has one-, two- and three-hitters this year, did not allow a hit until Ron Hansen doubled with two out in the seventh.

California took a 7-3 lead with a run in the sixth inning when Oakland center fielder Rick Monday dropped a fly ball for a three-base error and Bubba Morton singled.

But the Angels had to call starter Jim McGlothlin out of the bullpen with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth and two runs home. McGlothlin got out of the inning with a double play and a ground out.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Al Jones, 226, Goulds, Fla., outpointed Matt Blow, 207, Los Angeles, 10.

SAN DIEGO—Terry Lee, 171, Concord, Calif., outpointed Ronnie Wilson, 165½, San Diego, 10.

Big Paltz Trout Means Outfit For Nimrod

Somewhere in the waters of the New Paltz town pond, a giant 20-inch rainbow trout lurks, and any area youngster who catches the big fellow will win himself a complete fishing outfit.

Supervisor Anthony Moriello informed The Freeman that some 400 trout were dumped into the pond, located at the sanitary land fill area on Pioneer Terrace, last week.

The fish were purchased at a commercial hatchery in Lake George.

Most of the fish are from seven to nine inches in length so "there won't be any mistake when the big one is caught," said Moriello.

The contest is open to all youngsters up to the age of 14. When the giant rainbow is caught, the town clerk is to be called and the prize awarded.

The area, off Route 32 north of the village, is under development as a park. Recently, 40 more acres have been added to the town tract.

Can Charlie Janes Harness Comets?

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Charlie Janes, Kingston High's all-time strikeout record holder, makes his Hudson Valley Rookie League debut Thursday night at Dietz Stadium.

And manager Paul Giannuzzi of the Kingston Braves couldn't have picked a tougher assignment for the 6-foot-2 fireballing right hander.

The league champion Florida Comets will be in town with their fine brother act on the pitching mound—Gary and Art Dross.

Florida, nationally known for its onion grounds and good baseball teams, captured the 1967 HVRL championship by defeating the Beacon Astros, three games to two in the playoff finals.

The Floridians won the second half with a 11-1 record in 1967, finishing the season with seven wins in a row.

Beacon Here Friday

And who'll be at Dietz Stadium Friday night? The Beacon Astros, no less! Ron Thomas gets the nod for this one, Giannuzzi said. Both games are scheduled at 8 o'clock.

Janes set a KHS standard for strikeouts in nine innings when he fanned 20 Saugerties High batters in a 10-inning contest during the 1967 season. The 20 Ks came in the first nine innings. He was later drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League.

"Janes is the kind of pitcher the Hudson Valley Rookie League is noted for," said Manager Giannuzzi. "We look for a top performance from him Thursday night."

Janes will draw one of the Dross brothers and each spells trouble. Gary, a lefthander, is frosh football coach at Liberty High. Art, a righty, pitched varsity ball at Hofstra College at Hempstead, L. I. this season. Both are overpowering pitchers with big overhand motions that produce hefty strikeout totals.

Florida has other talent like catcher Bruce Bell, the league's RBI leader last season. He has a fine throwing arm. First baseman and assistant coach is Bob Lattimer, head baseball and swim coach at Warwick High.

The Comets have a far ranging, heavy hitting outfielder in Jim Jennings, who has one of the best arms in the league. Eugene Schuermann is a top third sacker. Florida boasts the classic winning formula—good pitching and hitting and strong up the middle.

Jerry Hawkins, one of the club's leading hitters in 1967, is back with the Braves permanently. And that bit of news makes Manager Giannuzzi mighty happy.

"Jerry is one of the best hitters in the Hudson Valley," said Giannuzzi. "He will be a big help to our attack."

The Braves have been disappointed by the failure of Paul (Boots) Buytkins to appear for more than one game. But in his absence the locals will go with Hawkins, Ron Valle and Joe Schabot in the outfield.

Lou Perry, who missed the Newburgh Atom game, returns to shortstop. The remainder of the infield: Chick Boice, first; Mike Derrenbacher, second; and Pete Watzka, third. Glenn Davis will be behind the plate.

Yaz, Freehan Lead All-Star Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Yastrzemski, who led Boston's miracle Red Sox to a pennant last season, and Bill Freehan, a leader in the assault to end a 23-year pennant drought in Detroit this year, head the American League All Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Yastrzemski, the Boston left fielder who won the American League's Most Valuable Player award last season after winning the Triple Crown, received 246 of a possible 252 votes and Freehan, the Tiger catcher, polled 248 of 251 possible votes to lead in the balloting of AL players, managers and coaches.

Three holdovers from last year's starting team join Yastrzemski and Freehan on the 1968 squad which will attempt to snap a record five-year National League winning streak when the teams meet July 9 at the Houston Astrodome.

Killebrew in Whisker

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, who nipped Baltimore's Boog Powell by 10 votes in the closest balloting for any position, will be at first base again while teammate Rod Carew, rookie of the year last season, repeats as second baseman.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson, having one of his worst seasons at the plate, still managed to outpoll Cleveland's Max Alvis to repeat as third baseman.

Jim Fregosi of California, who played the last 11 innings of last year's 15-inning, 2-1 National League victory, was an easy victor over Chicago's Luis Aparicio to complete the infield.

Frank Howard of Washington and Detroit's Willie Horton, the league's two leading home run producers with 24 and 18, join Yastrzemski in the outfield. Ironically, all are left fielders but were able to be chosen since all outfielders are grouped together in the voting.

Dick Williams, the Boston manager who will handle the American League stars this year, will select his pitchers and the remaining players to fill out the 25-man roster later this week.

Yaz Only .300 Man

Yastrzemski, the AL's leading hitter, is the only .300 plus batter on the eight-man team with a .320 average and one of only two in the entire league in games played through Monday night. Yastrzemski, who slumped early in the season before regaining his 1967 form, has 11 home runs, fourth in the league, and 29 runs batted in.

Horton paces the league-leading Tigers in batting with a .287 mark while Howard is batting .298, third in the league and is tops in RBI's with 53. The selection is Howard's first in the American League.

Carew ranks fifth in batting with a .294 average while Robinson is hitting .234 and Fregosi .258. Killebrew is hitting only .216 but has hit 12 home runs.

Among last season's starters, Minnesota's Tony Oliva, the center fielder, finished fourth in the voting for outfielders while Rico Petrocelli of Boston, the starting shortstop, was fourth at his position. Boston's Tony Conigliaro, the starting right fielder in 1967, has been forced to retire from baseball with an eye injury.

SF Bonds Pay Off

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

For 70 long summers Frosty Bill Duggleby had a secluded corner of baseball's cluttered hall of records all to himself.

Then, a young Giant born two years after Frosty Bill's passing crashed the oldtimer's heretofore private domain with one swing of the bat.

Bobby Bonds, a 22-year-old outfielder called up by San Francisco Monday from the Pacific Coast League, became the first modern-era player to hit a bases-loaded homer in his first major league game when he connected during the Giants' 9-0 romp over Los Angeles Tuesday night.

The sixth inning grand slam—Bonds' first hit in the majors—matched a feat achieved just once before . . . by Duggleby, a right-handed pitcher, in his 1898 debut with the Philadelphia Nationals.

While Bonds' blast altered the record book and southpaw Ray Sadecki shackled the Dodgers on two hits, Pittsburgh's Maury Wills ran his hitting streak to 23 games—high in the majors this season—in a 3-2 victory over St. Louis, the NL leaders.

The New York Mets blanked Cincinnati 4-0, Atlanta whipped Philadelphia 6-1 and Houston beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in other NL games.

An Old Habit

Grand slam homers have become second nature to Bonds, a 6-foot-1 Californian who was leading the PCL with a .367 batting average when the Giants promoted him from their Phoenix farm club. Despite his claim that "I don't consider myself a home run hitter," he had swatted eight PCL homers . . . including three grand slams in five bases-loaded situations.

Bonds grounded out and was hit by a pitch in his first two at-bats. In the sixth, a pair of bases-loaded walks gave the Giants a 3-0 lead before Bonds sent a John Purdin pitch over the left field fence.

Sadecki struck out 10 and limited Los Angeles to a bloop third-inning double by pitcher Claude Osteen until Willie Davis beat out an infield roller in the ninth.

Wills bettered an earlier 22-game hitting streak put together by Cincinnati's Pete Rose with a run-scoring single in the fifth inning, then tripled and scored the deciding run in the eighth on Gene Alley's single.

Walks Saves Veale

Bob Veale blanked the Cardinals until the eighth, when they chased him during a two-run rally. Reliever Luke Walker then struck out Tim McCarver and got Ed Spiezio to rap into an inning ending double play, stranding the tying run on third.

Tom Seaver checked Cincinnati on five hits and Cleon Jones laced two singles and a homer as the Mets climbed within one victory of the 500 mark for the fourth time this year.

Braves' rookie RonReed fired a four-hitter against Philadelphia for his eighth victory in 11 decisions. Two run-scoring singles by catcher Joe Torre gave Reed all the support he needed.

Hector Torres' six-inning triple touched off a three-run burst that carried the Astros past the Cubs behind Mike Cuellar's five-hitter. The loss was Chicago's third in a row and 10th in the last 11 games.

A disabled World War II veteran, who fishes from a wheel chair, took top honors in the May segment of the Genessee Fishing Contest.

The happy angler is Frank Tangorra of Herkimer, who entered a 28 lb. 12 oz. Northern Pike, one of the largest ever entered in the 23-year-old statewide contest.

The prize was taken from nearby Sacandaga reservoir at Northville, a hot spot in years gone by for many local fishermen. The fish took a live bait on May 8.

James E. Caryl of Arkville used a minnow on May 2 to take a 3 lb., 2 oz. smallmouth bass from the Delaware river, good enough for top honors.

Harold Liebman of Jamaica-Bellrose picked up top spot in the pickerel division with a 5 lb., 3 oz. trophy from Cape Pond, Ellenville.

Just to show there are some good brown trout still left in Pepacton reservoir at Downsville, Fred Franczkiewicz of Carmel picked up second spot with a 9 lb., 9 oz. beauty.

SPEAKING OF BASS, we understand the Ashokan is beginning to produce. Several bass have been picked up in the coves and around deeper water along stone walls.

Trolling also has produced some fair-sized walleye pike. Boat owners are urged to check their boats, since several already have been reported stolen. Seems like "bad apples" turn up everywhere.

The New York Conservation Department has announced, effective immediately, lamprey larvae may be taken and used as bait in the part of the Delaware river and its west branch, forming the boundary between New York and Pennsylvania (extending from Tristate Rock, at Port Jervis upstream to a point about one half mile below the mouth of Rood Brook.

A fine catch of trout found their way into the creels of Bob Johnson of Hurley and TV celebrity Lee Marvin recently from the main stream at Phoenicia. Glad to hear the fish cooperated with our own TV and movie hero.

SINCE OUR LAST column, we have been advised we now have a young doe deer in the Boulevard area that is so tame it even smells the aroma of plastic geraniums. And it took the lady of the house three trips to prove her point to her better half. We'll skip the names because they both love that Boulevard deer.

Mickey Redel of Blue Mountain, using his Green Drake, hand-tied fly to lure some nice browns from his favorite nearby stream.

At the time when it is becoming increasingly difficult to find a good place to fish, many local sportsmen are unaware that some of New York state's prime bass and trout waters await their pleasure, practically at their doorsteps.

New York city reservoir which encompasses some 25,000 acres spreads across six large bodies of water, and is located only a short distance from Kingston. They are: Ashokan, Cannonsville, Neversink, Pepacton, Rondout and Schoharie. Black bass, brown and rainbow trout, walleye pike and pickerel provide sizeable catches.

An excellent publication, "New York City Reservoirs in the Catskills," edited by C. Austin Glenn and produced by Outdoor Publications of Ithaca, describes the steps required to gain access to the reservoir, describing each body of water in detail.

Included is a fold-out map and information about location, size, how reached, principal fish and facilities available, along with comments on fishing conditions.

A complete resume in this excellent book is available from the above publishing house at a modest fee.

Historic Track Sets 130th Opener Monday

GOSHEN — Historic Track opens its 130th season of harness racing Monday, with exactly 200 trotters and pacers eligible for Monday's Acorn Stakes and Goshen Cup. In addition, a pair of New York State Sire Stakes are heavily loaded with two-year-old fillies.

On July 2, another huge entry is expected in both the $13,000 E. H. Harriman Challenge Trophy for colts and geldings; and the Debutante Stakes, the richest trial of the week at $16,000.

Nevele Pride won the E. H. Harriman as a two-year-old last July in record time, 2:04.4. Stanley Dancer might make it two in a row when he hits Historic with Nevele Major, a season champion with a 2:07.4 mile trotted at Brandywine on June 5.

Right behind him is Clearview Stable's Gun Runner, another season champion who won at Atlantic City the first of the month. Earl Avery will be in the sulky behind the Gun Runner.

One of the reigning leaders among two-year-old fillies compaigning around the country is Friendly Folly, handled by Del Cameron of Pinehurst, N. C. They will go postward in The Debutante Stake against what might be the race's largest field. One-hundred-seven fillies have been kept on the list and a divisional contest is anticipated by the time the final names are drawn out of the box.

New Filly Mark To Queen Omaha

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Queen Omaha set a national season record in an elimination race and won the featured $17,400 pace in the second night of the Grand Circuit Week at upstate New York's Saratoga Raceway.

Queen Omaha defeated Friendly Folly and Scotch Jewel in Tuesday's top event for 2-year-old fillies. The winning time was 2:04 2-5.

Queen Omaha returned $9.20.

Her time for the mile in the first elimination race was 2:04 1-5, a ational season record for 2-year-old pacing fillies on a half-mile track.

In other feature races at New York State harness tracks Tuesday noght:

—J. Cruise Greetree won the $5,000 pace at Roosevelt Raceway, defeating Scotch Duke by two lengths. Tarport Bill finished third. J. Cruise Greentree was timed in 2:03 and paid $12.80

—Uncle Horace scored a one-length victory over Rebellion inthe $2,000 trot at Vernon Downs Lora Hanover was third. The winning time over a muddy track was 2:15 1-5. Uncle Horace paid $4.20.

—Attaboy Rose won the $1,500 pace at Buffalo Raceway in heavy rain. Jennie Marie finished second, one length behind, and White Crescent third. Attaboy Rose was clocked in 2:14 1-5 and returned $6.40.

Horsemen Slate Friday Boycott For Roosevelt

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — A possibility that harness racing may be called off at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night developed Tuesday when owners refused to enter their horses for the customary nine-race card.

"As of now Friday's program is wiped out," said Carl Benevento, executive secretary of the Standardbred Owners Association. "However, any change in the situation between now and Friday morning means they could put together a card on an hour's notice."

Members of the SOA, acting as individuals, are seeking an increase in the value of purses in negotiations for a new contract to replace the one that expired last December.

"I am going to make every effort to avoid a boycott," declared George M. Levy, presi- "There has been some progress."

Rain Cancels Jaycees Golf

The Woodstock Jaycees Ulster county qualifying round for the 1968 New York State Jaycees golf tournament went down the drain this morning at Woodstock Country Club. It was re-scheduled for Wednesday, July 3.

The rain-plagued sports schedule took another bad beating Tuesday as three Babe Ruth League games, two City Softball League contests and the whole Little League slate were washed out.

Three Babe Ruth games and two City Softball sets are slated tonight. But don't bet on it.

'No Turbines at Indy Possible,' Says Granatelli

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Andy Granatelli, the controversial racing car owner whose turbines have nearly won the last two Indianapolis 500s, hinted Tuesday that he might pull out of the Memorial Day race in 1969.

"They are making it awfully hard on us," he commented after being informed of a United States Auto Club board of directors' decision to limit all USAC cars to two-wheel drive and a ruling that turbines eligible for championship races be of "automotive type" by Jan. 1, 1970.

The board turned down a rules committee recommendation to ban turbine-powered cars from championship races. It left it up to a special committee to define "automotive turbine" and "stock block engine" by the July meeting of the USAC board.

"Whether we run or not next year is something that will have to be decided," Granatelli said.

USAC's action, he said, "in effect, constitutes an efficient and ambiguous way of barring my turbine engines in the future."

Granatelli continued, "If USAC persists in this plan to revamp engine sizes and chassis design again and again, many of us will be hard pressed to continue in the sport which we have built to such importance over the years."

He said he was "not in a position to say right now" if he could go to court. He failed in a suit this year in an attempt to stop USAC from reducing the air intake opening of the turbines.

A turbine driven by Parnelli Jones nearly won the 1967 Indianapolis 500 before conking out. This year Joe Leonard drove a turbine to near victory in the Memorial Day race but wasn't able to finish.

Syracuse Chiefs Register 8th Win In Last 10 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Chiefs may be in last place in the International League—6½ games behind front-runner Toledo—but you'd never know it by the way they've been playing ball lately.

Tuesday night the Chiefs scored their eighth win in 10 contests with a 5-2 victory over the Columbus Jets. The victory was the fifth straight for the Chiefs over Columbus, after Syracuse dropped the first six.

Standout hitter for the Chiefs was Dave McDonald, who rapped a home run and a single.

Tommy Martz got three hits for the Chiefs and Mike Hegan collected a triple and a single.

The Louisville Colonels whipped the Rochester Red Wings 13-3 to move into second place.

The Colonels took the lead for good in a three-run third inning.

Louisville put the game on ice with an eight-run fifth inning after Rochester had whittled the Colonels' lead to 3-2 in the top of the fifth.

Richmond edged Buffalo 11-10 on a ninth-inning homer by Rick Sauget.

Buffalo held a 9-4 lead going into the eighth, piling up four unearned runs in a five-run fifth inning as a result of an error by the Braves' second baseman Van Kelly.

Chuck Harrison's two-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning for Richmond. But the Bisons scored another run and held a 10-8 lead going into the ninth.

The Braves' Mike Page tied it all up 10-10 with a two-run homer and set the stage of Sauget's game-winning blast.

Bob Mitchell's three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth broke a 4-4 tie and gave the Jacksonville Mets 7-4 win over League-leading Toledo.

Rock's Craig Wells Hurls BRL 0-Hitter

Craig Wells of Rock Construction pitched a five-inning, no-run game Tuesday to lead his team to a 1-0 squeaker over Ronnie Marks and Knights of Columbus in the Babe Ruth League at Loughran Park.

Wells doled out eight walks and fanned three but preserved his no-run game by throttling a fifth-inning rally by the Knights. Rain halted the contest after five innings.

Marks, who walked seven and fanned five while yielding only three hits, was touched for the game's only run in the fifth and it took some doing.

After four scoreless innings, Pete Boyd led off the Rock fifth with a base on balls. Mike Tyrell's single moved him to second. Bob Darling was safe on a fielder's choice, loading the bases, when the Knights tried to knock off the front man at third. Bill Samuel's long fly to center then sent Boyd home with the winning run.

Two walks and a passed ball put Knights runners on second and third with two outs in the bottom of the fifth. But Wells bore down and got Bob Marks to fly to Rich Norton in left field to end the game. The umpires called the game at this point.

G. Seeger, first name not reported, collected the Rock hits off Marks with a single-double combination.

The doubleheader involving KPA, Chidsey-DeForest, Vols and American Legion was rained out at Dietz Stadium.

State PGA Tourney Slated in September

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)— The first annual New York State Professional Golfers Association Tournament has been set for Sept. 16-20 at the Saratoga Spa course in Saratoga Springs, it was announced Tuesday.

Competing for prizes amounting to about $30,000 will be 152 golf professionals from the four national PGA sections in New York State— metropolitan New York, Northeastern New York, Central New York and Western New York.

Each of the four sections will be awarded a percentage of the 152 starting berths based on the number of registered PGA members. State PGA members who have won major national tournaments would be automatically eligible, as would be the 1967-68 champions in each of the sections.

Tournament director Robert Graham said regional competitions might have to be held to fill out the rest of the field.

Preceding the 54-hole medal play tourney starting Sept. 18 will be a pro-celebrity-amateur tournament on Sept. 17.

Co-sponsors of the tournament —which will become an annual event moving to different parts of the state in succeeding years —are Mohawk Airlines and Marine Midland Banks, Inc.

Campbell Wins On Going Thru

MONTICELLO — Bob Campbell, seeming hopelessly caught in a traffic jam 25-yards from home, forced an opening and pushed his colt, aptly named Going Thru, to a 2:8.4 off-track victory in the featured two-year-old pace at Monticello Raceway last night.

Campbell had to battle the one-two post-positioned George Sholty entry of Expresso Digaren and Saucy Adios. Going Thru, the four, but leaving from post five, went offstride in the backstretch the first time around. He spent the remainder of the trip behind the 1-2 favorites.

Sholty, handling Saucy on the front end and Digaren, Ben Morgan up, worked a :31.1 first quarter, a 1:04.2 half and a 1:37.4 three quarters.

Coming home, Saucy held a half-length lead on Morgan's steed, trying for the win outside, and another half-length on Campbell's charge.

With that lead and the short distance left, Saucy Adios looked like a winner. Campbell, however, took it by forcing the hole between them (gaining ground with every stride). Campbell just got the colt's nose in front at the wire.

At 9-5, Going Thru paid $6.00, $2.20 and $2.40 The entry, Saucy finishing second and Digaren third, returned $2.10 and $2.20.

Bob Camper's Lucky Lane, winner of the third race from the eight post in 2:10, was claimed by Charles F. Tiano of Kingston and Joe Aloy of Rhinebeck.

Davis, Minasian Share Golf Lead

Mrs. Burton Davis and Mrs. Edward Minasian shared the lead with net 35's in the low net tournament for the Twaalfskill Club women Tuesday. Mrs. Davis had 50 gross and 15 handicap and Mrs. Minasian posted 46-11.

Other leaders included: Mrs. George Schneider, 49-13-36; Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly, 51-14-37; Mrs. V. J. Andretta, 50-12-38; Mrs. N. Levan Haver, 41-13-38; Mrs. John Olivet, 55-16-39; Mrs. Harry Thayer, 51-11-40.

Viola Davide's 543 Highest BYA Score

Viola Davide continued her fine summer bowling with a 543 in the BYA Summer League. Carolyn Enright posted 523 and Beatrice Allbright had 505.

Team results: Gold Star Restaurant 3, Antilla & Newman 0; Kelders 2, Walnut Grove 1; Schabot's Auto Body Shop 2, Mayone's Market 1.

Michael's Wins on Wolven's One-Hitter

Mouse Wolven, touched for four first inning runs his last time out for Michael's Barber Shop, hurled a one-hitter last night, giving Michael's a 6-0, rain-shortened five-and-a-half inning victory over Ferroxcube in the Yankee Division of the Saugerties Softball League.

Wolven, who pushed his record to 3-2, all of Michael's decisions, gave up just a third-inning single to opposing hurler, Jack Hil'je.

The last time Wolven took the mound, his early control was way off. Tuesday night it was a different story, however, as Wolven was near-perfect control-wise.

Wolven, who whiffed five and walked one, had just two baserunners on all night, the single and the walk to Frank Spinneweber.

Michael's provided Wolven with enough runs, tallying solo scores in the third, fourth and fifth frames. The final trio were registered on a three-run homer by Bill Hanna in the sixth stanza.

Played under a drizzle, a downpour that came after the top of the sixth, halted play with Ferroxcube at bat. The Met Division game was postponed.

The triumph boosted Michael's a full game into third place, dropping Ferroxcube to 3-4. It also moved the winners to within a game of second place (4-1) Glasco AC and three games back of leader South Side Mens Club, undefeated at 7-0. Statewide Upholstery is sixth at 1-5 and Paul's Shell trails with an 0-6 charting.

Long Shot

COLORADO SPRINGS (UPI) —A lot of golfers jokingly talk about hitting the ball a mile. Art Lynsky of Dayton, Ohio, can boast that he did it.

Lynsky teed his ball up on the top of 14,100-foot Pikes Peak Sunday and hit his drive. It sailed about 200 yards out—and then dropped into the timber a mile below.

ROD & GUN REPORT by "OLD" RIP

A disabled World War II veteran, who fishes from a wheel chair, took top honors in the May segment of the Genessee Fishing Contest.

The happy angler is Frank Tangorra of Herkimer, who entered a 28 lb. 12 oz. Northern Pike, one of the largest ever entered in the 23-year-old statewide contest.

The prize was taken from nearby Sacandaga reservoir at Northville, a hot spot in years gone by for many local fishermen. The fish took a live bait on May 8.

James E. Caryl of Arkville used a minnow on May 2 to take a 3 lb., 2 oz. smallmouth bass from the Delaware river, good enough for top honors.

Harold Liebman of Jamaica-Bellrose picked up top spot in the pickerel division with a 5 lb., 3 oz. trophy from Cape Pond, Ellenville.

Just to show there are some good brown trout still left in Pepacton reservoir at Downsville, Fred Franczkiewicz of Carmel picked up second spot with a 9 lb., 9 oz. beauty.

SPEAKING OF BASS, we understand the Ashokan is beginning to produce. Several bass have been picked up in the coves and around deeper water along stone walls.

Trolling also has produced some fair-sized walleye pike. Boat owners are urged to check their boats, since several already have been reported stolen. Seems like "bad apples" turn up everywhere.

The New York Conservation Department has announced, effective immediately, lamprey larvae may be taken and used as bait in the part of the Delaware river and its west branch, forming the boundary between New York and Pennsylvania (extending from Tristate Rock, at Port Jervis upstream to a point about one half mile below the mouth of Rood Brook.

A fine catch of trout found their way into the creels of Bob Johnson of Hurley and TV celebrity Lee Marvin recently from the main stream at Phoenicia. Glad to hear the fish cooperated with our own TV and movie hero.

SINCE OUR LAST column, we have been advised we now have a young doe deer in the Boulevard area that is so tame it even smells the aroma of plastic geraniums. And it took the lady of the house three trips to prove her point to her better half. We'll skip the names because they both love that Boulevard deer.

Mickey Redel of Blue Mountain, using his Green Drake, hand-tied fly to lure some nice browns from his favorite nearby stream.

At the time when it is becoming increasingly difficult to find a good place to fish, many local sportsmen are unaware that some of New York state's prime bass and trout waters await their pleasure, practically at their doorsteps.

New York city reservoir which encompasses some 25,000 acres spreads across six large bodies of water, and is located only a short distance from Kingston. They are: Ashokan, Cannonsville, Neversink, Pepacton, Rondout and Schoharie. Black bass, brown and rainbow trout, walleye pike and pickerel provide sizeable catches.

An excellent publication, "New York City Reservoirs in the Catskills," edited by C. Austin Glenn and produced by Outdoor Publications of Ithaca, describes the steps required to gain access to the reservoir, describing each body of water in detail.

Included is a fold-out map and information about location, size, how reached, principal fish and facilities available, along with comments on fishing conditions.

A complete resume in this excellent book is available from the above publishing house at a modest fee.

Historic Track Sets 130th Opener Monday

GOSHEN — Historic Track opens its 130th season of harness racing Monday, with exactly 200 trotters and pacers eligible for Monday's Acorn Stakes and Goshen Cup. In addition, a pair of New York State Sire Stakes are heavily loaded with two-year-old fillies.

On July 2, another huge entry is expected in both the $13,000 E. H. Harriman Challenge Trophy for colts and geldings; and the Debutante Stakes, the richest trial of the week at $16,000.

Nevele Pride won the E. H. Harriman as a two-year-old last July in record time, 2:04.4. Stanley Dancer might make it two in a row when he hits Historic with Nevele Major, a season champion with a 2:07.4 mile trotted at Brandywine on June 5.

Right behind him is Clearview Stable's Gun Runner, another season champion who won at Atlantic City the first of the month. Earl Avery will be in the sulky behind the Gun Runner.

One of the reigning leaders among two-year-old fillies campaigning around the country is Friendly Folly, handled by Del Cameron of Pinehurst, N. C. They will go postward in The Debutante Stake against what might be the race's largest field. One-hundred-seven fillies have been kept on the list and a divisional contest is anticipated by the time the final names are drawn out of the box.

New Filly Mark To Queen Omaha

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Queen Omaha set a national season record in an elimination race and won the featured $17,400 pace in the second night of the Grand Circuit Week at upstate New York's Saratoga Raceway.

Queen Omaha defeated Friendly Folly and Scotch Jewel in Tuesday's top event for 2-year-old fillies. The winning time was 2:04 2-5.

Queen Omaha returned $9.20.

Her time for the mile in the first elimination race was 2:04 1-5, a ational season record for 2-year-old pacing fillies on a half-mile track.

In other feature races at New York State harness tracks Tuesday noght:

—J. Cruise Greetree won the $5,000 pace at Roosevelt Raceway, defeating Scotch Duke by two lengths. Tarport Bill finished third. J. Cruise Greentree was timed in 2:03 and paid $12.80

—Uncle Horace scored a one-length victory over Rebellion inthe $2,000 trot at Vernon Downs Lora Hanover was third. The winning time over a muddy track was 2:15 1-5. Uncle Horace paid $4.20.

—Attaboy Rose won the $1,500 pace at Buffalo Raceway in heavy rain. Jennie Marie finished second, one length behind, and White Crescent third. Attaboy Rose was clocked in 2:14 1-5 and returned $6.40.

Horsemen Slate Friday Boycott For Roosevelt

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — A possibility that harness racing may be called off at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night developed Tuesday when owners refused to enter their horses for the customary nine-race card.

"As of now Friday's program is wiped out," said Carl Benevento, executive secretary of the Standardbred Owners Association. "However, any change in the situation between now and Friday morning means they could put together a card on an hour's notice."

Members of the SOA, acting as individuals, are seeking an increase in the value of purses in negotiations for a new contract to replace the one that expired last December.

"I am going to make every effort to avoid a boycott," declared George M. Levy, presi- "There has been some progress."

Rain Cancels Jaycees Golf

The Woodstock Jaycees Ulster county qualifying round for the 1968 New York State Jaycees golf tournament went down the drain this morning at Woodstock Country Club. It was re-scheduled for Wednesday, July 3.

The rain-plagued sports schedule took another bad beating Tuesday as three Babe Ruth League games, two City Softball League contests and the whole Little League slate were washed out.

Three Babe Ruth games and two City Softball sets are slated tonight. But don't bet on it.

'No Turbines at Indy Possible,' Says Granatelli

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Andy Granatelli, the controversial racing car owner whose turbines have nearly won the last two Indianapolis 500s, hinted Tuesday that he might pull out of the Memorial Day race in 1969.

"They are making it awfully hard on us," he commented after being informed of a United States Auto Club board of directors' decision to limit all USAC cars to two-wheel drive and a ruling that turbines eligible for championship races be of "automotive type" by Jan. 1, 1970.

The board turned down a rules committee recommendation to ban turbine-powered cars from championship races. It left it up to a special committee to define "automotive turbine" and "stock block engine" by the July meeting of the USAC board.

"Whether we run or not next year is something that will have to be decided," Granatelli said.

USAC's action, he said, "in effect, constitutes an efficient and ambiguous way of barring my turbine engines in the future."

Granatelli continued, "If USAC persists in this plan to revamp engine sizes and chassis design again and again, many of us will be hard pressed to continue in the sport which we have built to such importance over the years."

He said he was "not in a position to say right now" if he could go to court. He failed in a suit this year in an attempt to stop USAC from reducing the air intake opening of the turbines.

A turbine driven by Parnelli Jones nearly won the 1967 Indianapolis 500 before conking out. This year Joe Leonard drove a turbine to near victory in the Memorial Day race but wasn't able to finish.

Syracuse Chiefs Register 8th Win In Last 10 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Chiefs may be in last place in the International League—6½ games behind front-runner Toledo—but you'd never know it by the way they've been playing ball lately.

Tuesday night the Chiefs scored their eighth win in 10 contests with a 5-2 victory over the Columbus Jets. The victory was the fifth straight for the Chiefs over Columbus, after Syracuse dropped the first six.

Standout hitter for the Chiefs was Dave McDonald, who rapped a home run and a single.

Tommy Martz got three hits for the Chiefs and Mike Hegan collected a triple and a single.

The Louisville Colonels whipped the Rochester Red Wings 13-3 to move into second place.

The Colonels took the lead for good in a three-run third inning.

Louisville put the game on ice with an eight-run fifth inning after Rochester had whittled the Colonels' lead to 3-2 in the top of the fifth.

Richmond edged Buffalo 11-10 on a ninth-inning homer by Rick Sauget.

Buffalo held a 9-4 lead going into the eighth, piling up four unearned runs in a five-run fifth inning as a result of an error by the Braves' second baseman Van Kelly.

Chuck Harrison's two-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning for Richmond. But the Bisons scored another run and held a 10-8 lead going into the ninth.

The Braves' Mike Page tied it all up 10-10 with a two-run homer and set the stage of Sauget's game-winning blast.

Bob Mitchell's three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth broke a 4-4 tie and gave the Jacksonville Mets 7-4 win over League-leading Toledo.

Rock's Craig Wells Hurls BRL 0-Hitter

Craig Wells of Rock Construction pitched a five-inning, no-run game Tuesday to lead his team to a 1-0 squeaker over Ronnie Marks and Knights of Columbus in the Babe Ruth League at Loughran Park.

Wells doled out eight walks and fanned three but preserved his no-run game by throttling a fifth-inning rally by the Knights. Rain halted the contest after five innings.

Marks, who walked seven and fanned five while yielding only three hits, was touched for the game's only run in the fifth and it took some doing.

After four scoreless innings, Pete Boyd led off the Rock fifth with a base on balls. Mike Tyrell's single moved him to second. Bob Darling was safe on a fielder's choice, loading the bases, when the Knights tried to knock off the front man at third. Bill Samuel's long fly to center then sent Boyd home with the winning run.

Two walks and a passed ball put Knights runners on second and third with two outs in the bottom of the fifth. But Wells bore down and got Bob Marks to fly to Rich Norton in left field to end the game. The umpires called the game at this point.

G. Seeger, first name not reported, collected the Rock hits off Marks with a single-double combination.

The doubleheader involving KPA, Chidsey-DeForest, Vols and American Legion was rained out at Dietz Stadium.

State PGA Tourney Slated in September

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)— The first annual New York State Professional Golfers Association Tournament has been set for Sept. 16-20 at the Saratoga Spa course in Saratoga Springs, it was announced Tuesday.

Competing for prizes amounting to about $30,000 will be 152 golf professionals from the four national PGA sections in New York State— metropolitan New York, Northeastern New York, Central New York and Western New York.

Each of the four sections will be awarded a percentage of the 152 starting berths based on the number of registered PGA members. State PGA members who have won major national tournaments would be automatically eligible, as would be the 1967-68 champions in each of the sections.

Tournament director Robert Graham said regional competitions might have to be held to fill out the rest of the field.

Preceding the 54-hole medal play tourney starting Sept. 18 will be a pro-celebrity-amateur tournament on Sept. 17.

Co-sponsors of the tournament —which will become an annual event moving to different parts of the state in succeeding years —are Mohawk Airlines and Marine Midland Banks, Inc.

Campbell Wins On Going Thru

MONTICELLO — Bob Campbell, seeming hopelessly caught in a traffic jam 25-yards from home, forced an opening and pushed his colt, aptly named Going Thru, to a 2:8.4 off-track victory in the featured two-year-old pace at Monticello Raceway last night.

Campbell had to battle the one-two post-positioned George Sholty entry of Expresso Digaren and Saucy Adios. Going Thru, the four, but leaving from post five, went offstride in the backstretch the first time around. He spent the remainder of the trip behind the 1-2 favorites.

Sholty, handling Saucy on the front end and Digaren, Ben Morgan up, worked a :31.1 first quarter, a 1:04.2 half and a 1:37.4 three quarters.

Coming home, Saucy held a half-length lead on Morgan's steed, trying for the win outside, and another half-length on Campbell's charge.

With that lead and the short distance left, Saucy Adios looked like a winner. Campbell, however, took it by forcing the hole between them (gaining ground with every stride). Campbell just got the colt's nose in front at the wire.

At 9-5, Going Thru paid $6.00, $2.20 and $2.40 The entry, Saucy finishing second and Digaren third, returned $2.10 and $2.20.

Bob Camper's Lucky Lane, winner of the third race from the eight post in 2:10, was claimed by Charles F. Tiano of Kingston and Joe Aloy of Rhinebeck.

Michael's Wins on Wolven's One-Hitter

Mouse Wolven, touched for four first inning runs his last time out for Michael's Barber Shop, hurled a one-hitter last night, giving Michael's a 6-0, rain-shortened five-and-a-half inning victory over Ferroxcube in the Yankee Division of the Saugerties Softball League.

Wolven, who pushed his record to 3-2, all of Michael's decisions, gave up just a third-inning single to opposing hurler, Jack Hillje.

The last time Wolven took the mound, his early control was way off. Tuesday night it was a different story, however, as Wolven was near-perfect control-wise.

Played under a drizzle, a downpour that came after the top of the sixth, halted play with Ferroxcube at bat. The Met Division game was postponed.

The triumph boosted Michael's a full game into third place, dropping Ferroxcube to 3-4. Track Qualifier Set at Onteora For Jaycees Meet Woodstock Jaycees will sponsor a qualifying track meet for the New York State Jaycees championships Saturday at the Onteora Central School track. Bernie Stahl, track coach at Onteora, will be the meet director.

The meet is the area qualifying event for the state Jaycee championships in Kingston on July 27. Entries are expected from Rondout Valley, New Paltz, Saugerties, Coxsackie-Athens, Kingston and Onteora.

All boys between the ages of 15-18 are eligible. Post entries will be accepted.

Lions Get Robb

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League acquired defensive end Joe Robb Tuesday from the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for linebacker Ernie Clark.

Long Shot

COLORADO SPRINGS (UPI) —A lot of golfers jokingly talk about hitting the ball a mile. Art Lynsky of Dayton, Ohio, can boast that he did it.

Lynsky teed his ball up on the top of 14,100-foot Pikes Peak Sunday and hit his drive. It sailed about 200 yards out—and then dropped into the timber a mile below.

There, the Similarity Ends

DeMicco Like Fuller; They Both Own Horses

By MIKE HELFNER
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Mike DeMicco and Peter Fuller are not one and the same, swears DeMicco, "nor do I ever want to be caught in the kind of trouble he had."

Fuller, owner of one of, if not the largest Cadillac auto agencies in America, was in the center of sports news for about a month with his controversial thoroughbred, Dancer's Image.

Fuller's name, words and pictures appeared in headlines, over the air and was on the sporting world's lips during the 28-day period covering thoroughbred racing's "Triple Crown."

DeMicco, whose real name is Dominick P., but known to area people as Mike, also owns an auto agency. He is the Dodge dealer in Kingston. "And that's where the similarity ends—at autos," DeMicco declares.

"The two-and-a-half standardbreds I own, with the best being a virtual unknown three-year-old pacing colt, certainly can't bring me the publicity that Fuller got from Dancer's Image," the always neatly dressed DeMicco said, "And I don't want all that hub-bub either."

Flats vs. Pacers

The first dissimilarity is that the two are in separate areas of horse racing, Fuller with the runners, DeMicco with the trotters and pacers.

The star of DeMicco's stable is aptly named Star Dapple. A promising colt out of Little Emporer and Bayside, by Goose Bay, DeMicco has him staked fully in the rich New York Sire Stakes.

"He's game as can be. Just look at the win he posted at Roosevelt Raceway, June 13, beating other horses in a conditional race," DeMicco says.

A $5,500 yearling purchased at auction in 1966, Star Dapple is well on his way to winning himself out.

DeMicco, who turned down $25,000 for the youngster, has a special fondness for him, because he can bring his children around to visit without fear. "He's one of the nicest mannered colts you'll find anywhere," he claimed.

DeMicco owns Star Dapple outright. His other 100 per cent holding is another pacer, a female named Barbara O'Brien.

A daughter of O'Brien Hanover and Vince, Barbara O'Brien was almost taken away from DeMicco in a recent claiming race at Roosevelt. The judges, however, disallowed the claim.

Very Costly Mare

A four-year-old mare, Barbara has been a problem for the auto dealer, costing him a bundle to get her fit and racing after a $4,000 purchase price.

Physical problems have cut down her number of starts, thus less purse money. She has won a shade over $2,000 in two seasons.

Illness made her a notorious quitter. A recently performed operation at Cornell University's School of Veterinary Medicine, it is hoped, will solve the problem.

Looking for better luck with the mare, DeMicco says he'll move her to Monticello Raceway in the very near future. She'll join stablemate Lone Scot, racing there right now.

Half-owned by long-time friend, Andy Murphy, Lone Scot is a good, steady, game horse. "He's had six starts this year and brought home a pay check five times," DeMicco stated.

"He's a steady 2:09, 2:10 trotter, will race anywhere, and as long as he keeps bringing home money, he'll campaign. He's always working hard out there," the auto man said. He cost the pair $2,500.

"It's funny," DeMicco reflected, "Owning three completely different horses. I never went to a track until about seven years ago, and until then, didn't want to own a horse. I find myself treating them like three people from separate walks of life, totally disassociated with each other; yet liking each for a different reason. But, I have no plans to add a fourth, even if I could get Dancer's Image."

$1,000 Miron Scholarship to Pagano

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Michael (Mike) Pagano, 18-year-old Marlboro High school three-letter athlete, has been named winner of the first annual Miron Athletic and Scholastic Scholarship Award.

The $1,000 award largest scholarship ever offered an Ulster County high school athlete, was announced today by Sam D. Greenspan, manager of Miron Building Products of Kingston.

Pagano, who enters Lycoming College at Williamsport, Pa. in September, won 10 varsity letters with the Dukes — four in baseball and three each in basketball and baseball. He is already established as one of the leading catchers in the mid-Hudson valley area.

The 5-foot-9, 180 pound Pagano was selected from among 16 candidates for the coveted award. The selections committee included Joseph W. Robertson, vice president of Kingston Trust Co.; Edward Palladino, assistant city editor, and Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman staff.

Greenspan, who conceived the idea for the scholarship several months ago, said the Miron company was highly pleased with the selection of Pagano.

"The selections committee was confronted with a very difficult task in choosing among all these talented student-athletes," said Greenspan, "but award," Greenspan added. "He has carried a strong academic program throughout high school and had an 82 average for the first three and one half years of his high school career. We're confident he'll continue the good work at Lycoming College."

Greenspan (L) Presents Scholarship

Jack Kroh, athletic director the basketball and led with an time great Marlboro athletes," said Kroh. "He was quarterback and All-UCAL on our 1967 football team. He captained at Marlboro High, described Pagano as a fine athlete, student, gentleman and a leader in all situations.

"Mike rates among our all-Kingston, Saugerties, Wallkill, Marlboro, Rondout Valley, Highland, New Paltz, Ellenville, Onteora and John A. Coleman. The schools submitted the names of 16 for the first award.

Mike," Kroh added "but he chose to complete his education first. I think he has a great future in baseball after he finishes college."

The scholarship is open to all male athletes in the following Ulster county high schools:

To be eligible a student must have attended the high school he is graduating from for four years and must be planning to attend a four-year college. The award is based on athletic and scholastic accomplishments in high school.

Scholarship award must be used for school only. The money will be given to the student at the rate of $250 a year for four years. A check in the student's name will be sent to the college he chooses.

The recipient has six years in which to use the scholarship. If he is forced to leave college for the purpose of entering military service, he may return to college upon completion of service and use the remainder of scholarship money, provided it is done within a four-year period.

$1,000 Miron Scholarship to Pagano

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Michael (Mike) Pagano, 18-year-old Marlboro High school three-letter athlete, has been named winner of the first annual Miron Athletic and Scholastic Scholarship Award.

The $1,000 award largest scholarship ever offered an Ulster County high school athlete, was announced today by Sam D. Greenspan, manager of Miron Building Products of Kingston.

Pagano, who enters Lycoming College at Williamsport, Pa. in September, won 10 varsity letters with the Dukes — four in baseball and three each in basketball and baseball. He is already established as one of the leading catchers in the mid-Hudson valley area.

The 5-foot-9, 180 pound Pagano was selected from among 16 candidates for the coveted award. The selections committee included Joseph W. Robertson, vice president of Kingston Trust Co.; Edward Palladino, assistant city editor, and Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman staff.

Greenspan, who conceived the idea for the scholarship several months ago, said the Miron company was highly pleased with the selection of Pagano.

"The selections committee was confronted with a very difficult task in choosing among all these talented student-athletes," said Greenspan, "but award," Greenspan added. "He has carried a strong academic program throughout high school and had an 82 average for the first three and one half years of his high school career. We're confident he'll continue the good work at Lycoming College."

Jack Kroh, athletic director we think they made a commendable choice

"Mike is an outstanding combination of student and athlete 18-point average and batted .400 for our 1968 baseball team."

"Several major league baseball teams were interested in and certainly deserves the the basketball and led with an time great Marlboro athletes," said Kroh. "He was quarterback and All-UCAL on our 1967 football team. He captained at Marlboro High, described Pagano as a fine athlete, student, gentleman and a leader in all situations.

"Mike rates among our all-Kingston, Saugerties, Wallkill, Marlboro, Pondout Valley, Highland, New Paltz, Ellenville, Onteora and John A. Coleman. The schools submitted the names of 16 for the first award.

Mike," Kroh added "but he chose to complete his education first. I think he has a great future in baseball after he finishes college."

The scholarship is open to all male athletes in the following Ulster county high schools:

To be eligible a student must have attended the high school he is graduating from for four years and must be planning to attend a four-year college. The award is based on athletic and scholastic accomplishments in high school.

Scholarship award must be used for school only. The money will be given to the student at the rate of $250 a year for four years. A check in the student's name will be sent to the college he chooses.

The recipient has six years in which to use the scholarship. If he is forced to leave college for the purpose of entering military service, he may return to college upon completion of service and use the remainder of scholarship money, provided it is done within a four-year period.

SURFER, NOT FIGHTER — Duke, the surfing German Shepherd-Doberman Pinscher cross-breed, went to Vietnam as a killer dog. But he enjoyed surfing more than fighting, so the Army stripped him of his rank and kept him around Da Nang base as a pet. When Peggy Vita, 12, of Warren, Mich., read that the Army [illegible] leave Duke in Vietnam when it pulls out, she started a drive to raise $400 needed to fly Duke back to the U. S. Peggy gave $2 to 'Operation Duke', which will try to bring Duke to the Michigan Humane Society. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Fledgling CDA Is Growing State Power

By BRUCE B. DETLEFSEN

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The victories in the Democratic primary of Paul O'Dwyer and delegates pledged to Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy have vaulted the fledgling Coalition for a Democratic Alternative into contention as a political power in New York State.

The grass-roots, "new-politics" organization, formed last year to oppose renomination of President Johnson, steered the campaigns of O'Dwyer and 110 candidates who ran for seats in the party's national convention, August 26.

O'Dwyer won nomination for U.S. senator over the candidate of the Democratic State Committee in a three-way race. Pro-McCarthy delegates captured nearly half of the 123 convention seats at stake in Tuesday's primary.

In addition, Allard Lowenstein, a Coalition leader, was nominated to run for Congress on Long Island.

"It's going to be very difficult for party leaders to read the results in New York and not tremble," McCarthy said of the election.

What the Coalition accomplished was done on a shoestring and almost entirely by volunteers, many with no experience in politics.

It involved collecting thousands of signatures across the state for nominating petitions and sustaining campaigns despite setback and confusion.

O'Dwyer, a co-founder of the Coalition, often said of the effort:

"We don't have much money. But we make up for it with enthisiasm."

Another leader once remarked:

"We're just too damned democratic. Regular politicians would have made our decisions in no time."

The Coalition's first statewide meeting was held in New York City last January. It was attended by about 1,000 persons, including state legislators, members of Democratic "reform clubs" in New York City and college and university faculty members.

O'Dwyer was temporary chairman and McCarthy the featured speaker.

The group then described itself as "an umbrella organization for all voters who are dissatisfied with Lyndon Johnson's war politics and his neglect of domestic programs."

From that meeting came a pledge "to serve notice on leaders of both parties that the forces of decency who hold the balance of power in America now command the end of the destruction in Vietnam."

The delegates also called for an "open" Democratic convention.

They endorsed McCarthy for president, but no decision was reached concerning a candidate for the Senate race.

Lowenstein, a professor of constitutional law at the City College of New York, said a Senate contender should be chosen to take the issues across the state.

Some delegates argued that this would arouse too much resentment among regular party leaders.

Others proposed that the Coalition back a supporter of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in the Senate race, as a way of opening the door to possible concessions from the Kennedy forces.

In March, the Coalition's Executive Committee decided unanimously that O'Dwyer—a New York City lawyer and ally of McCarthy—would enter the contest.

A crucial period came in early May. Designating petitions were due by the 14th of that month.

Volunteers stepped up their canvassing. Four days before the deadline, O'Dwyer announced that he had "a comfortable margin above" the required 10,000 signatures, including 50 or more in all but two counties.

Delegate slates were fielded in 37 of the state's 41 congressional districts, compared with 30 for the Kennedy forces and 25 for supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

McCarthy-O'Dwyer storefront headquarters sprang up across the state.

Instructions and guidance came from a main office in New York City, headed by, among others, Harold Ickes IV, youngest son of the late secretary of the Interior in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The campaign was to have reached its high point after the June 4 primary in California, with McCarthy being counted on to buoy the volunteers in a week's swing through New York.

Kennedy was shot June 5, however, and McCarthy made only a few appearances in the state prior to the June 18 primary.

Election results few dared to predict followed.

UCCC Enrollment Of 1,125 Expected

Admissions at Ulster County Community College will be well above last year's enrollment according to a projection report given by Dr. George B. Erbstein, college president at the monthly board of trustees meeting last night.

A full time student enrollment of 1,125 is seen for this fall as compared to last year's 810 full time student population.

The community college has joined two organizations which further the educational aims and abilities of the local school. The American Council on Education is a national research organization with members from almost all accredited colleges and universities in the nation.

UCCC also joined the Associated Colleges of the Mid-Hudson Area, a cooperative group of eight area colleges. Members in addition to UCCC are Marist, Vassar, Dutchess Community, Bennett, Bard, Mt. St. Mary and State University College at New Paltz.

Ruth Muroff, coordinator of visual arts department, explained the areas of instruction and aims of the art division in an informational talk.

Super Sailor Is Suspended By Air Firm

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — Super sailor Hugo Vihlen is under suspension from Delta Air Lines and is scheduled to fly to Atlanta Thursday for a talk with his superiors, an airline official said Wednesday.

Vihlen was on a combination leave of absence and vacation when he spent 85 days in his 6-foot minisailboat, the April Fool, crossing from the coast of Africa to within sight of Florida's coast.

"He was due back June 1," Delta's public relations counselor, John Cruise, said Tuesday, and "there was reason to assume" he was suspended because he was 20 days overdue. Cruise said he did not know how long the suspension was for.

Crouse denied reports that Vihlen was suspended from his $20,000-plus pilot's job because of the publicity that surrounded his trip.

Control of Iwo Jima Reverts to Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Iwo Jima, one of the world's great battlefields, reverted from American to Japanese administration today.

In 26 furious days of fighting, 6,821 Americans and 19,000 Japanese perished on the island in February and March 1945.

The Americans gave back to Japan two groups of central Pacific islands—the Volcanos, which include Iwo, and the Bonins which include Chi Chi Jima, the only one in the two groups inhabited by civilians.

Three other small islands—Marcus, Rosario and Parcee Vella—related geographically to the major groups are also reverting to Japan.

Small American detachments on Marcus, Iwo and Chi Chi will remain for the time being.

Control of the islands was officially returned to Japan at a ceremony in Tokyo attended by Crown Prince Akihito, Pri Minister Eisaku Sato and A bassador U. Alexi Johnson, senior U.S. representative.

Sato and Akihito hailed return of the islands as an example of postwar cooperation between Japan and the United States.

Restoration ceremonies also were held on Iwo and Chi Chi.

While celebrating the return of the Volcanoes and Bonins, the Japanese press urged a continuing campaign to regain other Japanese territories lost in the war. The newspapers mentioned Okinawa, the biggest U.S. base in the western Pacific, and the Soviet-controlled islands north of Japan.

Iwo Jima was the only island of the groups which saw any fighting in the war. The rest were taken by U.S. forces after the Japanese surrender.

The U.S. Marines suffered almost one-third of their casualties in world war II on Iwo Jima. The total of 28,686 Americans killed, wounded and missing stunned the nation, and Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz commented: "Among the Americans who served on Iwo Jima uncommon valor was a common virtue."

A photograph taken by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal of "The Flag Raising on Iwo Jima" is said to be the most reproduced photo in the world.

Expensive Ride

Leeds State Police investigated a complaint made by a resident of Canada, who told authorities Tuesday night that he was robbed of $9 by a motorist who gave him a ride from a point south of Albany to Greene County.

Trooper P. H. Madigan said Carlyle Owens, 20, of Manitoba, told investigating troopers that an unidentified man picked him up on Route 9W late last night in a light brown Mercury car. Owens said that as the car approached an area near the cement plant four miles south of Catskill, he was robbed of the money.

The motorist let the hitchhiker out of the car and headed south. The incident occurred at about 11 p. m. Owens said. The case is being investigated by BCI Investigator Joseph Valicenti and uniformed troopers from the Leeds substation.

Candy Losing Violence, Record Rainfalls Common

By United Press International

Candy is dying hard.

Before she pushed through Texas and lost her "tropical storm" status, Candy gave birth to violent weather which inched its way eastward today, leaving in its wake record rainfall and rare tornadoes.

Three- to 4-inch rainfalls were common along the path of Candy's offspring from central Missouri across Illinois to northern Indiana.

Buffalo, N.Y., and Detroit reported record rainfalls as the storm center hovered over Lake Erie. Detroit's 2.17 inches and Buffalo's .82 were records for the date.

The tornadoes which touched down in Holbrook and Golden Oaks, in southwestern Pennsylvania, were the first in those communities since 1944 when 30 persons were killed. No injuries were reported in Tuesday's touchdown and only small damage was reported.

Two persons were injured Tuesday when twisters hit in eastern Ohio. A New Concord man was hurt slightly when a funnel cloud picked up the small truck he was driving and dropped it.

Thunderstorms also produced heavy rainfall today in spotty areas from Texas to New York.

Guns, Ammo Out

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The president of one of Rochester's biggest department stores said Tuesday his firm would sell no more guns or ammunition.

William E. Lee, president of the four Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co. stores in the Rochester area, said, "This is not an attempt to judge what's right and what's wrong. We just feel it it would be better if we didn't sell the things."

He added that the stores would continue to sell hunting apparel and other accessories.

Seaborg Named

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson Tuesday nominated Glenn G. Seaborg for reappointment as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and James G. Ramey to serve another term as a member.

Suspend Three Albany County Jail Employes

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —Sheriff Edward M. Fischer Tuesday suspended indefinitely three Albany County jail employes on charges of failing to report an escape immediately.

The three were John J. Reed of Cohoes, jailer with more than 25 years of service, and Leo Narbon of Cohoes and William Mosher of Albany, guards with more than 10 years service.

LeRoy Young, 23, who was serving nine months on a bad check charge, scaled an air shaft and jumped three stories from the prison roof June 15. He was captured a few days later in Hartford, Conn.

It was reported the three attendants remained silent in the belief Young would be found hiding inside the jail, which had been touted as escape-proof.

The escape for Young was the third this year. In January, he fled the Hudson River State Hospital, where he had been transferred for psychiatric tests then joined the Marines and disappeared after completing basic training. He was picked up here in April and returned to the jail, from which he subsequently escaped.

SEOUL (UPI)—Police and South Korea's new militia today arrested 10,741 persons in a five-hour roundup of suspected Communist agents.

Big Form Reversal to Date Over Mail on Gun Control

By G. C. THELEN JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being flooded with mail running heavily against proposals for even stronger gun control laws, a sharp reversal of earlier trends immediately after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

This development came as the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee started hearings today on strict registration and licensing proposals.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, carrying President Johnson's plea for federal registration of every gun in the nation and licensing of all owners, was among leadoff witnesses before the subcommittee.

The congressmen say they're receiving tens of thousands of letters, running up to 25 to 1 against stricter controls.

Congressmen from the Northeast and isolated areas elsewhere said their mail still favors stronger firearms controls, although by a lower margin than before.

Johnson's recommendations have yet to be introduced in bill form but a gun registration-licensing proposal by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was already before the subcommittee.

Tydings said he also hopes to persuade the full Senate Judiciary Committee at a meeting Thursday to add registration and licensing provisions to a bill to ban mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said that if the committee reports out a bill limited to mail order sales he expects registration and licensing amendment to be offered on the Senate floor.

Congressmen and aides say much of the mail against stronger controls is prompted by National Rifle Association opposition but that many of the writers disclaim any association with the NRA.

The letters range from views that stricter gun controls are not the answer to crime in America to fears of too much government control.

Editors Pick Fichenbert, Vow to Work With Bar

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York State Society of Newspaper Editors Tuesday endorsed a proposal to work with the New York State Bar Association in problems relating to the free press and fair trial issue.

The editors acted on a suggestion made Monday by Lyman M. Tondel Jr., president-elect of the bar association and State Supreme Court Justice Bernard F. Meyer, who urged that editors join in continuing joint discussions with the court to achieve proper coverage as well as to preserve the right of a defendant.

On Monday, a panel of editors and lawyers discussed the impact of inplementing the recommendations of the Reardon Committee Report that could subject newsmen to contempt of court and other restrictions in trial coverage.

The Reardon Committee report has been vigorously opposed by the state society.

The Reardon Committee, now dissolved, was headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court.

The society also resolved to continue its efforts to obtain legislative approval of reporter-confidence and open-records bills. Both bills died in committee in the 1967 session.

The reporter-confidence bill would allow newsmen not to reveal their sources of information and would protect them against court action. The open-record bill requires that municipal and state governments make their records generally accessible to news sources.

Robert G. Fichenberg, managing editor of the Albany Knickerbocker News, was elected president of the society, replacing Maurice D. Herbert of the Newburgh Evening News.

Other new officers include Leonard G. Feldmann of the Buffalo Courier-Express, vice president, and Harold E. Addington, of the Syracuse Herald Journal, secretary-treasurer.

Erwin Cronk of the Binghamton Press was named to the board of directors.

The state society also expressed its appreciation to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for vetoing an amendment to the penal law which prohibits publication of improperly obtained private papers. The bill was prompted by publication of letters by a student publication of the correspondence of Columbia University President Grayson Kirk during the recent disorders.

Hippies Raid TV Studio, Shout Obscenities on Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—A score of loud-mouthed hippies, shaggy, beaded and screaming obscenities, tried to take over an educational television station Tuesday night while thousands of viewers watched in their living rooms.

The intruders burst into the basement studios of station WNDT-TV, across First Avenue from the U.N., during an "underground press" interview. They knocked down a guard and punched their way past two members of the station staff, totally disrupting the program.

The hippies—four or five of whom were women—effectively took over the studio for about 20 minutes before police arrived. Six men and a woman were arrested, but the others escaped.

The entire incident, including the four-letter words screamed by the hippies, was picked up by the station's cameras and microphones and broadcast. Members of the staff were afraid the intruders might wreck the station if they were cut off the air.

Former astronaut John Glenn, who had been interviewed on the program preceding the one the hippies disrupted, was still in the station. He looked on in astonishment.

"And they say there is violence on commercial television, he said later, with a wry smile.

Lee Hayes, producer of the disrupted program, said he will charge the intruders with criminal trespass. He said members of the group twisted his arm and knocked assistant director Greg Spring to the floor.

Three "underground" editors —Marvin Fishman of Newsree,l Allan Katzman of the East Village Other and Jeff Shero of Rat—were being interviewed by Steven V. Roberts when the hippies burst into the studio just after 10:30 p. m.

"This scruffy-looking band of young men and women invaded the studio and knocked down Tony Buonomo, one of our guards, said Miss Pat Kart, associate producer of the show. "Fights broke out all over the place.

When the intruders were asked what they wanted, one replied, "we're here to break down the barriers of panel discussion shows." Another said simply, "we want in.

So far as they voiced any coherent complaint, the hippies appeared to be dissatisfied with press and television coverage of the recent leftist disorders at Columbia University.

Could Try Oats

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Truck driver Tom Jackson was parked off the highway when a man approached on horseback and asked directions to the nearest gas station.

After Jackson recovered from the shock, the man explained he was carrying a load of horses and when his truck ran out of gas he decided to ride to the nearest station.

Any Questions?

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — A local physician, who teaches a Sunday School class, asked one youngster what must be done to enter Heaven.

"Die," came the answer.

"True," said the doctor, "but what must we do before we die?"

"Well," the kid mused, "get sick and call for you, I guess."

He added that the stores would continue to sell hunting apparel and other accessories.

Seaborg Named

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Tuesday nominated Glenn G. Seaborg for reappointment as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and James G. Ramey to serve another term as a member.

Suspend Three Albany County Jail Employes

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —Sheriff Edward M. Fischer Tuesday suspended indefinitely three Albany County jail employes on charges of failing to report an escape immediately.

The three were John J. Reed of Cohoes, jailer with more than 25 years of service, and Leo Narbon of Cohoes and William Mosher of Albany, guards with more than 10 years service.

LeRoy Young, 23, who was serving nine months on a bad check charge, scaled an air shaft and jumped three stories from the prison roof June 15. He was captured a few days later in Hartford, Conn.

It was reported the three attendants remained silent in the belief Young would be found hiding inside the jail, which had been touted as escape-proof.

The escape for Young was the third this year. In January, he fled the Hudson River State Hospital, where he had been transferred for psychiatric tests then joined the Marines and disappeared after completing basic training. He was picked up here in April and returned to the jail, from which he subsequently escaped.

Roundup in Korea

SEOUL (UPI)—Police and South Korea's new militia today arrested 10,741 persons in a five-hour roundup of suspected Communist agents.

Big Form Reversal to Date Over Mail on Gun Control

By G. C. THELEN JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being flooded with mail running heavily against proposals for even stronger gun control laws, a sharp reversal of earlier trends immediately after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

This development came as the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee started hearings today on strict registration and licensing proposals.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, carrying President Johnson's plea for federal registration of every gun in the nation and licensing of all owners, was among leadoff witnesses before the subcommittee.

An Associated Press survey of 90 congressmen whose mail ran heavily in favor of stricter gun controls just after Kennedy's assassination shows a strong tide now opposed to stronger controls.

The congressmen say they're receiving tens of thousands of letters, running up to 25 to 1 against stricter controls.

Congressmen from the Northeast and isolated areas elsewhere said their mail still favors stronger firearms controls, although by a lower margin than before.

Johnson's recommendations have yet to be introduced in bill form but a gun registration-licensing proposal by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was already before the subcommittee.

Tydings said he also hopes to persuade the full Senate Judiciary Committee at a meeting Thursday to add registration and licensing provisions to a bill to ban mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said that if the committee reports out a bill limited to mail order sales he expects registration and licensing amendment to be offered on the Senate floor.

Congressmen and aides say much of the mail against stronger controls is prompted by National Rifle Association opposition but that many of the writers disclaim any association with the NRA.

The letters range from views that stricter gun controls are not the answer to crime in America to fears of too much government control.

Editors Pick Fichenbert, Vow to Work With Bar

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York State Society of Newspaper Editors Tuesday endorsed a proposal to work with the New York State Bar Association in problems relating to the free press and fair trial issue.

The editors acted on a suggestion made Monday by Lyman M. Tondel Jr., president-elect of the bar association and State Supreme Court Justice Bernard F. Meyer, who urged that editors join in continuing joint discussions with the court to achieve proper coverage as well as to preserve the right of a defendant.

On Monday, a panel of editors and lawyers discussed the impact of inplementing the recommendations of the Reardon Committee Report that could subject newsmen to contempt of court and other restrictions in trial coverage.

The Reardon Committee report has been vigorously opposed by the state society.

The Reardon Committee, now dissolved, was headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court.

The society also resolved to continue its efforts to obtain legislative approval of reporter-confidence and open-records bills. Both bills died in committee in the 1967 session.

The reporter-confidence bill would allow newsmen not to reveal their sources of information and would protect them against court action. The open-record bill requires that municipal and state governments make their records generally accessible to news sources.

Robert G. Fichenberg, managing editor of the Albany Knickerbocker News, was elected president of the society, replacing Maurice D. Herbert of the Newburgh Evening News.

Other new officers include Leonard G. Feldmann of the Buffalo Courier-Express, vice president, and Harold E. Addington, of the Syracuse Herald Journal, secretary-treasurer.

Erwin Cronk of the Binghamton Press was named to the board of directors.

The state society also expressed its appreciation to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for vetoing an amendment to the penal law which prohibits publication of improperly obtained private papers. The bill was prompted by publication of letters by a student publication of the correspondence of Columbia University President Grayson Kirk during the recent disorders.

Hippies Raid TV Studio, Shout Obscenities on Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—A score of loud-mouthed hippies, shaggy, beaded and screaming obscenities, tried to take over an educational television station Tuesday night while thousands of viewers watched in their living rooms.

The intruders burst into the basement studios of station WNDT-TV, across First Avenue from the U.N., during an "underground press" interview. They knocked down a guard and punched their way past two members of the station staff, totally disrupting the program.

The hippies—four or five of whom were women—effectively took over the studio for about 20 minutes before police arrived. Six men and a woman were arrested, but the others escaped.

The entire incident, including the four-letter words screamed by the hippies, was picked up by the station's cameras and microphones and broadcast. Members of the staff were afraid the intruders might wreck the station if they were cut off the air.

Former astronaut John Glenn, who had been interviewed on the program preceding the one the hippies disrupted, was still in the station. He looked on in astonishment.

"And they say there is violence on commercial television, he said later, with a wry smile.

Lee Hayes, producer of the disrupted program, said he will charge the intruders with criminal trespass. He said members of the group twisted his arm and knocked assistant director Greg Spring to the floor.

Three "underground" editors —Marvin Fishman of Newsreel, Allan Katzman of the East Village Other and Jeff Shero of Rat—were being interviewed by Steven V. Roberts when the hippies burst into the studio just after 10:30 p. m.

"This scruffy-looking band of young men and women invaded the studio and knocked down Tony Buonomo, one of our guards, said Miss Pat Kart, associate producer of the show. "Fights broke out all over the place.

When the intruders were asked what they wanted, one replied, "we're here to break down the barriers of panel discussion shows." Another said simply, "we want in.

So far as they voiced any coherent complaint, the hippies appeared to be dissatisfied with press and television coverage of the recent leftist disorders at Columbia University.

Could Try Oats

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Truck driver Tom Jackson was parked off the highway when a man approached on horseback and asked directions to the nearest gas station.

After Jackson recovered from the shock, the man explained he was carrying a load of horses and when his truck ran out of gas he decided to ride to the nearest station.

Any Questions?

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — A local physician, who teaches a Sunday School class, asked one youngster what must be done to enter Heaven.

"Die," came the answer.

"True," said the doctor, "but what must we do before we die?"

"Well," the kid mused, "get sick and call for you, I guess."

EMPLOYMENT

ATTENTION JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted ads from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.15 an hour minimum with overtime pay required after 42 hours a week. For specific information, contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, 881 Gerard Ave. Bronx, N. Y., 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Dear Abby

Nose in the Wrong Place

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am in the service and have a little problem. The night before I left The States I surprised my girl with a diamond engagement ring.

She acted like she was thrilled to pieces, and of course I was happy, too. Her mother took me aside and asked me if I could get a refund on the ring — well, I couldn't.

Now I get a letter from my girl telling me that she and her mother "traded" in the engagement ring on another one which is bigger and much "nicer." She said her mother paid the difference and I can pay her back when I get home, but for me not to worry about it.

I am not exactly "worried" about it, but I don't think it was a very nice thing for them to do. If you were in my place, what would you do?

G.I.

DEAR G.I.: Nothing for the moment. But when you get stateside, size up the situation and make sure your girl and her mother don't have a WEDDING ring waiting for you that's big enough for you to jump thru.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't a lawyer, so I don't expect you to tell me what the law would rule in a case like this. All I want is a common sense opinion.

We have a friend (a widow) who started taking dancing lessons last September at a well-known studio. Since September she spent $18,000 on dancing lessons! (Yes, I said EIGHTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.)

This woman is not poor, Abby. She has had a lot of fun and met a lot of people, and she probably got more pleasure in the last six months from those dancing lessons than she got from that deadhead she was married to for 30 years. Yet, she is crying that she was had and she took them to court.

I say, nobody twisted her arm to take those lessons, and if she wants to spend her money that way she shouldn't go crying to anybody. My husband says she is out of her mind, and people who are batty have to be protected by law. What is your opinion?

ARGUING WITH HARRY

DEAR ARGUING: I'm with Harry.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my scout troop recently made a visit to a nursing home to cheer up the old folks there. We made some colorful flowers beforehand and sang some hymns to entertain them.

Abby, those elderly people are so hungry for company, you wouldn't believe it. The first lady I handed a flower to, gave it back to me, saying she didn't have any money to buy it. Then I told her it was free and her face lit up and she took such a long time trying to decide which color to take, I got the feeling that she was trying to detain me just to have somebody to talk to for a little while.

I can't tell you how much our visit was appreciated. When we drove off, we could see them looking from their windows and holding onto their paper flowers.

Please say something in your column asking people to go to visit their local nursing homes, whether they have somebody there or not. They are all somebody's grandmothers and grandfathers and they are human, too.

Grand Slam Not in Hand

By Oswald and James Jacoby

It pays to gamble with game and small slam bids. Winning players want to be in game whenever they have a 40 per cent chance for success and in a small slam when their chance is 50 per cent. Grand slam contracts are another story. Failure costs both game and small slam. Success only brings the difference between the two slam bonuses. Furthermore, when you do go down at a grand slam there is a great loss of partnership confidence. Of course, if you go down because you find all four enemy trumps in the same hand you pay off but know that your loss was due to misfortune rather than bad bidding.

We like to bid grand slams as well as anyone but we seldom feel that we have missed very much when we fail to get to one. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush and when we bid six and make seven we have actually collected two birds in our hand (game and small slam), and left only one in the bush.

All this peroration leads up to the fact that we think today's South was properly punished for bad bidding when it turned out that his partner had no play for seven hearts. South pointed out that it was most unfortunate that North held two diamonds and had to lose a diamond trick. He was right about that but the bidding started in the wrong direction when South used Blackwood.

It was perfectly possible for North to have a sound opening bid with two club losers in which case even a small slam would be set.

South had a perfect bid at his second turn. He should have jumped to five hearts. This would ask North to bid six with second round diamond control. It would also allow North to bid six clubs to invite a grand slam if North wished to do so.

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY JUNE 27, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): In late afternoon there is opportunity to pursue more creative line of endeavor. Earlier, there are details connected with building, construction. Be thorough. Later, there is pleasure.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Tonight changes indicated center around domestic affairs. Home, family activities could bring satisfaction. Communicate thoughts, ideas and feelings.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money question is settled early; later, a visit provides stimulating evening. Review past values. Others are willing to make concession. Meet them halfway.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle moves up; you have greater chance to take initiative. Early today a meeting grants you needed authority, provides a green light. Be a gracious winner.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You are able to gain attention of important people. Personality sparkles. Many comment on your appearance. Utilize innate sense of showmanship. Speak up — you're a winner.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fine for finishing project with aid of interested group. Conserve energy — pace yourself. Don't complete one aspect of work only to jump into another. Wait, observe.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You gain increase in popularity. Excellent for social activity. Friends, hopes, wishes are spotlighted. Personal magnetism rating is high. Opposite sex is attracted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Follow through on inner feeling. Intuitive intellect reveals truth. Prestige rises. One in authority expresses confidence. You receive meaningful compliment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Be aware of costs. Don't overextend your credit. Social whirl could prove tiring. Get sufficient rest. Long-range planning is in order, especially where travel is concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Combine efforts with those of mate, partner. Co-ordinate actions. Be informed, aware. If observant, you could discover legal loophole which would be to your advantage.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Maintain sense of balance — includes diet, entertainment. Avoid extremes. One who admires you may act in unusual manner. No need for alarm. This is but temporary.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 10): Creative desires can be fulfilled. Your sense of beauty is heightened. You appreciate loved ones. People are attracted to you. There is greater freedom to think, act.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have knack of helping people out of difficulty. Would make fine counselor, physician. Current cycle indicates upsurge of social activity, travel.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO. Special word to AQUARIUS: make basic changes based on known facts.

Tiny Tim Returning in Fall

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Good news, good news today from the wonderful world of television. Tiny Tim will be back next season on NBC-TV's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in." And unless you sit here each day receiving network press releases, you can't realize what good news that really is.

I mean, suppose you sit here and the mail brings a statement from Lorne Greene, the big daddy of "Bonanza," saying: "Love is like a warm blanket which covers and protects a child from hurt and even hunger."

All right, it sounds like Lorne Greene—right? You you start looking around desperately for a chaser. And there is good old Tiny Tim to the rescue, because he is also quoted in a press release. He says:

"What do I feel I'm trying to do today in my music? Well, I'm trying to bring back the happiness that was part of the beautiful tunes that were sung in the days of the past—the lovely days of vaudeville! Those songs even chill me today when I hear them."

Back In Perspective

Well, that, of course, puts the world in perspective for a while. But then you look at a press release which explains that Ed Ames never learned to ice skate and quotes him as saying: "I came from a large family. And it pretty well boiled down to skating or eating. We ate well." What does Ames mean by that? I mean, what in the world is he trying to tell us? With Tiny Tim, there is never any such problem:

"What singers we had!" he says. "Irving Kausman, one of the first vaudeville singers; Arthur Fields, the first crooner, way before the electric phonograph; and of course Rudy Vallee, Gene Austin, Mr. Jolson, Mr. Crosby and Mr. Russ Columbo . . . God bless them all! Now, as I hear these songs, I believe that they can thrill the people of today just as they thrilled the people of yesterday."

You said it, Mr. Tiny. And somehow this all seems more important than a press release quoting the boss of "Peyton Place." Paul Monash, as saying: "Way back when we completed the 100th segment, it seemed an incredible achievement. Fortunately, we are telling a story which appears to have no end."

Tiny Tim Comment

Fortunate, perhaps—but not as fortunate as being on the receiving end of observations by Mr. Tim:

"I don't think I'm turning back the block by doing these old tunes," he says. "I love rock 'n' roll and popular music. It's just that the spirits of the singers whose songs I do are living within me. That's why the songs come out in the voices of the original singers. I'm not doing imitations. That's the way they sound inside of me."

And why does he sing? "Perhaps above all, because of all the lovely women who with their beauty cause my heart to overflow with joy."

Why are beer, wine, and cognac better than other alcoholic beverages at calming down a tense man after a hectic day? Pharmacologists at the University of Missouri think they have found the answer in a compound called ellagic acid. It is presents in beers, wines, and cognacs, and also in the hulls of blackwalnuts, cashew nuts, and many plants.

The Missouri investigators point out that Ozark fishermen have for years caught their limit by dropping bags of walnut hulls into streams. The hulls tranquilize the fish, which then float up to the surface and are easily caught.

State Demos Working On Delegate Package

By AL WOLPER

NEW YORK (AP) — The Democratic State Committee is expected to split equally its 65 at-large delegates to the national convention among the two top presidential contenders and a third group pledged to the ideals of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it was learned today.

The delegate package is being forged at meetings between state committeemen and John J. Burns, state chairman, according to sources close to the negotiations. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy reportedly will get from 20 to 25 of the 65 at-large votes, roughly the same amount that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been promised.

Would Avoid Floor Fight

Burns has said repeatedly that he would do all he could to avoid a floor fight at the Friday state committee reorganization meeting at which the delegate slate are to be chosen.

Pro-McCarthy forces, pooled by the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative, the Minnesota senator's statewide organization, won 62 of the 123 convention slots in last Tuesday's primary. Kennedy-principle candidates picked up 30 delegates and the vice president got 19.

Sen. McCarthy met with Burns for a 30-minute informal chat when the Minnesota presidential hopeful flew here last week to celebrate his primary victory and address a publisher's convention.

Sources close to Burns claim that no specifics were discussed during the meeting, but it was learned that the senator reaffirmed his contention that his primary showing had earned him from 50 to 60 per cent of at-large bloc.

McCarthy sources have been quietly optimistic that Burns would push for a compromise set-up that would reflect the McCarthy's success at the polls.

But the state chairman must find a place on the delegate list for five top state committee officials, elder statemens and various county leaders, many of whom are not going to be influenced by the primary results.

A top Burns adviser said that the state chairman had to hammer out his compromise package under a dual assumption that the delegate primary vote and the decision of the state committee vote are two different elections.

This, basically, has been the contention of the Humphrey camp, which includes Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the party and City Council President Frank D. O'Connor, a co-chairman of United Democrats for Humphrey.

McCarthy backers have been waging a quiet, but effective campaign both in New York City and throughout the state to convince the state committeemen and the county leaders that the senator's victory margin must be represented at the convention.

County leaders, however, are anxious to go on record in support of a compromise package worked out in advance of Friday's meeting. Therefore, while many have said they would go for a large McCarthy representation, they also have indicated that they do not want to split publicly with Burns over the delegate package.

The executive committee of the CDA held a four-hour meeting Monday night at the Crossway Motor Inn at LaGuardia Airport at which some strategy specifics for the convention were discussed.

The CDA intends to keep open nearly all of its 225 headquarters throughout the summer to apply a steady stream of pressure on various state and local leaders.

They hope to convince the large uncommitted slate led by the Kennedy camp to go to McCarthy and sway some of the Humphrey-pledged delegates to come over to the Minnesota senator.

Rocky Has 87 More, And a List

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller had 87 freshly pledged presidential convention votes in his hip pocket today together with a long list of Republicans who would like to fill Robert F. Kennedy's Senate seat.

The votes were officially committed to him Tuesday at a meeting of New York's 92-member delegation to the GOP National Convention. Five delegates are backing Richard M. Nixon.

The list of Senate hopefuls was compiled during private talks between Rockefeller and various party leaders who accepted his invitation to submit names for appointment to fill the vacancy.

In No Hurry

After huddling with the leaders, Rockefeller indicated to newsmen that he was in no hurry to make the appointment.

I really have no definite date in mind," he said.

He did, however, settle the question of whether he might choose a Democrat to succeed the late Democratic senator.

"As leader of the party," he said, "I would appoint a Republican."

Rockefeller issued his invitation while addressing a luncheon of the Republican State Committee and the convention delegation in an Albany hotel.

"Meet me in room 375," he instructed, and about two dozen county chairmen and other leaders trooped through the corridors to speak their pieces.

Rockefeller later reported these names had been submitted:

The List

GOP State Chairman Charles A. Schoeneck, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo, U.S. Reps. Charles E. Goodell and Paul A. Fino, State Sens. Edward J. Speno and John J. Marchi, former U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, now a State Court of Appeals judge, former Assemblyman Richard J. Bartlett, now chairman of the State Crime Control Council, and William H. Booth, chairman of New York City's Human Rights Commission.

Booth is the only Negro in the group.

Rockefeller said no one submitted the name of New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, reported to be Rockefeller's first choice for the appointment. The governor again denied having formed any preference yet.

He did concede that he had been considering various "generally reported names"—such as ex-baseball star Jackie Robinson, a special assistant to the governor, John W. Gardner, Education and Welfare, and Douglass Dillon, former secretary of the Treasury.

Some of the party leaders who talked with Rockefeller said they came away with the impression that he would not make the appointment until after the GOP National Convention, opening Aug. 4 in Miami, to avoid any unfavorable repercussions it might have on his candidacy.

Rules Out Self

In response to a reporter's question, Rockefeller rejected a suggestion that he might take the Senate seat himself.

"I have never been a legislator by temperament," he said, "and frankly my intentions and aptitudes are in the executive branch of government."

Rockefeller said the upstate and Long Island party leaders who talked with him generally maintained that the appointment should go to the area of the state outside New York City, since the other Senate seat is held by a city resident, Republican Jacob K. Javits.

Javits, running for re-election, appeared with Rockefeller at a street rally outside the hotel and spoke in support of Rockefeller's presidential candidacy at the luncheon.

Later, at its bi-annual reorganization meeting, the committee re-elected Schoeneck and all of its other officers and appointed 10 delegates at-large to round out the presidential delegation. The at-large slate is comprised of party leaders backing Rockefeller.

The other 82 delegates were elected in the June 18 primary. Four of them ran as supporters of Nixon and a fifth offered himself initially as a Rockefeller man but later said he might switch to Nixon—and so indicated at Tuesday's meeting.

Schoeneck reported that the fifth delegate, Alfred H. Van Inwegan of Queens, voted with two of the original Nixon men against the resolution pledging to support Rockefeller "until he is nominated or releases the delegation." The other two apparently abstained, he said.

The resolution was presented as non-binding on those who did not vote for it.

Orange County Man Fighting To Save Tree That Saved Him

SAVILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Ramon Blanco, 75, is fighting to save a tree he says once saved his life.

Halts State Crew

Blanco refused Monday to let a State Traffic Department crew cut down an old maple tree that stands between Route 32 and his 200-year-old home in Orange County.

Blanco told the crew, "That tree saved my life once when a car hit it while I was in my yard. Without it there would be nothing but my wire fence to ward off any high speed traffic that might not be able to make the curve."

With that comment, Blanco and his wife, Clara, sat down on a small bench beneath the tree. "I'm not going to budge even if the tree falls down on top of us," said the silver-haired man firmly.

The highway crew, after checking with a supervisor in Poughkeepsie, left the Blanco property and went to work farther down the highway, where they cut down another tree.

In Poughkeepsie, Douglas Vogel, the assistant maintenance engineer for the State Traffic Department, said there were no plans for widening the two-lane road. He said current plans call for resurfacing the road and a two-foot shoulder.

In Home 40 Years

But Blanco says he has seen the road grow a little wider with each resurfacing to the point where it is now less than 14 feet from the corner of his home. He said he intends to hire a lawyer to protect his property.

The elderly man has lived in the two-story colonial house for nearly 40 years. Removal of the tree and further widening of the roadway at this point, he said, would make it impossible for him to continue to make his home there.

Armor Plate for Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan will sit behind a shield of bulletproof armor plate and glass if he is tried as expected in Los Angeles on a charge of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

He will be led to the courtroom from a cell through a sealed passageway whose windows will be covered by heavy steel plates.

Unlimited Expenditures

The County Board of Supervisors decided Tuesday to authorize unlimited expenditures to assure the safety of the 24-year-old Jordanian, accused of shooting Kennedy June 5.

The cost of the protective equipment was estimated at $20,000—$1,500 for work on the passageway and the rest for "armor plate, armor glass, steel plate and wire netting in the courtroom."

Several threats have been made on the life of Sirhan as well as his lawyer and others connected with the case.

The accused was expected to enter his plea Friday on the ninth floor of the Hall of Justice, a floor above the courtroom where he probably will be tried.

But the plan was canceled because the security measures were not ready.

Would Protect Others

A precise description of the security devices was not made public, at the request of Superior Court Judge Donald R. Wright. But Supervisor Kenneth Hahn said that the shield could be large enough to protect not only Sirhan but also the trial judge, attorneys and jury.

Instead of in the Hall of Justice, Sirhan may enter his plea Friday in the chapel of the new county jail, where he has been kept in a maximum security cell since the shooting.

Observers note, however, that his attorney, Russell E. Parsons, who took over the case from the public defender last week, may request more time to study the lengthy grand jury transcript, or there may be other reasons for delay.

Hahn said the county mechanical department will begin work on the bulletproof shield Friday.

State Demos Working On Delegate Package

By AL WOLPER

NEW YORK (AP) — The Democratic State Committee is expected to split equally its 65 at-large delegates to the national convention among the two top presidential contenders and a third group pledged to the ideals of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it was learned today.

The delegate package is being forged at meetings between state committeemen and John J. Burns, state chairman, according to sources close to the negotiations. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy reportedly will get from 20 to 25 of the 65 at-large votes, roughly the same amount that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been promised.

Would Avoid Floor Fight

Burns has said repeatedly that he would do all he could to avoid a floor fight at the Friday state committee reorganization meeting at which the delegate slate are to be chosen.

Pro-McCarthy forces, represented by the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative, the Minnesota senator's statewide organization, won 62 of the 123 convention slots in last Tuesday's primary. Kennedy principle candidates picked up 30 delegates and the vice president got 19.

Sen. McCarthy met with Burns for a 30-minute informal chat when the Minnesota presidential hopeful flew here last week to celebrate his primary victory and address a publisher's convention.

Sources close to Burns claim that no specifics were discussed during the meeting, but it was learned that the senator reaffirmed his contention that his primary showing had earned him from 50 to 60 per cent of at-large bloc.

McCarthy sources have been quietly optimistic that Burns would push for a compromise set-up that would reflect the McCarthy's success at the polls.

But the state chairman must find a place on the delegate list for five top state committee officials, elder statemens and various county leaders, many of whom are not going to be influenced by the primary results.

A top Burns adviser said that the state chairman had to hammer out his compromise package under a dual assumption that the delegate primary vote and the decision of the state committee vote are two different elections.

This, basically, has been the contention of the Humphrey camp, which includes Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the party and City Council President Frank D. O'Connor, a co-chairman of United Democrats for Humphrey.

McCarthy backers have been waging a quiet, but effective campaign both in New York City and throughout the state to convince the state committeemen and the county leaders that the senator's victory margin must be represented at the convention.

County leaders, however, are anxious to go on record in support of a compromise package worked out in advance of Friday's meeting. Therefore, while many have said they would go for a large McCarthy representation, they also have indicated that they do not want to split publicly with Burns over the delegate package.

The executive committee of the CDA held a four-hour meeting Monday night at the Crossway Motor Inn at LaGuardia Airport at which some strategy specifics for the convention were discussed.

The CDA intends to keep open nearly all of its 225 headquarters throughout the summer to apply a steady stream of pressure on various state and local leaders.

They hope to convince the large uncommitted slate led by the Kennedy camp to go to McCarthy and sway some of the Humphrey-pledged delegates to come over to the Minnesota senator.
